COOLIDGE IN RAIN

Torrential Storm Hits Train

Lightning Incessant During Downpour but Fails to Do Any Damage

Executive Gives Little Heed to Wetting on Way to Mountains

ON BOARD PRESIDENT COOLIDGE'S SPECIAL TRAIN, PHILADELPHIA, July 6. (AP)—A terrific storm was passed through by President Coolidge tonight in crossing Delaware on his special train bound for the Adirondacks. Although the train was forced for a time to slow down and Mr. Coolidge got wet about the shoulders and head, no serious damage was done.

With Mrs. Coolidge, the President entered the dining car for dinner when the storm was at its worst, water striking him as he passed between the cars. Although the lightning was incessant and the downpour in the inky darkness resembled a cloudburst, both chatted in apparent unconcern and gave little heed to the elements.

The democracy of the dining car was shown when, with Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge at dinner, several of the White House servants who are going to White Camp with them had their dinner in the car at the same time as the President. This included some of the negro attendants and other servants.

Leaving the heat and humidity of Washington late this afternoon, President Coolidge sped north for a vacation which is expected to keep him away from the national capital until late August or early September.

So far as possible, cares of state have been left behind with the intention of obtaining a thorough rest after a hard winter and spring, and in preparation for another difficult year with a Congressional election in the offing. Relaxation is desired and the seclusion of White Pine Camp on Lake Osgood, in the woods which stretch to the Canadian border, has been sought as the best way of accomplishing that end.

The vacation atmosphere quickly was apparent once the President and Mrs. Coolidge left the White House to board the train at 5 o'clock. Mr. Coolidge was wearing a dark gray sack suit, and Panama hat, while Mrs. Coolidge, attired in a yellow and brown georgette dress with a rust-colored hat, carried a bird cage with four yellow canaries.

The two White House collies, Rob Roy and Prudence Prim, were at the station well before the train left and were put in the observation car with the Presidential party upon their arrival.

CLARK WILL CONTESTORS WIN POINT

Claimants to Share in Rich Estate Get into Evidence Asserted Deed

BUTTE (Mont.) July 6. (AP)—Over the objection of the defense, three claimants to a share in the estate of the late Senator W. A. Clark of Montana, succeeded during the hearing of their suit to break the will today in introducing into the evidence a deed given by one William A. Clark and his wife, Tabitha Clark to a Joseph A. Clark. The deed was for $1780, and was dated at Helena, Mont., July 3, 1861. Immediately following the plaintiffs closed their case.

In its opening statement, the defense said it will attempt to show that Senatro Clark could not have been in Missouri at the time declared by the three plaintiffs, who say they are the daughters of the late copper magnate; and that the Senator was a national figure who never tried to conceal his identity.

The court took under advisement objections by the defense to the introduction of papers which were to be used in the identification of the Senator's signature.

Coolidge Again Ponders Signing Tax-Relief Bill

WASHINGTON, July 6. (AP)—President Coolidge took under consideration today a request that he sign the tax-relief bill for several counties in Oregon and Washington, which failed to get the Executive's approval Saturday. The request was made by Senators McNary and Stanfield and members of the Oregon delegation in the House.

Senator McNary said the conference with the President left a "stout hope" that the bill still would be approved by the President although he did not commit himself.

The bill would authorize the government to pay eighteen counties in Oregon and one in Washington taxes which the counties have been prevented from collecting since 1916 upon land which Congress took away from the Southern Pacific Railway and which had been included in the land grant. These lands are now being held by the government for sale and the counties cannot collect taxes as long as they so remain. The bill would reimburse the government for taxes advanced to the counties out of money it will derive from the sale of the lands.

NEEDS GUN ON STRANGE DATE, DECLARES GIRL

PORTLAND (Or.) July 6. (Exclusive)—"Why, I always carry a gun when I go out in an automobile with a strange man." Miss Mary Weiss told a municipal judge here when she was brought in on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. A defective pistol was found in her possession when police stopped the car in which she was riding with two other girls and three men. The judge fined her $25.

YOUTH KILLED TRYING TO STEAL AUTO TIRE

PHILADELPHIA, July 6. (AP)—An attempt to steal a tire from a parked automobile in a West Philadelphia street early today, cost the life of one young man and the injury of another when a policeman fired upon them. The dead man was Frank Gulick of Aston township, Delaware county, Pa., the son of the Philadelphia physician. The wounded man is George Messenger, Jr., Philadelphia.

GIANT PLANE SEEKS RECORD

[Copyright, 1926, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

NEW YORK, July 6. (Exclusive)—Capt. Homer Berry, chosen recently by Capt. Rene Fonck, French ace, as assistant pilot on the proposed New York-Paris flight this summer, will try his hand at a record transcontinental flight by way of getting in practice for the trans-Atlantic hop. He announced he will fly the twin-motored Sikorsky air Pullman Yorktown to Seattle Wash., to meet Edward S. Evans and Linton Wells, the globe circlers.

Wells and Evans are now crossing the Pacific on the Empress of Asia and are due in Seattle Sunday or Monday. Berry will attempt to fly them thence to New York in less than two days.

An extra ninety-gallon gas tank has been installed in the Yorktown, giving her a nonstop cruising radius of 800 miles. She has just been outfitted with two new Liberty motors. Berry will be accompanied by Lieut. Jacob Isaieff, as navigator, and Mechanics James Maxwell and Andrew Bailey. He plans to make the flight west in easy stages, arriving in Seattle Friday.

Returning, stops will be made for fuel at Tacoma, Wash., Boise, Idaho, Salt Lake City, Cheyenne, Omaha, Chicago and Cleveland. The Yorktown will be clocked for completion of the round-the-world trip as she passes over the World Building. The flight here from Seattle is 2655 miles.

GOOD TIME BEING MADE ACROSS PACIFIC

By Linton Wells

[Copyright, 1926, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

ABOARD S. S. EMPRESS OF ASIA, July 6. (By Radio) (Exclusive)—Perfect weather greeted Edward S. Evans and myself today, the twenty-first of our round-the-world trip. The Empress of Asia is slipping through the water at a speed of twenty-four miles an hour, and expects easily to make up the five hours lost by our delayed arrival Saturday night.

Evans and I are enjoying our much-needed rest, and expect to reach New York in fine condition. The weather is good and our jubilation seems to have spread to every person on the ship. They seem to be as eager for us to complete our journey successfully as we ourselves are. At present our beating John Mears's record by seven days seems certain.

We no longer expect to reach Seattle before the 12th inst., however. Even if we should arrive eight hours earlier, the effort would have been wasted, because we would not attempt to fly over the Cascade Mountains in the dark.

We should reach the Victoria quarantine at dawn six days from today. There we will take a plane to Seattle, where the giant Sikorsky Pullman, Yorktown, will be waiting for us. Then begins our hop from Seattle to New York.

Long Distance Flight Halted by Arab's Shot

BASRA (Irak) July 6. (AP)—An Arab's bullet has halted Alan Cobham's flight from London to Australia. His mechanician, Elliott, is in the hospital here in a serious condition and Cobham is uncertain whether to await his recovery or to proceed with one of the British Air Force mechanicians here.

Cobham's plane was about 100 miles from this city when a bullet penetrated the fuselage, ricocheted off a copper feed pipe and penetrated Elliott's chest and arm, shattering a rib and puncturing his lung.

Cobham brought the plane down on the River Shatt El Arab, near the city, and carried his wounded companion ashore.

RAINS FLOOD OHIO CITIES

Heavy Damage Done at Dayton, Where Cloudburst Wrecks Phone Lines and Pavements

COLUMBUS (O.) July 6. (AP)—High winds and torrential rains, accompanied by spectacular lightning displays descended upon Ohio today in a furious onslaught.

Most damage was done at Dayton, where the rainfall assumed cloudburst proportions. In thirty-five minutes 1.91 inches of rain fell, flooding the streets, causing wooden paving to buckle up, and putting out of commission virtually all the long-distance telephone lines entering the city. Damage may reach $100,000.

Darkness of night accompanied the raging wind and swirling rain. In most sections it was necessary for automobilists to turn on the headlights of their cars and office workers to perform their tasks by electric light.

Columbus streets presented a nighttime appearance. Two persons were injured by lightning here, and a church steeple was struck.

Street-car traffic was held up for from ten minutes to a half hour.

Fire started by lightning and fed by the explosion of 10,000 gallons of alcohol, completely destroyed the denaturing plant of the Federal Products Company of Carthage, near Cincinnati. The damage amounted to $75,000.

Other parts of the State reported unestimated damage to crops by the unusually heavy precipitation and high winds that accompanied it.

ARGENTINA AND CHILE SNOWED UNDER

SANTIAGO (Chile) July 6. (Exclusive)—Chile and Argentina transportation is tied up by the greatest snowstorm in twenty years. Hundreds of commercial travelers and others are detained at Los Andes and Mendoza, while rotary plows on both sides are grinding through the Cordilleras. It is estimated that sixty-three tunnels have been blocked, while frozen-over cogged tracks and labor shortage are hindering the work of clearing the way.

This morning the worst snowslide in years, 200 meters long and ten deep, massed with rocks, smothered the tracks near Mendoza. It was expected that the clearing would be completed to Juneal tonight, making 150 kilometers from Los Andes, but a break in the weather and sunshine furnish the only possibility of opening the road within six days, making a total of sixteen days in the blockade.

Many are intending to journey to Buenos Aires via the Magellan or La Paz. Meantime the rainstorm at Valparaiso and Santiago is clearing, but still threatening, while authorities are listing the great damage on the coast which was done last week.

DISASTROUS FLOODS REPORTED IN AUSTRIA

VIENNA, July 6. (AP)—Advices from Lens says enormous damage, and loss of life, have been caused in a large section of Upper Austria by floods resulting from cloudbursts. No figures are given on losses of life.

ANDREWS TO KEEP JOB

Changes Mind on Resignation

Dry Chief Assures Mellon He Will Remain on Eve of Trip to London

Plans for Completing Work With Nation's Prohibition Forces Outlined

WASHINGTON, July 6. (AP)—Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, chief of the prohibition forces, outlined his plans for reorganization of the dry army to Secretary Mellon today and assured him he would stick to his post until that task was completed.

After two conferences with the Secretary just prior to his departure for London, Mr. Andrews said he had withheld his resignation and would not alter this decision until he completed the reorganization.

"We are going ahead full tilt," he said, "and I will be busy enrolling the 908 new men authorized by Congress. I have not resigned and will not consider such action until that task is completed. I think I can finish that work early in September."

Administration officials expressed concern over continued publication today of stories that the assistant Secretary had resigned in the face of a statement authorized by President Coolidge that he had not.

REPORTS UNFOUNDED

"The stories are unfounded," Secretary Mellon later stated. "Mr. Andrews has not resigned."

"The government asked me to reorganize the prohibition service," Mr. Andrews said. "I have not completed that job. I expect to in September."

The statement of Mr. Andrews was taken as definite indication that he expected to resign in the fall after he had put into full effect the extensive program for organization.

The assistant Secretary, who has admitted he was discouraged by the failure of Congress to enact his legislative program, declared today he felt he would have completed his assignment when he had reorganized the prohibition forces.

Gen. Andrews left today for New York, whence he will sail tomorrow for London as the head of a United States mission which was invited by England to confer with British officials on means to bring about better enforcement of the smuggling treaty. He expects to return about the middle of August and has issued a call for all prohibition administrators to meet with him here the first of September.

In view of the apparent determination of Gen. Andrews to retire within the next few months officials are expected to start search for a successor and this, they assert, will be a severe task. It is not considered likely that any of the many officials who have been connected with the prohibition service here during the present administration will be considered for the post.

APPOINTMENT MADE

In connection with his reorganization, Mr. Andrews today announced the appointment of John D. Pennington, former lieutenant-commander of the Navy, as prohibition administrator for Western Pennsylvania with headquarters at Pittsburgh. Pennington will relieve Edgar R. Ray, acting administrator, on the 15th inst. Mr. Andrews also announced the resignation of Walton A. Green, chief of the prohibition investigators, effective August 1, next, and the appointment of Vincent Symington as acting chief.

MEN OF INTEGRITY FOR NEW DRY ARMY

WASHINGTON, July 6. (AP)—The prohibition enforcement service must be composed of "men of integrity" who are skillful and courteous in the conduct of office, Assistant Secretary Andrews today advised directing administrators who are to enlist additional men.

"The success of this law depends upon its popular support," Mr. Andrews stated in a letter to the administrators. "Those who administer it must constantly have in mind that it is their duty to conduct themselves in office in such a way as to commend themselves and the law to popular approval.

"This means clean-cut, decent, efficient, courteous conduct in office under all circumstances. It is up to you to select the type of men who can meet these requirements, and then to instill into your whole organization a spirit which will be reflected in this manner."

HIGHER PAY PLANNED

Gen. Andrews expressed the opinion that a few qualified men will do "infinitely better work, and more of it," than a large number of prohibition agents. He intends to pay higher salaries to these men who will compose the new alcohol and brewery squads and the border patrol.

"I hope that each administrator will make it his pride," he stated, "to have his force composed of such men that the slurs so frequently cast upon our organization may soon cease and be replaced by comments reflecting an appreciation of the fact that the Federal agents are not only men of integrity, but skillful and courteous in their conduct of office."

Secretary Andrews also made known plans today for stopping newly discovered "leaks" in the bootleg trade. He has ordered that all filled prescriptions hereafter must be turned in each month, a measure which he believes will eliminate the practice of "washing" the prescriptions and using them over and over.

In addition Mr. Andrews ordered that all local transportation of medicinal spirits from bonded warehouses and distillers' agents must be by a railway express company or a bonded commercial express company performing general transportation service.

The Secretary said today he had been informed that bootleggers were actually transporting the liquor from bonded warehouses to private ones, "cutting" it there and then removing it to retail or wholesale druggists in accordance with their permits.

SEEING AIMEE IN MEXICO RELATED IN NEW STORY

Tucson Business Man Declares She Was With Three People; Grand Jury Action Begun

While process servers were delivering subpoenaes for the grand jury investigation in which Dist.-Atty. Keyes plans to go into every phase of the mysterious McPherson case, Chief of Police Dyer of Tucson, Ariz., made it known yesterday that a woman identified as Aimee Semple McPherson, Angelus Temple evangelist, was seen in Agua Prieta, Son., Mex., five days before she publicly appeared there.

This information, Chief Dyer stated, was given to him by C. A. Pape, president and general manager of the Overland Motor Car Company of Tucson, who declared he was positive the woman he saw leaving the International Club in the Mexican city was Mrs. McPherson. He said he "would know her anywhere," according to Dyer.

MANY NEW ANGLES

Dispatches from Tucson containing this information brought a sensational climax to a day full of developments, second in importance only to the morning when Mrs. McPherson, for weeks believed dead and drowned in the ocean at Venice, reappeared in the Arizona desert town and told her story of having been kidnaped by two men and a woman.

The other developments of the case during the day were:

(1.) Dist.-Atty. Keyes, after reviewing evidence submitted by Chief of Detectives Cline, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ryan and Sergeant of Police Murchison of Douglas, immediately went before grand jury and asked for investigation.

(2.) Grand jury adopted unanimous resolution to investigate McPherson case.

(3.) Resolution approving of the investigation and stating that "either a crime of most terrible nature" or "a fraud and hoax that is a shame to Christianity has been attempted" was adopted by executive committee of Church Federation of Los Angeles.

SUBPOENAES ISSUED

(4.) Subpoenaes were issued for Mrs. McPherson, her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy; her secretary, Miss Emma Schafer; her two children, other temple officers and Mexican and Douglas officials who participated in the investigation.

(5.) At a late hour in the afternoon process servers had been unable to locate Mrs. McPherson to serve subpoena.

(6.) Cline conferred with Dep. U. S. Dist.-Atty. Obannesian, Ryan and with Attorney Arthur L. Veitch, counsel for Mrs. McPherson, and Nick Harris, operator of a private detective agency, engaged by the evangelist.

(7.) Mrs. McPherson, through representatives, will assist in a new hunt for Kenneth O. Ormiston, former radio operator at Angelus Temple, to eliminate that phase of inquiry.

(8.) Grand jury investigation will open tomorrow morning with Mrs. McPherson as first witness.

Pape told his story yesterday in detail to Dyer at Tucson. He declared the woman answering Mrs. McPherson's description was accompanied at the time by another woman and two men and that their strange actions attracted his attention and impressed the incident upon his mind.

RELATES STORY

He told Dyer that on the night of June 18, last, he drove to Douglas, Ariz., in the company of Dr. J. V. Cogan of 511 East Speedway, Tucson, and that after their arrival there they went to the International Club, a cafe at Agua Prietta, for dinner.

As he was locking his transmission, he told Dyer, the key stuck and while he was attempting to get it out two men and a woman came out of the club. One of these he identifies as Mrs. McPherson.

Pape is almost certain as to the identification of Mrs. McPherson, he told Dyer.

While he was watching them closely, he told Dyer, the woman became hidden from his view by their automobile and the two men who were with her turned and ran back into the club.

As he and Dr. Cogan got out of their car and started to walk into the club, Pape's story continues, he turned around and noticed that one

PEN NOT IN CLASS OF LIPSTICKS

Girl Students of California Deficient With Quill, School Tests Show

SACRAMENTO, July 6. (Exclusive) California maids may be deft of touch with the lipstick and powder puff, but tests made by State school authorities indicate they lack the ability to handle a pen with the same skill.

A. C. Olney, State Commissioner of Secondary Schools, reported today that students of three of the five model high schools taking part in recent tests were found below par in penmanship.

Five hundred students, he said, made a grade of 53.3 per cent when the test requirement was 62 per cent.

Despite the reputed practice of lovelorn sheiks and flappers to exchange love notes, the high-school students also showed a low mark in social letter writing. The same lack of efficiency was displayed in narrative composition.

Stressing the need of better penmanship in the schools, Olney declared there is some ground for the criticism that modern day students write poorly, adding that the belief that all bright minds have been poor penmen is an exploded theory.

Italy and Japan Consume More of Our Cotton

WASHINGTON, July 6. (AP)—Italy and Japan readily are forging their way to the front as consumers of American cotton, the bureau of railway economics, maintained here by the railways, said last night in a report on a study it has conducted into the relation of transportation costs to cotton prices.

"Cotton exports to Japan have increased nearly 300 per cent during the past five years compared with those from 1906 to 1911 while there was an increase of nearly 22 per cent for Italy, the report said.

"Exports to Great Britain during the past five years showed a decrease of more than 43 per cent compared with those for the period from 1906 to 1911, while cotton exports to Germany showed a decrease of 26 per cent. On the basis of the number of bales of cotton exported from the United States, however, Great Britain, Germany, and France are still in the lead in the order named.

"The study further shows that freight rates do not retard the movement of cotton into either domestic or foreign ports and that freight rates represent relatively a small proportion of the price even on long hauls."

BUS LINES 5000 MILES

NEW YORK, July 6. (Exclusive)—Motor busses are now providing public transport service over 5000 miles of route in territories which have no rail communication, according to a survey of eight States by the United States Bureau of Public Roads. In Kentucky there are fifteen counties which have no rail communication that are served by nineteen bus routes operating thirty-one vehicles.

STRIKE CRIPPLES SUBWAY

Service in New York Bore Curtailed But Not Halted When Unions Call Out Members

NEW YORK, July 6. (AP)—This metropolis today was in the throes of a strike on its principal subway system, which daily transports more passengers than comprise the population of Chicago.

Reports assembled eighteen hours after the motormen and switchmen of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company went on strike at midnight for increased wages showed that a curtailed service was being maintained by strike-breakers and that there was some congestion, especially at the morning "peak" rush hour. The service to Brooklyn was temporarily abandoned.

Some express trains were being operated at fifteen-minute intervals, instead of the usual three-minute headway. The "local" service, where stops were made at every station, was faster than the express system.

No violence was reported. Nearly 7000 policemen were assigned at the strategic traffic points to maintain order and bluecoats were on every train guarding the crews.

CROWDS TAKE TROLLEYS

Thousands of persons on their way to work, anticipating delays, forsook their usual underground routes and took elevated lines, busses, railroad trains and trolleys. This caused overcrowding above the ground, but eased the task of the subway system.

Rain, which always drives New Yorkers underground by the thousands, added to the subway problem. The weather and the influx of returning vacationists to the Pennsylvania and Grand Central railroad terminals, jammed subway platforms and greatly increased normal congestion.

The stations where the most trouble was experienced were at Canal street, the Pennsylvania, the Grand Central and the One Hundred Twenty-fifth street stops. Canal street is the junction of the I.R.T., and the Brooklyn & Manhattan Transit lines. The morning flood of Brooklyn residents coming to work on the B.M.T., the only line now operating into Brooklyn, was dumped in a continuous stream which the Interborough lines found difficult to assimilate.

Many passengers left the Interborough platforms when they saw the crowds and took to trolleys, busses, elevated trains, or hailed passing motorists for a lift.

NEW MEN RUN TRAINS

Officials of the striking union announced that 98 per cent of all motormen and switchmen on the I.R.T. were on strike. At a Harlem meeting 300 of the strikers gathered to hear reports of a subway check made by strike agents.

They were kept in an uproar of laughter by accounts of alleged "greenness" on the part of substitutes who, they were told, were stopping trains at the wrong places, try-

WILKINS TO MAKE NEW ARCTIC DASH

Explorer on Way to Detroit Outlines Plans to Resume Search for Land

SEWARD (Alaska) July 6. (AP)—Capt. George Hubert Wilkins, who led the Detroit arctic expedition in unsuccessful attempts to find land north of Alaska, declared upon passing through Seward today en route to Detroit, that he will likely return to Alaska within two months to conduct test flights preparatory to resumption of the undertaking.

Point Barrow on the Arctic Coast will be the base of the next attempt, he said. It is 850 miles northwest of Fairbanks, the Alaskan starting point of this year's flights. Gasoline and oil are being shipped from Nome, to Point Barrow, Wilkins revealed.

The explorer said:

"I have learned nothing new about Arctic conditions. Four years in the Northland and fifteen years in aviation have convinced me that airplanes will function best in the early spring.

"The three-engined airplane Detroiter, which is at Fairbanks, will be equipped with greater horsepower. The three-engined motor will be taken out and replaced by a single unit of more power. The new motor will be selected and tested in New York immediately."

of the women was peering at him from behind the automobile.

They then walked into the club down a narrow hallway leading to the cafe and behind a pair of swinging doors leading to a rest room he said he saw the two men hiding. At the time, he said, he remarked to Dr. Cogan:

"Did you notice those people? I wonder what the big idea is?"

EXPLAINS DELAY

Pape told Dyer he did not tell his story to the police earlier in the investigation, "as I did not want to get mixed up in the case," but decided to supply the information at this time because he was leaving the city and would not be disturbed. He appeared voluntarily before Dyer to tell what he knew.

Descriptions of members of the party were furnished to Dyer by Pape. One of the men was large, while the second was fifty feet eight or nine inches tall, of average weight and wore a lighter suit than the first man. Pape's description of the second woman answers the general description given by Mrs. McPherson of "Rose," the woman she says assisted the two men in abducting her.

Pape says, according to dispatches, the second woman weighed about 175 or 180 pounds and had dark hair.

The car belonging to the party was a blue Hupmobile sedan or California top. It was parked on a street at the side door of the club.

Considerable mystery surrounds the disappearance from Douglas on June 21 of an automobile of the same description, which was driven by a man accompanied by a woman.

A mystery blue Hupmobile touring car, California top with sliding glass doors and bearing a California license, last was seen headed for Esqueda, Mex., forty miles south of Douglas. No car of this description entered Mexico legally and for this reason Mexican authorities took part in the search for the blue mystery car; but all trace of it was lost at Esqueda.

The driver of this car answers the general description of one of the men seen by Pape at the International Club and as a result of Pape's report to Dyer search for this machine was renewed by both Mexican and American authorities interested in the McPherson case.

PAPE MAY BE CALLED

Chief of Detectives Cline and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ryan were advised yesterday of Pape's story and said they will attempt to locate Pape when he comes to California to take him to the Temple to attempt to identify Mrs. McPherson. It is possible, Ryan stated, Pape will be one of the many witnesses to be called before the grand jury investigation of the case.

Pape is understood to be driving to San Francisco. Dyer plans, dispatches stated, to talk to Dr. Cogan concerning Pape's story of the affair at Agua Prieta.

Taking the position that either a crime has been perpetrated or a fraud attempted in the McPherson case, the executive committee of the Church Federation of Los Angeles yesterday adopted a resolution declaring neutrality as to itself and demanding that property constituted officials do their duty in the matter, irrespective of consequences.

CASE TRACED

"Whereas there has arisen throughout the nation an intense interest in the story related by Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson," reads the resolution, "in which she claims that she was kidnaped and held for practically thirty days in a Mexican cabin, her three kidnapers demanding $500,000 for her release, and

"Whereas, an extended search has been conducted for the cabin in question, and for some trace of the kidnapers and other proof that would verify her story, and

"Whereas, Arizona and Mexican officials have given out official reports of their findings, and

"Whereas, there is newspaper report of an investigation by the Federal grand jury and a possible investigation by the county grand jury of Los Angeles county, and

"Whereas it is apparent to all that either a crime of most terrible nature has been perpetrated against Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson or else a fraud and hoax that is a shame to Christianity have been attempted, demanding in either case the most enthusiastic and honest efforts on the part of our public officials at a genuine solution of the situation now presenting itself and an official and authoritative statement from those whose duties it is to enforce the laws of the land and protect the citizens of this country by discovering and publishing what has actually happened, and

"Whereas, there are many who think the church federation of Los Angeles, representing the Protestant churches, should speak at this time, inasmuch as the Christian religion is being criticised and even condemned as a result of conflicting stories that are being circulated to right and left,

RESOLUTION GIVEN

"Therefore be it resolved:

"First, that the executive committee of the church federation declare itself as absolutely neutral as regards the supposed and reported differences of opinion that may exist between Mrs. McPherson and those whom she terms 'her enemies.'

"Second, that we solemnly affirm that the District Attorney, the Sheriff, the police department and the grand juries empaneled in Los Angeles county should make an honest, sincere and thoroughly adequate investigation of this whole matter, without fear or favor, and report to the people their findings as well as prosecute any and all who have violated the laws of the land relative to this sensational matter.

"Third, that we unhesitatingly declare that any effort to shield the kidnapers of Mrs. McPherson, if she was kidnaped, or to shield her and any who have conspired with her, if she was not kidnaped, would constitute a crime against decency and righteousness that we characterize as monstrous and though we do not for a moment intimate that there are public officials in Los Angeles city or county who would be guilty of such an outrage, yet we do wish to go on record as demanding of the sworn officers of the law that they do their duty in this matter, irrespective of consequences.

"Fourth, that we send a copy of these resolutions to the District Attorney of Los Angeles county, the Federal District Attorney, the Sheriff, the Chief of Police of Los Angeles and also the foreman of the county and of the Federal grand juries, and also to Mrs. McPherson."

The resolutions, reproduced here in full, bears the signature, "executive committee, Church Federation of Los Angeles. W. E. McCulloch, president; Edwin P. Ryland, general secretary; Ernest J. Lickley, recording secretary."

The resolutions were adopted at the committee's weekly meeting. Thirty persons constitute the executive committee. Eleven were present at the meeting yesterday.

LONG CONFERENCE

A lengthy conference was held yesterday afternoon at which Attorney Veitch and Detective Harris, representing Mrs. McPherson, conferred with Captain of Detectives Cline, Assistant Captain of Detectives Taylor, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ryan and a representative of the United States District Attorney's office.

The meeting took place in Cline's office. None of the matters discussed was made public. Attorney Veitch and Harris declared after the conference, however, that "complete harmony" had reigned. It is understood that the misunderstanding that arose over the receipt at Angelus Temple of a second letter from the "Avengers," which Capt. Cline declared had not been turned over to him, was satisfactorily explained.

Although Mrs. Kennedy and her daughter referred interrogators to Attorney Veitch for information regarding the probable movements of herself and Mrs. McPherson in the near future, the attorney said yesterday that he preferred that all information be released by the constituted authorities, with whom, he said, he is working in the closest co-operation.

Asked whether reports that Mrs. McPherson might make another trip to Douglas, Ariz., had a foundation in fact, Veitch intimated that they had.

"Such a trip by Mrs. McPherson is a possibility," he said, "but certainly not in the immediate future; at least, not for a few days, anyway. There are several angles of the case in Arizona that need straightening out, and her presence may be needed. On the other hand, it may be possible that matters can be so arranged that the trip by her will be unnecessary."

SEEKS ORMISTON

Detective Harris said yesterday that he is continuing his search for Ormiston, whom the authorities desire to eliminate from the case as one of their first moves. Ormiston has not been heard of for several weeks despite appeals broadcast by the police asking him to appear by questioning.

Shortly before noon Investigators Reimer and Eaton of the District Attorney's office arrived at the temple with subpoenas to appear before the grand jury for the chief characters in the case.

They served a half-dozen subpoenas at the home of Mrs. McPherson and her mother, Mrs. Kennedy, and departed with the announcement that they would return later to serve Mrs. McPherson and her secretary, Miss Schafer, who were away at the time.

Those served by the investigators are Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Rice, Arthur, Roberts, Rolf and Mrs. Essie Binkley Locy, program arranger and radio hostess.

REFUSES INTERVIEW

Mrs. Kennedy refused flatly to be interviewed during the day, declaring that she was too busy with the Temple work. She refused to answer any questions. In response to a query as to whether Mrs. McPherson would again return to Douglas to lead the search for the shack in which she is supposed to have been held prisoner, however, Mrs. Kennedy stated that "she might and she might not," and then countered with another query as to whether there were any airplanes overhead to take Mrs. McPherson away.

It was learned, however, from the subpoena servers, that Mrs. McPherson and Miss Schafer were not at home, and that they were not expected to return for hours. They had gone into seclusion to rest, it was stated. Mrs. Kennedy stated that questions in the future will be answered by the attorney she and her daughter have retained.

Announcement of the grand jury will start investigation into the McPherson case tomorrow came after Keyes and Ryan appeared before the inquisitorial body following a conference with Cline. It was reported the jurors voted unanimously to set aside all other matters to look into the disappearance of the evangelist.

CHIEF WITNESSES

Keyes declared the case will be investigated in its entirety and that every person having knowledge of any of the facts will be summoned.

Chief among these witnesses, outside of Mrs. McPherson, her mother and others at the Temple, will be Police Sergeant Murchison of Douglas, who dispatched a lengthy confidential report on the case to Cline; Mayor Boubion and Chief of Police Villa of Agua Prieta, Mrs. Sylvia Oberman of Venice and Frank Langan, manager of the Ocean View Hotel, Venice, and Meribah Shinn, head nurse at the Calumet Hospital, Douglas, who cared for Mrs. McPherson.

LETTER SEARCH

While the county machinery was set in motion for the McPherson case inquiry, Federal authorities continued their search for the writers of the $500,000 ransom letter received by Mrs. Kennedy.

U. S. Dist.-Atty. McNabb conferred with Chief Deputy Simpson yesterday, later calling in Frank P. Sharon and Clark E. Webster, postal inspectors. During this conference they discussed the different phases of this investigation, it was reported, and the outcome probably will be that Mrs. McPherson and her mother will be asked to turn over what information they have.

McNabb yesterday clamped down an iron tight lid on his actions in connection with the investigation, refusing to comment on the progress of the government's inquiry. The Federal grand jury meets today but McNabb declined to say whether he will take the matter before that body.

W. W. Ash, chief of the United States Secret Service here, was reported investigating new clews in the case which center around a search for a man named "Steve" suspected as a ringleader of a counterfeit gang asserted to be operating across the line.

APPEAL TO ORMISTON PROMISED

Aimee McPherson and Her Mother Will Ask Former Radio Operator to Appear

Kenneth G. Ormiston, Angelus Temple "radio man," up to a few months ago before Aimee Semple McPherson went on her European trip, will be asked by the evangelist and "Mother" Kennedy to come forward and assist the authorities in their search for the persons who assertedly took Mrs. McPherson from Venice to Mexico.

This was made known yesterday by Detective Harris, retained by Mrs. McPherson and her mother to assist city, county and Federal officials in running down available clews leading to the kidnapers who abducted the evangelist and held her for $500,000 ransom, according to her story.

Detective Harris attended a conference in Chief of Detectives Cline's office at which Attorney Arthur Veitch, Capt. Cline, Asst U. S. Atty. O'Hanesian and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ryan took part.

"We want to run down every possible clew and learn something about the identity of the kidnapers, as soon as possible," Mr. Harris said to newspaper men. "The sooner we eliminate all side issues and unreliable reports the easier it will be to work out a solution of the case. Mr. Ormiston, who was an employee at the temple, may know of threats against Mrs. McPherson, or may have noticed persons lurking around the temple. He may be in a position to supply certain details that will simplify the case by elimination, and Mr. Veitch and I have suggested to Mrs. McPherson and Mrs. Kennedy that Mr. Ormiston be asked to appear.

"We realize that he has been annoyed by publicity given his name in this matter, but the sooner the questions in mind are cleared up the better for all concerned," Mr. Harris said.

The detective added that Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. McPherson approved of his suggestion. He did not reveal what means they plan to employ to get in communication with the former radio operator who was the object of a State wide search by Chief of Detectives Cline soon after Mrs. McPherson's disappearance.

Falling Plaster Brings Panic in Boston Theater

BOSTON, July 6. (AP)—Between 400 and 500 persons in the Gem Motion Picture Theater, East Boston, were thrown into a panic today when a huge slab of plaster fell from the ceiling into the orchestra pit.

More than a score of women fainted in the stampede for the doors. Others were roughly jostled and bruised.

LIST OF FUND DONORS GIVEN

three Philadelphia newspaper men that he had told them the organization of William S. Vare in the Keystone State Senatorial race had sought to purchase his support.

The record will be transmitted without any recommendation or suggestion from the committee, but the District Attorney will be expected to take such action as he may deem warranted under the circumstances.

Having repeatedly failed in its efforts to have Representative Morin of Pittsburgh, Vare's western campaign manager in the Pennsylvania primary, appear before it, the committee directed the sergeant at arms of the Senate to proceed to Morin's summer home at Atlantic City and bring him to Washington under subpoena.

CALLED BY ILLNESS

The hope of the committeemen is that Mr. Morin will be here tomorrow and they adjourned the hearing until that time. He telegraphed Acting Chairman King yesterday that he had been called to Atlantic City by illness in his family and Senator King immediately telegraphed him to come to Washington today.

The sergeant-at-arms also was directed to make another effort to find Thomas W. Cunningham, treasurer of the Pennsylvania Republican State Committee, who is reported to have contributed $50,000 to the Vare-Beidleman organization. If he can be on hand tomorrow the committee hopes to wind up the Pennsylvania end of its inquiry at that time.

Stayton was on the stand for more than an hour today and he and Senator Goff had a somewhat heated exchange about the Constitution and the Volstead Act. Stayton frankly stated that his organization aimed through action at the polls to bring about first a modification of the dry laws, and ultimately repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

"We want to get back to the time of Jefferson and Washington," he said, "and away from the time of Wayne B. Wheeler."

The wet leader agreed that the Eighteenth Amendment had been adopted legally, but said it had not been ratified from a standpoint of good morals. Asked to explain, he pointed out that Ohio had voted at a referendum against ratification, but despite this the same Legislature which ordered the referendum voted for ratification.

VOTE DIVIDED

The decision of the committee to withhold from publication the contributions of the Anti-Saloon League prior to January 1, 1925, was on a divided vote, with Senators King, Goff and McNary, Republicans, Oregon, voting for, and Chairman Reed and Senator LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin, against.

The legislative committee of the Anti-Saloon League filed with the committee a statement giving two reasons why it objected to publication:

The first was that it was not ethical to make public the names of donors without their consent and the second because such sharp differences have arisen as to the proper manner of handling the liquor traffic that "many contributors to the funds of the Anti-Saloon League have objected to the publication of their gifts because they thought that such publication would have a harmful effect upon their family, social and business relations."

When Capt. Stayton presented the list for the wet organization, Senator King said that in accordance with its ruling in the Anti-Saloon League case, it desired contributors made only since January 1, 1925.

"But I want the entire list to go in," objected Stayton.

"In that case the committee will receive them," King said.

CAMERON'S CHARGE IGNORED BY COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, July 6. (Exclusive) The Senate committee on campaign expenditures will not investigate the charge made by Senator Cameron of Arizona that a "stream of gold is flowing into Arizona" to insure his defeat unless the Senator will come forward with some specific evidence to support his charge. Senator King of Utah, acting chairman of the investigating committee in the absence of Senator Reed, said today that his attention had been called to Cameron's charge made in the midst of his speech in the Senate last Saturday, but the charge was not impressive, nor was it specific.

Cameron made this charge of a slush fund being raised to defeat him in the course of his reply to the Will Irwin charges.

"I am not unmindful that these statements of mine today will open the wrath of the Chandler and Mather and other millions," said Cameron, "and the well-known stream of gold that is now flowing to Arizona to insure my defeat is only beginning, and from now on the flood gates will be turned wide open."

Senator King said that if Senator Cameron will ask for an investigation of his charge or if any responsible person will make such a demand the committee will go into the accusation and get at the facts but in view of the fact that Cameron has not availed himself of the services of the investigating committee, and has made only the broad and unsupported charge, the committee does not feel justified in taking any notice of what Cameron said.

CAILLAUX ASKS POWER TO SETTLE FINANCIAL CRISIS

Demands Full Authority to Effect Franc Stabilization, Enforce Economy and Curb Waste

PARIS, July 6. (AP)—Extraordinary powers for handling the fiscal situation were demanded by M. Caillaux today in a speech to the Chamber of Deputies. Complete authority to arrange details of a program for stabilization of the franc and full power to effect economies and restriction of domestic consumption were asked by the Finance Minister.

In the spokesman with which he was greeted there was no indication of the Chamber's sentiments, Caillaux will have a clear majority in support of his program. The whole house, excluding the irreconcilable Radicals, Socialists, Communists and Royalists, applauded at the end of his statement of the government's projects for combating financial renovation.

If the Chamber votes these powers, it will be the first time that they have been accorded under the third republic, although it is the second time they have been asked for. M. Poincare, when he balanced the budget in 1924, in order to obtain a loan of $100,000,000 Morgan credit, asked power to effect economies by decree, which, under another name, is the same power requested by the present government.

SOUGHT BY POINCARE

It was recalled in the Chamber today during the suspension of the session that M. Caillaux, who was instrumental in defeating the Briand-Herriot ministerial combination a few days ago, wants the same powers of dictation the ex-President of the republic took two years ago.

The powers, as indicated in the Premier Minister's declaration today, mean the authority to make retrenchments in the expenses of the administration, reduce the number of functionaries, cease recruitment of employees and cut down expenses of all sorts. As applied to restrictions, they would authorize the government to put into effect by decrees measures to reduce the consumption of imported products which affect the balance of trade.

These powers are not extraconstitutional, but extraordinary.

SOCIALISTS INTERRUPT

The Socialists today frequently interrupted their former idol, asking on one occasion if M. Caillaux demanded these extended powers for himself or for the whole government.

It was Premier Briand who replied that the whole government was in accord, as were M. Caillaux and himself. A clear majority of the Chamber, comprising the moderate Radicals and a considerable portion of the Conservatives, cheered the Finance Minister when he finished his two hours' speech.

The session tomorrow will open with a speech by M. Franklin-Bouillon, against the Washington debt agreement.

waiting him drawn up in almost military line the members of his Cabinet, who greeted him and Mrs. Coolidge heartily and accompanied them to the train, where they wished them a pleasant vacation.

The train is to bring them to Gabriels, N. Y., their destination, tomorrow morning.

Accompanying the President and Mrs. Coolidge are Secretary Everett Sanders, military and naval aides, a number of executive office attaches, a dozen or more household employees, as well as secret service men, news photographers and Washington newspaper correspondents.

EXECUTIVE OFFICES

The executive offices will be set up at Paul Smith's hotel, less than four miles from the camp, with veteran officials in charge, except for Rudolph Forster, executive clerk at the White House for many years, who has been left in charge in Washington.

In leaving Washington, Mr. Coolidge had to carry with him little important government business. His desk was clear and only a few recess appointments and some action on minor bills call for his attention in the mass of matters disposed of with the adjournment of Congress.

One of the appointments was made just before he left when he named William J. Tilson of Atlanta district judge for the middle judicial district of Georgia. Two other recess appointments are expected to be made soon in that district, while three judicial appointments are to be made for Alaska.

One or more minor bills may be signed within the ten-day period allowed the President to act upon such measures after he has received them from Congress. Indications are, however, that most of the measures he failed to act upon when Congress adjourned last Saturday will be given pocket vetoes.

PRINCE NOW PARK RANGER

Gustavus Adolfus and Princess Given Honorary Appointments Before Leaving Yellowstone

YELLOWSTONE PARK (Wyo.) July 6. (AP)—Crown Prince Gustavus Adolfus and Princess Louise of Sweden left Yellowstone Park today and motored south along the Teton Range to a ranch near Phillips Lake in Fremont county, where they were to spend the night. Tomorrow they will continue their trip along the western slope of the Continental Divide to Rock Springs, Wyo., where they will board a train for Salt Lake City.

As they left behind the land of geysers and entered the Teton region, called the "Alps of America," with Gannett Peak, the highest point in Wyoming, towering before them, the Crown Prince and Princess were loud in their praise of the scenic wonders they had enjoyed during the few days since they first entered the Yellowstone.

"The outdoor life on my trip is the kind of recreation I needed," exclaimed the Prince. "We are used to this sort of thing at home."

Before leaving the park the royal pair were made honorary rangers of the Yellowstone—the only honorary rangers in the park's history. The badges of rangers were conferred by Park Superintendent Horace M. Albright, who declared the Prince had proved himself "a lover of the outdoors," while rangers who had accompanied the royal couple on the trip through the park pronounced the Prince "a he-man like any red-blooded American."

The Prince won the hearts of the rangers when, seated on a tin bucket upended in a row boat, he caught thirty trout, the limit for a day in the park.

ROYAL PAIR'S TRIP MAY BE CALLED OFF

STOCKHOLM, July 5. (Exclusive) The world trip of the Swedish Crown Prince may be called off if the health of Queen Victoria does not improve. The Queen, who has long suffered from heart trouble, has grown weaker during the summer. She is staying at the summer castle on the Island of Oland. The royal personages have been called in by airplanes. The King has been summoned to the sick bed and is forbidden to leave for the present.

PRESIDENT'S CAMP CITY IN MOUNTAINS

NEW YORK, July 6. (AP)—White Pines, the Adirondack camp where President Coolidge is to spend his summer vacation, is the product of the skill of civilization. Nineteen years ago it was virgin forest. Today it is a city unto itself. It comprises ten acres, bordered on one side by untamed forest and the other by the blue waters of Lake Osgood. It is fourteen miles from the nearest town—Saranac Lake—four miles from a railway station.

William G. Massarene, the architectural specialist who designed and supervised the building of the camp, spent years taking from civilization all it had to offer in the way of comfort and elegance and so using this knowledge that it would be hidden. He calls the camp an architectural paradox. It seems, he says, to be rustic, but in truth it is civilization at its acme. "It is civilization, but in the abstract," he said.

In 1907 the late Archibald White, New York banker, decided to build a summer camp. Massarene had grown tired of building skyscrapers. Delving into the lore of medieval and Byzantine architecture he learned that the great architects of old had not been satisfied to draw plans, but had actually built the edifices. He had toured Europe, studied the remnants of ancient civilization and drawn conclusions. Then he met White who retained him to design White Pines.

Massarene found the site a forest of spruce, pine and birch. After weeks of study he began planning the camp that is to be known as the "Summer White House." He completed his task in 1919. He dislikes all that is "rustic," such as the unhewn timber bridges one sees in parks. He had studied for years to avoid the trite in summer homes.

Instead of one large building there are thirty separate units, including a dining-room, living-room, laundry, guest rooms, power house, tennis house, tea house, servants' rooms, ice house, kitchen, billiard room and bowling alley and boat house. The tea house is 500 feet from the dining room, across a bridge that leads from a point of the promontory to the main grounds.

Stones and timber from the vicinity comprise most of the construction materials. "It was my aim to build of the things around me," Massarene said. "Only in this way could I achieve harmony between building and site."

The grounds were landscaped to suit the buildings, where a discord was found. Concrete roads were spread with tan bark to deaden sound. The walks and roads are lined with rhododendron and arbor vitae. In beds grow flowers that add their perfume to that of the balsams and mountain laurel that abound. Over all this White Pace Mountain stares down in austere silence. Deer browse in the woods beyond. The placid waters of Lake Osgood are ruffled by leaping bass and pike.

Invent and adapt. We were not hunting solely the new; we sought rather

DYES STAIN TIMBERS

Inside the buildings all is elegance and charm. The timbers were stained with analine dyes which mingles with the sap of the green logs, providing unusual color effects. Each piece of furniture and object of art has its history.

"In the cities one finds enough of mirrors, silk and such," Massarene said. "Here we sought something different. We had to retain all the comforts—for instance, there is a pressing shop for the valets—but we wanted new colors, new pieces of furniture, new draperies. We had to a change from the noise, garishness and turmoil of cities.

"Effects were studied. The beams were put in place green, and we fitted them to take line advantage of the sag we knew would come. We put dormer windows in here and there to get special lighting effects. Mr. and Mrs. White were abroad most of the time. I received dozens of cables from them telling me of discoveries they had made as they visited quaint spots of Europe. I had made many observations. We combined these and tested them. Each of the cabins is patterned, more or less, after the curious shaped houses one sees in Italy. Instead of building upward, as is done in cities, we spread out."

On the death of Mr. White, Mrs. White sold the camp to Irwin R. Kirkwood Kansas City publisher.

KANSAS CITY WOMAN SORORITY PRESIDENT

SAN FANCISCO, July 6. (AP)—Mrs. Hal Le Brecht of Kansas City was re-elected Grand President of the Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority at the closing sessions of its biennial convention here yesterday. A new office, that of Budgeteer, was created. Other officers elected: Mrs. C. A. Bemis, Spokane, vice-president; Miss L. Pearle Green, New York, secretary; Mrs. D. B. Grassett, Illinois, Treasurer, Mrs. H. F. Thompson, Budgeteer. The delegates were entertained at a tea at the University of California yesterday afternoon.

CARIBOU EATS BREAD FROM HAND OF MAN

VANCOUVER (B. C.) July 6. (Exclusive)—Tame bears and tame deer are not new but a tame caribou is very nearly a phenomenon. John Munro of Nelson was astounded when a full-grown caribou stepped out in the open near him and drank calmly from a spring. Later Munro fed the animal a slice of bread and patted his shoulder as he ate it. Normally caribou are very timid and virtually never seen near human habitations.

Forest Parks Being Planned for Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 6. (Exclusive)—Every county of the Oklahoma prairies, covering all of what formerly constituted Oklahoma Territory, will in a few years have a wooded, grass-carpeted county park covering 640 acres of land, if plans being made by the State Forestry Commission can be carried into effect. Proposals to that effect are to be made during the new fiscal year by George R. Phillips, secretary of the commission, who during the last few months has been making an intensive study of conditions in all sections of the State.

Mr. Phillips will recommend that county officials, civic clubs or other organizations or individuals purchase at least 640 acres of land situated as near the geographical section of the county as is practical, and two sections where they can be had reasonably. Trees for a section, says Mr. Phillips, can be had for $15 and their setting and preliminary platting of the park can be done with $30 worth of labor.

His idea is that it should be a public meeting ground and possibly a marketing place for farm products. The uses to which it could be put are many and varied, but the essential thing is that trees would be propagated and grown where none has grown before and that these would add to the comfort and pleasure of the people of the prairie country. At the same time it would encourage farmers and other home makers to plant more trees.

This plan is working with striking success in Iowa, Mr. Phillips says, and it was being started with encouragement in Indiana when he left that State to take the Oklahoma position a few months ago.

Demonstration Forest Planned in Empire State

SYRACUSE (N. Y.) July 6. (Exclusive)—A new and important factor in advancing forestry has become effective in New York State through the use of revenues received from the hunting, fishing and trapping license to establish demonstration forests, says the New York State College of Forestry, Syracuse University.

Many years the organized sportsmen have advocated the use of revenues from the hunting licenses to improve wild game cover, fishing and forestry. But the Constitution of the State requires that all moneys received from the hunting licenses be turned into the State Treasury as a general fund. If money is obtained thereafter for any particular purpose it has to be appropriated by the Legislature. Last year the Legislature appropriated $120,000 for fish and game refuges, stream survey, biological surveys, proper fish planting, bird and game stock and forest demonstration.

The first demonstration forest under the appropriation will be established this year. These forests will be easily accessible and will serve as show-windows where the public will be able to see forests under scientific control.

DRY ADMINISTRATORS HAVE $8000 SURPLUS

SAN ANTONIO, July 6. (Exclusive) Prohibition officers working out of the local office filed enough cases during the first half of 1926 to pay expenses of operation and prosecution out of fines assessed against offenders, and have approximately $8000 left, a report for the period shows, according to N. A. Baker, deputy administrator for the San Antonio district.

MILLIONS SAVED PEOPLE IN SMOKING OUT AD FRAUDS

Pacific Convention Speakers Tell of Active Part Taken to Curb Fly-by-Night Publicity

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6. (Exclusive)—Organized advertising with its ramifications was the principal theme discussed today at the second session of the convention of the Pacific Coast Advertising Clubs' Association when it was called to order by President Gilman in Native Sons' Auditorium. Organized advertising, especially as it relates to scotching bunko real estate dealers was the subject of an address by Lou E. Holland of Kansas City. Holland is president of the National Better Business Bureau and President of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce. He also is a past president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

The activities of fraudulent real-estate men who flocked to Florida last year and were practically chased out of the State through the activities of the National Better Business bureaus, was pointed to by Holland as an example of the work which the bureaus are doing in other States as well as Florida through organized advertising and vigilance.

"The National Better Business Bureaus saves the American people millions of dollars annually by checking frauds and bringing their perpetrators to justice," Holland said. "We have carefully compiled lists of thieving land dealers, who have been warned that they will be prosecuted if they attempt to repeat their nefarious practices of the past. We are endeavoring through advertising to make it hot for crooked business men in every part of the United States, and we are making fine progress."

Better Business Bureau managers of the Pacific Coast will hold an important meeting tomorrow morning at the convention auditorium. Mr. Holland, C. King Woodbridge, president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World and president of the Dictaphone Corporation of America, and Harry H. Culver, founder of Culver City and president of the California Real Estate Association, will be the principal speakers. Fred N. Manter, manager of the Better Business Bureau of the San Francisco Advertising Club, will preside.

ORATORS ENTER CONTEST

A contest by gifted orators of the advertising clubs of the Pacific Coast gave the delegates plenty of entertainment this noon at the Hotel St. Francis. Prolonged applause greeted the speeches of C. S. Reynolds of Tacoma; J. W. Stuffebeen of Long Beach; A. Ray Neptune of San Diego; Raymond P. Kelley of Spokane, and Al C. Joy of Fresno. Each speaker was limited to three minutes, during which he told of ways and means by which waste in advertising can be reduced. The winner of the contest will be named at the annual banquet tomorrow night.

One of the principal addresses of the morning session was by Alvin E. Dodd, manager of the Domestic Distribution Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, whose subject was "face to face with the distribution problem."

"Clamor in the corn belt has its counterpart in the fields of manufacturing and distribution," Dodd said. "The problem of a surplus with which agriculture in struggling in some parts of the country is the problem faced by the advertisers of manufactured products, and is represented in the struggle for markets for the commodities. New forces are being brought into play. New methods of selling are being devised.

"Business is in the grip of the most relentless competition the world has ever seen and installment buying, chain stores, house-to-house canvassing, high-pressure selling are some of its earmarks. Advertising, in this condition of affairs, takes on the character of an important instrument of economic adjustment."

BALLYHOO DAYS GONE

"It is no longer merely a matter of shouting out loud that something is for sale, in the fatuous hope that a waiting customer somewhere will hear. The old days of the ballyhoo are done.

"It is, on the contrary, a matter of careful, scientific anaylsis, of calculatio nupon the basis of known facts. It is as important to production as engineering is to construction. It must know not only the virtues of the article it purposes to sell, but the need, the character, the consuming capacity of those who buy and the facilities they have for buying.

"Upon the success with which this task is done depends our success in keeping production and consumption at an even balance. Our failure will mean congestion, with consequent stagnation and depression. All of this means that advertising is faced today with a much more complicated problem than was even dreamed of ten years ago. It is a d efinite, uncanvortable and profound fact that distribution has now a multitude of heads where it had but one a generation ago. All of these must be understood as component parts of the problem which must be solved by those who give advice on advertising policies and expenditures."

Among other speakers at the morning session was Harold J. Stonier, executive secretary of the University of Southern California, who explained the objective of organized advertising.

Among the speakers on the convention program tomorrow morning are Homer J. Armstrong of Seattle, Dr. Alexander F. Leisher of San Francisco, C. King Woodbridge of New York, L. W. Hahn of New York and Dr. W. E. Hotchkiss of Stanford University.

RETIRING PRESIDENT AND WIFE HONORED

BY W. H. CLINE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6. (Exclusive)—That Los Angeles always looks after her own was verified in a most delightful manner this morning, when at a breakfast called at the Whitcomb Hotel roof garden, retiring President Jrving R. Smith and his wife were made recipients of tokens of appreciation that delighted their hearts and will be permanent evidence of the esteem in which the Los Angeles Advertising Club holds them.

The club, which is here 150 strong, and making a tremendous impression through its loyalty to the Coast as a whole, and an absence of Los Angeles individual boost which surprises the folk who believe that only blowing its own horn is the Los Angeles spirit, met at breakfast to practice its Coast boost songs and yells. Under the leadership of J. G. Jeffrey, it developed a musical ability that was surprising, and a vocal capacity that made the City Hall sit up and take notice. Then in a burst of good spirit Mr. Jeffrey lifted to his table a large suit case, started his little talk, and ended it by presenting Mrs. Smith a very handsome pair of chased silver candlesticks. Mrs. Smith was so surprised and overcome that she could scarcely respond, but managed to give her famous smile and a word of appreciation. Then, continuing his talk, Mr. Jeffrey addressed himself to Mr. Smith, and spoke of the term just ending, the work accomplished by Mr. Smith and his fellow-workers during that period, and then offered Mr. Smith a beautiful platinum, diamond-studded dress watch, amid the cheers of the entire assembly.

In a modest way Mr. Smith attributed the success of the club during his term to his helpers, rather than to himself.

Briefly he recounted some of the year's achievements, especially the clearing of the club's lot in Wilshire Boulevard of debt, the burning of the former mortgage on the property, the very large increase in members, and the promotion of fellowship feeling that is evident all down the line. He concluded with a fine tribute to his fellow committeemen and officers, and a graceful word of praise to Harold J. Stonier, his successor-elect. The occasion was the outstanding event in the club visit here so far, and an occasion of good will that everyone enjoyed and appreciated. The gifts, handsome as they were, came through the voluntary efforts of all the club members, and were thus individual tokens, rather than from the club treasury itself, making the incident all the more heartfelt and appreciative.

This high spot in the Los Angeles club's visit merely hints at the many activities of the club here, and its individual members. The fact that it concentrated on the spirit of the Coast empire; that all its yells and songs are tributes to the Coast and its cities rather than to Los Angeles, and its mixing ability, has made the delegation the center of talk and popularity. Every member is engaged in making a lot of friends, and from the time its special came in Monday, up to date, it has won regard and appreciation.

HAGELBERG CREDITED

Much credit for the success of the trip goes to Fred T. Hagelberg, who is the delegation chairman. If he has slept, no one knows of it but himself, as he has been here, there and everywhere all the time. Nothing seems to go amiss under his careful attention, and his grin is always in evidence. Mr. Jeffrey is the yell and song leader and is likewise always on the job. Harry Carroll, with his pretty daughter and her chum, Maxine Matheson, the two actresses in the stunt play, is a center of attraction through reflected glory. Arthur Hull, world traveler, just back from Iceland, is keeping his fevered brow cool, while Bert Vatcher is keeping warm waving his ostrich feathers industriously. Jack Frauenfelder, the club architect, is taking what time he can spare in looking over clubhouses here for pointers on the proposed new one in Los Angeles. Harold Stonier, already a speaker in evidence, has been asked for more talks than he can possibly make, and his ability in that line speaks well for his coming administration. Florence Shidler, vice-president for women of the Coast association, in making the feminine end of the affair a success by her assiduous attentions, and Don Thomas who, as executive secretary was recognised at the international convention as the premier of them all, has new glories for his efficient work here. Jim Sprecher, master of transportation of the Los Angeles delegates, is praised much for his efficient railroading up here, whereof there are many happy tales, and all in all the Los Angeles crowd, the largest delegation here, has made a profound and most happy impression. All wear leis and roses alike, boosting for both Portland and Honolulu as the next convention city, and asking nothing for themselves, have only friends to praise them, and no one to say of them an ill word.

SHORTRIDGE LEAVES FOR CALIFORNIA

Needs of Public Buildings in State Pointed Out Prior to His Departure

WASHINGTON, July 6. (Exclusive) Senator Shortridge, after conferences today with the Secretary of the Treasury and Postmaster-General regarding public building needs of a number of California cities, including Los Angeles and San Diego, left for home.

The Senator presented to the two Cabinet officers data showing that the public buildings in the various cities on his list are now badly overcrowded, and giving some idea of the amount of additional space required, and asked that between now and December a careful survey be made to determine the needs of California in a public-building line.

It is the policy of Congress, announced during the recent session, to provide for new public buildings or to enlarge existing buildings in the order of the urgency found to exist and the Senator's calls today were to see that the Cabinet officers in charge of public-building construction do not overlook his State. The Senator was assured that conditions at each of the larger offices in his State will be studied during the summer or fall.

Last Witness of Alamo Fall Dies From Car Injury

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) July 6.(Exclusive)—Mrs. Alvina Rios, who is said to be 110 years of age, and the last witness of the fall of the Alamo, who came to San Antonio when Gen. Santa Anna was leader of Mexico, is dead as a result of injuries received in a street-car accident.

With no company except memories of the century that saw San Antonio, the cluster of mission, become San Antonio, the city, Mrs. Rios had lived for more than fifteen years in the rear of 1415 North Flores street.

The aged woman had one friend to whom she looked, Mrs. E. F. Favella, of San Antonio. She was on her way to Mrs. Favella's home when the accident occurred. Mrs. Rios is said to have been deaf, and according to witnesses of the accident, she was walking across the street and apparently did not notice the street car. She walked into the side of the car and was knocked down. She was taken to a local hospital, but died shortly after. None of her relatives has been located.

. Hobson Says Federal Report Suppressed

rts Document Would Have Stirred Public

d Conference Opens in Philadelphia

LADELPHIA, July 6. (AP)—Traf- narcotic drugs was character- the greatest evil, with the ex- on of addition to liquor, by ings speakers at the opening ings yesterday of the first world ress on narcotic education. ng the delegates were distin- ed statesmen, educators, physi- and sociologists from all over United States and from foreign ries.

or. Richmond Pearson Hobson, of the Spanish-American War, sident of the International ic Association; Senator Theo- G. Burton of Ohio; and Dr. ne J. Owens of Washington, C., were among those here for sions which will continue un- last week.

or. Hobson, presiding at a com- of the whole meeting, was e demonstrative greeting when ounced a report issued by the ury Department on "traffic in ic drugs." The report was made by a special committee of investigation, appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury in 1918.

In submitting the report Capt. Hobson said:

"This report is the most complete to be found anywhere in the world. However, it was suppressed. Just after Dr. Lawrence Kilb's pamphlet had been issued, an order from the Treasury Department on June 17, 1924, directed the public printer to melt type. This was done, but the order subsequently was recalled and the report has now reached the Treasury for the first time. A subordinate had abused the authority of the department by suppressing a document that would arouse public anxiety. They suppressed this report and in its place put out a document that said in effect 'There is no narcotic problem; forget it and it will soon disappear.' This was nothing more than an opiate to public opinion to put it to sleep so that ignorance might continue to prevail and unscrupulous exploitation of drugs continue."

PAY INCREASE URGED

TUCSON (Ariz.) July 6. (Exclusive)—The Chamber of Commerce is leading in an effort to obtain an amendment to the city charter in order to give the Mayor a salary of $200 a month and Councilmen $100 each. It is contended that better pay will produce better government.

MAN'S REAL NATURE REVEALED

NEW YORK, July 6. (AP)—Shy boys and bluster boys, poets and pugilists alike, may make good flyers, but all will show their true natures at 12,000 feet and upward. This has been shown by researches of the School of Aviation Medicine, which has just closed at Mitchell Field to reopen next September at Brooks Field, Texas.

High altitudes which "lift the lid" of civilization off the underlying nature of man are studied at the school's low pressure chamber, where aviators are artificially carried to great heights while observers breathing fresh oxygen watch their mental and physical reactions to the rarer, lighter air.

The discovery that the reaction is often that of utter removal of inhibition and revelation of the true man may cause young ladies of fashion in the future to fly their catches to the ceiling of the sky before asking them "do you love me?"

Breakdowns of personality have been observed at low pressures which have made good officers irritable and even violent, and turned gloomy and unsociable ones smiling and talkative, Maj. F. H. Poole, commandant of the school, said today.

Canadians Search for Hidden Treasure

'Boston' Smith's Wealth Long Concealed

Gold Believed at Bottom of Old Well

VANCOUVER (B. C.) July 6. (Exclusive)—For the past fifteen months a search has been actively carried on in the heart of New Westminster, British Columbia, for bullion buried there in the late '60's by a Cariboo miner called "Boston" Smith. Estimates as to the value of the hidden treasure vary from $50,000 to $80,000, but this at best is but a guess. The only man who ever knew exactly how much wealth was carefully concealed far below the earth's surface was Smith himself who has been dead fully fifty years.

Enough of his story, however, has come down to the present generation to induce local men to spend several thousand dollars in an effort to locate the cache of gold. Though only a very few grains of sand bearing traces of the precious metal have been found so far, the search proceeds hopefully.

Nothing is known of the antecedents of Smith, except that he was nick-named "Boston" because he claimed that city as his birthplace. Smith drifted north from the California gold fields in the early '60's and made his way to the Cariboo, where the world's richest placer deposits had been recently discovered. He returned a few years later and settled in New Westminster, at that time the most important town on the mainland, selecting for his homesite one of the loveliest spots on the banks of the Fraser River.

DISTRUSTED BANKS

Somewhere on this home site, now built over and surrounded by paved streets and imposing houses, Boston Smith planted the stake he had brought down from the northern gold fields. He had no faith in banks; his father had been ruined by a bank failure. He had little trust in his fellow-man; no one was given his confidence as to the hiding place of the treasure. All he would say was that his gold was where no man could find it.

Once, in his cups, the old miner let it slip that he had converted a great deal of his "dust" into $20 gold pieces from the San Francisco mint and that these were stacked in jam jars "and there were plenty of them."

On another occasion, during a discussion regarding what was then called "Russian gold," but which is now known as platinum, Smith was emphatic in expressing his belief that this would rise greatly in value. His auditors laughed at this idea, whereupon the old miner swore that so strong was his faith that he had bought "a big biscuit-box full" and salted it away in his "mine" until the market improved considerably.

Smith was probably exaggerating as regards the quantity of platinum in his possession, for in the '60's its price was so low that few miners bothered extracting it. Today many old British Columbia "dumps" are being worked over for what the old-timers discarded as almost worthless, and in some places men are making little fortunes in a few weeks.

SMITH BECOMES ILL

Early in 1876 Smith fell ill. He was attended by Dr. Hall, then quite a young man, and now a substantial citizen of New Westminster. The dying miner, having no relatives that he knew of, took a great fancy to the young doctor and decided to make him his heir.

"Let me know when I'm about ready to cash in, Doc," he said, "and I'll tell you how to find the stuff I've got cached somewhere near."

"Don't worry about that," said the doctor, cheerily. "You're good for a long while yet!"

If Dr. Hall had been frank instead of kind, the treasure might have been his fifty years ago. Instead, when he was hurriedly summoned to the old man's beside one summer evening, he was delayed for an hour or so by an emergency case. When he reached Smith's house the old miner was dead. He had taken his secret to the grave with him.

A man who nursed Smith during his last days, however, gathered a few hints which he treasured for many years, always hoping that some day he could institute a search on his own behalf. That day never came. The Smith property changed hands many times. His old cabin was torn down. Other houses were built, and these, in their turn, were razed to make room for more modern dwellings.

Then, twenty years or so ago, the man who had nursed the old miner, feeling his end near, and realizing that the hidden hoard could never be his, hawked his story around. Most of those to whom he told his tale dismissed it as a rather clever trick to lure a few dollars from the pockets of some simpleton, but in the end he did find a gambler who gave $100 for the secret, then laughed at himself for a fool when he learned the details.

The treasure was buried at the bottom of a deep well that had been filled in many years earlier. Its exact location was not known. Even the site of Boston Smith's cabin is a matter of dispute, for great changes have taken place at that spot since his day. One thing was known for certain: the well was somewhere on property owned by Hugh McDonald. Alas, Mr. McDonald would not permit treasure diggers to invade his premises! Nor would he sell his home, not even at an extravagant figure.

McDonald maintained this attitude until his death a few years ago. Then his widow, after much persuasion, became a member of a syndicate formed to recover the hidden gold. She furnished the hiding place and for this is to receive one-third of whatever may be found. The other two members of the group, George Anderson and F. Clark, are financing the necessary work.

Anderson believes he has located the old well by means of a divining rod which bends downward when held over water, and he is sure the treasure is there because his metal locater indicates the presence of gold.

This metal locater, which works along the same lines as a divining rod, has enabled its owner to find earth-covered gold and silver on previous occasions, but not necessarily in paying quantities. However, a number of experienced prospectors think highly enough of it to include one in their equipment.

On what is believed to be the site of the filled-in well Anderson and Clark have sunk a shaft nearly 100 feet deep in the fifteen months they have been working. At fifty-three a strong flow of water was uncovered and from then on gasoline pumps had to be used to avoid flooding. At sixty feet a timbered tunnel was encountered, but the rotten wooden supports had given way and the tunnel was filled with sand. It is from this stratum that traces of gold have been recovered.

A sluggish body slows down the leaping mind

A clear mind is conditioned on regular clearance of the body. Delay or irregularity in the clearance of residual waste burdens the system with poisons which the blood-stream absorbs and carries to every organ of the body. Little ills, big ills, ills of the mind and even of the imagination often can be traced to intestinal inactivity. A half glass of water sparkling with a dash of ENO will beneficially influence the removal of poisonous waste from the alimentary canal. ENO contains nothing drastic nor of uncertain value, and no sugar.

COTTON CROP IS PROMISING

Field Near Tulare Attracts Much Attention

Prepare Plant to Handle Prune Crop

Attempt to Merge School Districts Fails

TULARE, July 6.—Declared by experts to be one of the earliest and best fields of cotton in the San Joaquin Valley, a field on the old Y. H. Morris ranch four and a half miles from Tulare on the Cartmill Road is attracting considerable attention. This ranch is owned by J. E. Warren of Tulare and has been rented to Lancaster and Lathrop. Late in March and early in April they seeded 160 acres and are now said to have one of the best-developed early July crops ever seen in California.

Although less than three months old, and having been watered but once, the plants are from fifteen inches to two feet high. They are fairly bristling with squares and in many instances have blossoms and even bolls.

The crop is declared to probably have no equal in uniformity of stand and growth, and certainly has no superior in this part of the State. The even sandy loam of the ranch seems particularly adapted to cotton growing. Five years ago it was operated as a dry farm. Warren purchased it then and the first year raised seventeen sacks of wheat to the acre without water. Later an irrigation system was installed and this is the first season for real cotton development.

It is estimated that 200 bales will be grown on the 160 acres this fall.

PACKING PLANT READY

VISALIA, July 6.—The Visalia plant of the California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association is being prepared for the 1926 prune crop. Superintendent Guy W. Smith has directed the finishing touches.

Greater portion of the Visalia prune crop can and will be handled at the local plant this season, in the opinion of Mr. Smith. With an abnormal tonnage last season it was found economical and convenient to send heavy shipments to other plants for processing and packing. Association tonnage here this year, according to reports, will be about 60 per cent that of last year and the local plant will be able to take care of all this. This yield will be considerd good and will be about capacity of the Visalia plant.

Fruit seems of excellent quality this year, says Smith, prices are expected to be splendid and everything points to a good season for the community. Last year the Visalia house handled 6500 tons and Hanford 3500, a total of 10,000 for this district, which produces about one-sixth the prunes grown in California.

Associated prune sales from the Visalia and Hanford plants last year went to Europe, to the East and Middle West. Most of the prunes sold in the centers of big population, according to Smith, are in two-pound containers, the San Jose plant being kept busy preparing these packages. The heaviest consumption is in the spring and early summer when the logging camps are getting into activity. Most of these buyers and farmers take twenty-five-pound cases, which is the size generally put up here. Prunes shipped to Europe go out in sacks.

DOES POOR BUSINESS

VISALIA, July 6.—J. S. Clack, as police judge and justice of the peace of Visalia, proved a good collector during the month of June. He took in $491 as justice and $308.50 as police judge during the month just closed, according to his report. Motor vehicle fines totaled $343 of this amount and liquor fines $260. Financially speaking, it was a poor month, he says.

SCHOOL ELECTION FAILS

TERRA BELLA, July 6.—In a recent special election in the Zion and Terra Bella districts to consider union of the two grammar-school districts, the project failed to carry. Upon investigation the Zion residents feared that their taxes would be materially increased and decided to vote the proposition down, at least for the present.

TO TAKE VACATION

PORTERVILLE, July 6.—Fred W. Pease, retiring purchasing agent of Porterville, is planning a much-needed vacation, after which he will resume work as a civil engineer, with a desk at the Premo Brothers' office. Pease has been an employee of the city of Porterville for the past twelve years and during that time he has had but two vacations of two weeks each.

TAKES BANK POSITION

PORTERVILLE, July 6.—F. E. Ford, formerly connected with a San Pedro bank, has accepted a position with the Home Bank of Porterville. He will act as teller and assistant cashier. Mr. Ford owns an orange grove in the Sunland district and has had about twelve years' experience in the banking business.

BOUNTY URGED UPON DEAD RATTLESNAKES

SAN ANTONIO, July 6. (Exclusive)—Representative John T. Smith of Travis county has joined the war against rattlesnakes and has announced that at the next session of the Legislature he will introduce a bill which, if passed will materially aid in the extermination of the rattlers. The bill will provide for the payment by the State of a bounty on each rattlesnake killed. Such a measure was introduced by Representative Smith in the Thirty-Eighth Legislature, but in the rush of other legislation it failed to pass.

BIDS ASKED ON BRIDGE OVER GAVIOTA CREEK

SACRAMENTO, July 6. (AP)—Bids for the construction of a 192-foot bridge across Gaviota Creek, Santa Barbara county, and the grading of .26 of a mile of new highway for a line change in the Coast Highway were called today by the State Highway Commission. The change is being made to eliminate a dangerous curve at the approach to the present bridge.

A CLOSED IN SHASTA FOREST

Action Taken to Check New Fire Outbreak

Order Intended to Protect Cut-Over Land

Grass Blaze Under Control Northwest of Modesto

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6. (AP)—The United States Forest Service, fresh from an encounter with a half-dozen tremendous fires in California forests, took drastic action today to prevent any new outbreaks. The service picked out what it considered the most hazardous area, which is located in the Shasta National Forest, and closed it to all pleasure seekers and others, except those given special permits.

The closed area includes a vast region west of Davis Road and north of the Bartle-McCloud Road. The order is intended primarily to protect cutover land, which, in its present tinder-dry condition, constitutes a grave menace to the whole forest. The Medicine Lake and lava bed country is within the boundaries of the restricted area, but is exempted from the restrictions imposed.

No smoking will be permitted in the hazard area except at improved places of human habitation.

The last two big fires to be reported were in the Sequoia National Forest. One in the Kings River region had burned over 5000 acres before being placed under control today, while the other, sweeping along Tule River, had burned over 20,000 acres. This was surrounded today also, and will be out in a day or two, the Forest Service said. It is being fought by 278 men.

Lightning yesterday started nine fires in the Klamath National Forest, one of which destroyed the Seida bridge across the Klamath River. All of these fires were quickly controlled.

BACKFIRING HALTS FOOTHILLS GRASS BLAZE

MODESTO, July 6. (AP)—Sweeping rapidly southward over the foothills below Knights Ferry, about twenty miles northeast of here, a grass fire, believed to have started near the Stanislaus River, burned throughout the night, defying the efforts of 500 volunteer fire fighters and razing 12,000 acres of pasture land before it was controlled by back-fires started from the Warnerville Road today. Damage was estimated at $30,000.

McCARTNEY ASSERTS SUPPORT SURPRISE

Fair dealing as a deputy district-attorney with private lawyers and with the public over a period covering more than two decades has resulted in a flood of support to the candidacy of former State Senator H. S. G. McCartney, who is seeking election to the unexpired term of J. Perry Wood as judge of the Superior Court. "The unsolicited assistance which has been volunteered on my behalf has astonished me," says McCartney. "It merely goes to prove that squareness in one office is, after all, the best platform in the race for another."

Soul-Maddening Despair Follows a Midnight Adventure

LOOKING back now on those terrible events that will forever lie like a black cloud on her memory, Leonora feels that the first cause of all her trouble was a foolish desire for excitement and thrills.

"Yet," she says, "had I listened to my mother's wise counsel, I do not believe that dreadful tragedy would ever have happened to me. True, I was wild and reckless at fifteen; my companions were not my mother's choice; and while I would have shrunk with horror from anything really wrong, poor mother was certainly not to blame for what happened."

Leonora was sixteen when the chance came to fill a vacancy in the chorus of a musical comedy, under the watchful eye of her Aunt Enid, who was a member of the company.

"Oh, yes," Leonora says, "there were plenty of men hovering about—plenty of opportunities to get into mischief—had not Aunt Enid watched me so carefully. But now and then I managed to escape on some harmless adventure—with no intention of doing wrong—just a young girl's foolish hunger for thrills."

And then the handsome Carlos Mendosa entered her little world, and she took the first fatal step that was to lead to tragedy. He attended the show nightly—haunted the stage-door—sent her notes and flowers and invitations to dinner.

Leonora's aunt warned her against Mendosa, but she was deaf to these warnings. Her imagination was fired by the man's exotic beauty; his hypnotic gaze lured her uncannily; and one night, after her aunt was asleep, she slipped away from the hotel with another girl of the chorus, and met Mendosa at a little private dinner party given in her honor.

What happened to her during the hideous months that followed that midnight adventure—the hopeless, cruel, soul-maddening despair of it all—is a story that will rend your heart with pity—and fill you with rage that such things can be.

This real-life story, with only the names, dates and places changed, is told in full by Leonora, under the title, "Dark Secrets," in the August issue of True Story Magazine—one of the most gripping, most powerful, most helpful, stories that has ever appeared in the pages of this great publication.

"Clothed only in a nightgown and kimono, I slipped away from the Villa d'Amour; and keeping within the shadows, I reached the sea without being missed. But as I stood there, shuddering, I saw a man approaching. I shrank deeper into the shadow of the palm grove, when suddenly—"

"Life's Currents"—They told Ruth that her sweetheart was a crook—that he had come to the little village as a fugitive from justice. But when he took her in his arms and declared over and over again his love for her, she decided that the dark and sinister things said about her lover were lies. They planned to run away—and what happened in the days that followed is an object lesson that no girl can forget.

"Double-Crossed"—It all started so innocently—a gay party of friends—and the moment he found himself clasping the hand of the loveliest girl he had ever met. It was love at first sight for both. The weeks that followed were like a dream. Then came the awakening. A true life narrative fairly packed with heart-throbs.

"Bonds That Cannot Break"—When Sallie married Clark Evans, she loved him too intensely to be jealous of the wife he had recently divorced. But their three weeks' honeymoon was scarcely over before the ghost of her husband's first love reared its terrifying head. She was to learn that a hasty marriage may exact a penalty that few hearts are prepared to pay.

Uses True Story for Sermons On Life

Dear Sirs:

Long life and continually increased power to you in your efforts to keep before the reading public such a publication as True Story Magazine. I am pleased to learn concerning the Ministerial Board of Censors passing on the moral character of the stories you publish in this magazine; but my confidence in and admiration for Bernarr Macfadden is great enough to justify my saying—any publication bearing his name as the head of it is proof sufficient to my mind that it is of a high moral character, Board or no Board!

For many years I have been a careful reader of Physical Culture, and many of the richest blessings that have come into my life since the dawn of young manhood have found their start on the pages of that magazine. Now, in later years, comes True Story Magazine; and I find my vocabulary inadequate to express how manifold are the helps I have secured from its pages—helps for my pulpit work, lecture work, to say nothing about the scores of times it has helped me in aiding others as I strove to aid them in solving vexing problems in their lives. Very many of the sermons and lectures listed in the enclosed pamphlet can be traced to inspiration found in the many issues of True Story I have read.

Aside from the foregoing, I have two other reasons for endorsing the True Story, Mary Elizabeth and Frances Leda—my daughters. I unhesitatingly recommend it to clergymen, fathers, mothers, young people, and appeal in its behalf for a place in every church library. I will be happy to receive it regularly, and wish you Godspeed.

Facing the Truth

A fire is not put out by ignoring it. Neither are the evils of life to be corrected by turning our backs or closing our eyes.

The quickest and surest way to crush any evil is to face it squarely, take its measure carefully, and then to attack it fearlessly with every weapon at our command.

That is the policy that the great national crusader, Bernarr Macfadden, pursues month after month in True Story Magazine. As editor and publisher of this famous periodical, he long ago foresaw that the only way to fight the twin evils of indifference and ignorance was with the flaming weapon of Truth.

The result is that thousands look up to him in gratitude and praise for the splendidly fearless work he is doing. Thousands of people, old and young, have been instructed, guided, warned, helped, inspired by the powerful narratives from real life in True Story Magazine.

The August issue—now on all newsstands—contains fifteen heart-gripping features. And the cost is only a quarter. Get your copy today.

La Barba Risks Title Against Rivers Tonight

SPORTS
The Los Angeles Times
WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 7, 1926.

THE CHAMPION AND---

Holder Fidel La Barba, the flyweight king, is giving Mexican George Rivers the first crack at the title since he plucked it from the glove dance of Frankie Genaro last summer. The bout, a ten-rounder, to be staged at the Olympic Auditorium, is the first big fight of the summer season.

HIS CHALLENGER

Listed as the underdog George Rivers promises to make the most of his chance to win La Barba's world championship crown. He predicts La Barba will be the surprised party at the evening festivities. The fact that the champion is a big favorite is not worrying the little Mexican. He is confidence personified and belliges a speedy attack will win the fort.

EXPECT CROWD

Tonight's conflict, a sort of belated holiday fistic celebration, will be staged with the prospects of a capacity attendance of 18,500 and gate receipts estimated at $45,000.

Of this amount the curly-haired champion is guaranteed 47½ per cent. win, lose or draw. Out of the receipts after the 5 per cent State tax has been deducted La Barba will receive $9,597 if the gate runs to capacity. Rivers's end would then be $6375 figured on a 15 per cent basis. If the gate receipts run as high as anticipated the Olympic organization stands to make around $15,000—as much as the profit on two ordinary capacity shows.

The engagement between the ...ly-haired La Barba, who learned how to box in an educated manner... Rivers, who picked up his knowledge of fist slinging from the streets, smacks of the dramatic.

La Barba, who has yet to attain his majority, aspires to be a collegian. He graduated from Lincoln

DAVIS CUP NET STARS CHOSEN

Big Four of Last Year Are Again on Squad

Kinsey Also Rates Place on Defending Team

Holman, Chandler Among Leadig Players

NEW YORK, July 6. (AP)—The United States Lawn Tennis Association today announced selection of nine leading players as the "nucleus" of its defensive 1926 Davis Cup team, including the "big four" which successfully retained the trophy last year against the challenge of France.

HOWARD KINSEY

In addition to William T. Tilden, national champion; William M. Johnston, Vincent Richards and R. Norris Williams, the Davis Cup selection committee has recognized as eligible for consideration Howard O. Kinsey, Cranston Holman and Edward G. Chandler of California; Wray Brown of St. Louis and George Lott, Jr., of Chicago.

The candidates include seven American players who were ranked in the first ten last year. Chandler and Lott did not receive ranking in the nation's first flight of players, but the former, who last week retained his title as intercollegiate champion by defeating Holman in a four-set final at Philadelphia, has been playing brilliant tennis this season.

Explaining that additional players may be added to the list during the progress of the season, the selection committee announces that the nine candidates have been requested to play in at least two of the following five events:

The 19th inst.: Longwood invitation tournament; 24th inst., metropolitan turf court championships; August 2, Seabright invitation tournament; August 9, Davis Cup trials; August 13, East vs. West matches.

Williams has been appointed captain of the squad from which the defending team will be chosen on or before August 19.

HAROLD OSBORN RETAINS HIS DECATHLON TITLE

Trojan Quarter Mile Record Shattered

Passes Frieda by Over 400 Points

PHILADELPHIA, July 6. (AP)—The sensational attack upon time and distance begun in the battle for individual athletic titles was brought to a smashing climax today when world's relay records toppled four times in the concluding half of the National Senior A.A.U. track and field championships.

By far the most spectacular individual contribution to this climax was made by Lloyd Hahn, stout-limbed Boston A. A. runner, who raced his anchor half-mile in the astonishing time of 1m. 51 1-5s., a full second better than the world's record—to carry his club to a record-breaking victory in the two-mile relay.

Hahn, who won the national mile title yesterday on a watery track in 4m. 16s., finished like a sprinter to enable his team to register a new world's mark of 7m. 41 4-10s. and beat the crack New York A. C. quartet. This eclipsed the former world's record of 7m. 42s., set in 1925 by Georgetown University.

OLD CHAMPS

Incidentally, three members of that famous Georgetown quartet—Swinburne, Marsters and Holden—carried the New York A. C. colors today in a vain effort to beat the Boston fliers. Lenesa, the fourth New Yorker and anchor man, was ten yards back of Hahn at the tape. Hahn's mates were three college stars—Sansone of Colby; Welch of Boston College, and Martin of Dartmouth.

The quarter mile relay record was slashed three times altogether before the Newark Athletic Club's sprinters, in the final heat, lowered it to 41 4-10s. This eclipsed the listed world's record 42 4-10, set by the New York A. C. in 1921 as well as the American mark of 42 9-10 seconds, made last year by the University of Southern California.

The New York A. C. set the record-breaking pace by winning the first trial heat in 42s flat but this lasted only until the Newark quartet came flying through the second heat in 41 7-10s., then sliced another tenth of a second off this in beating the New Yorkers in the final by four yards.

The same Newark runners—Bowman, Harwood, Cumming and Clarke—registered a double victory when they won the half-mile relay in 1:27 8-10s, time which fell short of the world's record by only four-tenths of a second.

TWO OTHER MARKS

Championship records fell in the two remaining relays with the Illinois Athletic Club's runners accounting for both. They set a one-mile mark of 3:17 4-5 and a new four-mile standard in 17:34.

This four-mile victory, in which Ray Dodge outran his New York A.C. rival, Willie Goodwin, in the final leg, enabled the Illinois Athletic Club to tie the New Yorks in the two-day team battle for points. Each finished with forty-five points, but an official ruling gives the team trophy to the Illinois A.C. for the coming year because it tallied the most first places, five as compared with only three for the New Yorkers.

The New York A. C. lost all five of the club relay titles it won last year. hTe best the Mercury footers could do was finish second in the quarter-mile, two-mile and four-mile races and third in the one-mile and half-mile events.

In addition to the club relays, five races for district A. A. U. associations were held, with the Metropolitan Association scoring walk-overs in the mile, two-mile and four-mile events, winning the quarter-mile race from the Niagara Association and los-

HAROLD OSBORN

PHILADELPHIA, July 6. (AP)—Finishing the last three events with his left leg bound in tape, due to a muscle strain, Harold M. Osborn, blonde-haired star of the Illinois Athletic Club, retained his title as national all-around athletic champion today after a strenuous all-day battle with ten opponents.

Osborn set the pace from start to finish in the ten-event program, making up the decathlon, which shared the spotlight with the relays in the closing day of the national senior A.A.U. track and fiel dchampionships at the Municipal Stadium. In approximately eight hours of steady competition he amassed a total of 7187.832 points, nearly 400 more than his nearest rival and clubmate, Harry Frieda, who finished with a score of 6820.346.

Clifford Hoffman of the Olympic Club, San Francisco, finished third and prevented a clean sweep for the four Illinois A.A.C. entrants. These pupils of Johnny Behr, I.A.C. coach, romped off with four of the first five places, Pete Wallace and Paul Jones taking fourth and fifth places to supplement the performances of Osborn and Frieda.

WINS ONE EVENT

Osborn won first place in only one event, the high jump, but finished second in three others, the javelin, 110-meter hurdles and the broad jump, besides scoring well up in all others except the 1500 meter run, in which he was seventh. He had the title clinched, however, in this race, the final event of the day, and took no chances of further straining his leg, which had an old injury aggravated in the pole vault.

Frieda also captured only one event, the javelin, but there were four double-winners among the contestants. Wallace took the 100-meter dash and hurdles, Jones won the broad jump and pole vault, Hoffman, the shot put and discus, while Charley Rogers, Pennsylvania football star, led the field in the 400-meter and 1500-meter runs.

Decathlon records were established in two events, Hoffman putting the shot 45ft., 1½in. and Jones pole-vaulting 12ft., 6in. to set new standards for all-around competition.

TWO DROP OUT

Only two of the original eleven starters failed to finish the full program. Tony Plansky dropped out after fouling and failing to score in the shot put, a misfortune which put him out of the running. Harrison Thomason of Oxford University, former Princeton star, withdrew after competing in nine events and being hopelessly distanced.

McTIGUE MAKES BID FOR BERLENBACH GO

NEW YORK, July 6. (AP)—Mike McTigue today took advantage of the favorable impression he made in decisively outpointing Johnny Risko of Cleveland here last week by filing a light-heavyweight challenge against Paul Berlenbach, to whom he lost the crown a year ago.

The State Athletic Commission deferred action pending the outcome of Berlenbach's title battle next week with Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, Ct.

VITT, JOHNSON SET DOWN

Two Coast League Pilots Suspended for Monday Arguments; Withhold Ernie's Sentence

Harry Williams, president of the Pacific Coast Baseball League, yesterday announced the suspension of Oscar Vitt and Ernie Johnson, managers respectively of the Hollywood and Portland clubs. The suspensions followed arguments with umpires in Monday's games in the North.

The first game at Portland was the scene of Vitt's trouble. Playing at third he interfered with Johnson, who was rounding the bag in an attempt to score, according to the umpire's report to Williams. Johnson fell when Vitt interfered and Umpire Shannon sent him in to the plate with a run. Vitt argued and in the process stepped on the ump's shoes with his spikes, according to the report.

HARRY A. WILLIAMS

In the afterpiece Johnson pulled a button off from the ump's coat and shoved him, not gently, while in an argument.

PORTLAND (Or.) July 6. (AP)—Pending investigation of President Turner's official protest of Monday afternoon's game between Portland and Hollywood, President Williams of the Pacific Coast League, although he has declared Manager Ernie Johnson of the Beavers suspended for the alleged attack upon Umpire Ryan has withheld the suspension of Johnson until he can investigate the circumstances of the incident.

Johnson will therefore play in today's game against the San Francisco Mission team.

DEMPSEY MOVES TO HIGHEST RING CAMP

COLORADO SPRINGS (Colo.) Jul. 6. (AP)—Probably the highest training quarters ever selected by a champion will be used by Jack Dempsey, the heavyweight champion, who next week will move his training camp to the summit of Cheyenne Mountain, he announced here today. The new quarters overlook Colorado Springs, and are 9000 feet above sea level.

KAPLAN DROPS FEATHER TITLE

Can No Longer Make Weight for Division

Moves Up into Lightweight Class Now

Ace Hudkins to be First of His Opponents

MERIDEN (Ct.) July 6. (AP)—Louis (Did) Kaplan today relinquished his world's featherweight championship effective immediately. Inability to make the class limit of 126 pounds was given by Kaplan as the reason for his action.

KID KAPLAN

The crown will be returned to the New York Boxing Commission, which sponsored the elimination tournament that resulted in Kaplan fighting his way to the top.

The announcement follows Kaplan's victory over Bobby Garcia in a title bout at Hartford, Conn., a little more than a week ago.

Kaplan's championship campaign for the summer included title matches with Red Chapman of Chelsea, Mass., on July 27 at the Queensboro Stadium in Long Island City and a probable championship bout with Benny Bass, Philadelphia contender, at Philadelphia on Labor Day. Kaplan's bout with Chapman is automatically cancelled by the champion's abdication.

Manager Denny McMahon said tonight that Kaplan would seek championship laurels in the lightweight division. This campaign is expected to get under way early in September with a bout with Ace Hudkins, Nebraska "Wildcat" and conqueror of Ruby Goldstein. The match probably will be staged in a New York ball park.

If Kaplan is successful in his bout with Hudkins, he will seek a title bout with Sammy Mandell, it was made known by his manager tonight.

Kaplan's action was taken from a standpoint of health. While he worked himself down to 126 pounds for his featherweight title bout with Bobby Garcia at Hartford, further attempts to scale down to the featherweight figure might prove disastrous to the Meriden boxer physically, in the opinion of manager McMahon.

WHO IS TO FOLLOW

NEW YORK, July 6. (AP)—Mandell's (Kid) Kaplan's withdrawal as featherweight boxing champion of the world leaves a vacancy that may be hard to fill.

Another championship tournament such as took place a year ago last winter is likely to be the outcome and the eligibles are numerous. Babe Herman of California, Bobby Garcia of Camp Holabird, Md., Danny Kramer of Philadelphia, Jose Lombardo of Panama, Red Chapman of Boston, Benny Bass of Philadelphia, and Mike Dundee of Rock Island, Ill., are among the prominent candidates.

Golf Stars in Columbus for American Open

COLUMBUS (Ohio.) July 6. (AP)—Rain today drenched the Scioto Country Club course, where the battle for the national open golf championship will start Thursday, causing postponement of the annual amateur-pro best-ball matches and permitting only haphazard practice.

BOBBY JONES

The amateur-pro event will be held tomorrow. Bobby Jones, who arrived today, is paired with Watts Gunn, the other great Atlanta amateur, to go out against Walter Hagen and Willie MacFarlane, the present open title holder.

Virtually all representatives in the Blue Book of American golfdom were here tonight, ready for the opening of the championship, in which 153 will start. Hotels are crowded with golfers and golf fans from Coast to Coast, and everything is in readiness for the smack of the first ball.

Harrison Johnson, St. Paul amateur, got in eighteen holes before the rain started. He went around in 72, par golf.

LEAVING RING, SAMMY FORGETS OTHER RING

CHICAGO, July 6. (AP)—Sammy Mandell was so excited in winning the lightweight championship from Rocky Kansas here Saturday that he forgot to call for the wedding ring purchased for his bride for their marriage in Rockford tonight.

Eddie Kane, Mandell's manager, received a hurried call from the new title-holder today to pick up the ring and take the first train for Rockford.

LOCAL GOLF YOUNGSTERS OPEN TITLE PLAY TODAY

Pendergrass, Martin Favored in Field of More Than 50 Youths in Tourney at Hillcrest

BY BILL WISE

Lee Pendergrass, Husky Wilshire youngster, present title-holder and David Martin, of Rio Hondo, most dangerous challenger, will lead the field of more than fifty local youths, teeing off in the eighteen-hole qualifying play of the Southern California junior championship, at the Hillcrest club, this morning.

Norman Macbeth, Jr., also of Wilshire, and Dick Russell, a Rio Hondo clubmate of Martin's, will follow in the next two-some, and if the next down-State junior champ is not included in the above quartet it seems a golfing certainty that either Julian Cahn or Laddie Hellman, Hillcrest, or Charles Seaver the Los Angeles club will be in the finals of the greatest championship the younsters have ever enjoyed.

LEE PENDERGRASS

Pendergrass scored a fine 74 to win the one-day medal event at San Gabriel last year, finishing under David Martin, Allen Moser and other stars, and is playing better golf today than he did one year ago. Martin has improved wonderfully, leads the field in competitive tourney experience and should finish very near the top this year. Norman Macbeth, Jr., one of the finest juniors in the State, can also be depended upon to make a fine showing in the event.

Both Julian Cahn and Laddie Hellman play their home course in great style and a victory by either one of them would not be surprising, while there are at least six more youngsters who have a great chance at the junior title.

Hillcrest is a wonderful test of enjoyable golf. The course is always immaculately groomed and will be in fine shape for the play opening today. Scoring should be very good. Club officials have arranged a special program for the visiting juniors, who will play all matches, starting tomorrow, in the forenoon. Finals will be played Saturday.

In the qualifying play today scratch to twelve handicap entrants must make the championship flight; thirteen to eighteen, second flight; nineteen to thirty, third flight. The event is open to all sons of members belonging to clubs affiliated with

LA BARBA AND RIVERS BATTLE

High School in this city with highest honor marks. He was president of his class, a glee-club member, yell leader, etc.

He intends to matriculate at Stanford University. He is pursuing the manly art of leather-pushing merely as a means to an end. He has made probably $40,000 since he won the flyweight title from Genaro.

OFF THE STREETS

Rivers, on the other hand, is graduate of the streets, but a mild-mannered, gentlemanly little fellow.

Rivers, on the other hand, is a home in San Francisco with his ring earnings.

While La Barba, because he wears the crown and because of his rugged, sturdy constitution and because he has never been defeated by a bona fide flyweight, either in the amateur or professional ranks, has been installed as a 10-6 favorite this fact has not worried either Rivers or his manager, Charlie McDonald.

They believe that La Barba is due for a real surprise. McDonald points out that Rivers has never trained for a fight as he has conditioned himself for the combat with La Barba. Contrary to general opinion at the time the match was consummated, Rivers has made the weight easily and his speed has increased correspondingly.

BATTLE OF LEFTS

It will be a battle of left hands. Both boys rely on their lead hand to do the greatest damage. However, the consensus of opinion is that La Barba has more drive to his blows and he is apt to wear Rivers down with a withering attack to the body.

While the champion seldom uses his right hand he has a real wallop in it, and after inflicting body punishment with his left he is very apt to switch suddenly and attack with the right hand.

He is more versatile, brainier and stronger than the challenger, and for these reasons the writer believes he should retain his title tonight although upsets of other champions this year indicate anything can happen.

La Barba and Rivers weigh in at the Hollywood offices of Chairman Seth Strelinger of the Boxing Commission at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Both have $2000 forfeit money posted they will make the required 112 pounds. Each is satisfied with his condition.

Lieut. Duke Kenworthy will referee.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER, BILL HENRY

HAVING been reliably informed by several gentlemen who claim to know what they're talking about, that Mr. Fidel La Barba is about to be knocked loose from his world's flyweight championship tonight at the Olympic Auditorium, we hasten to assure Mr. La Barba that we regard this report as baseless and without foundation of fact. While Mr. Georgie Rivers has succeeded in advancing to his present exalted position as chief challenger for the title without our having laid an observing eye upon him, we do not hesitate to state that if Mr. Rivers succeeds in his ambition of beating Mr. La Barba tonight the following people will be surprised for a certainty: (1) Mr. F. La Barba; (2) Mr. George Blake, and (3) Mr. Bill Henry. We wouldn't be at all surprised if the name of Mr. Georgie Rivers couldn't be added to that list, also.

Matrimony may have ruined some athletic careers, but offhand we'll name a couple of whom the opposite is true, viz: Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Chapin, Jr., tennis players by profession. Before becoming officially hitched both Alfred himself and his blushing bride, Miss Charlotte Hosmer, were possessed of much promise and not too much consistency. Since discovering for sure that the statement to the effect, that two can live as cheaply as one is a baseless and a dastardly lie, Mr. and Mrs. Chapin have been engaged in beating everybody in sight by way of revenge, and both of them promise to finish high in the first ten this year.

There certainly is little or no reason for doubting that Charles Borah can pick 'em up and lay 'em down with extreme rapidity. Those who were previously inclined to doubt can now go way back and sit down. For a freshman to go East on a sloppy track and win the 100 from such a field as he faced on Monday in 9.8s., and then finish a whisker back of the winner in the furlong in equally good time is a feat that has been duplicated by very few men, and firmly establishes the fact that the Trojans have another great sprinter in their camp.

Incidentally the Trojans ought to erect some kind of a memorial for Leighton Dye and Keany Grumbles, who have been the outstanding hurdlers of the country for two seasons, despite occasional defeats. Without a doubt the experience gained in previous big meets aided them in winning at Philadelphia, and each has certainly rounded out a collegiate career in a proverbial blaze of glory.

La Jolla Net Play Next on the Calendar

After the completion of the annual Pacific Coast tennis championships, the tennis fans of the Southern and Northern sections of California are centering their attentions on the Tenth annual La Jolla tournament which is slated to swing under way on the La Jolla playgrounds the 13th inst. Six events have been placed on the program for the visiting players, three in the open division and three in the junior events.

From the huge number of early entries pouring into the office of manager Archel C. Talbot, it looks as if the tournament would attract the greatest entry list in past years. Bibbe Harold Godshall, Ralph Sindorf, Edward Berry, Eugene Warren and several other leading senior racketers are tied up in business affairs, the open men's singles and double events will not provide much competition. The open women's singles tourney will contain the name of Mrs. William Henry, the best of the local Southland women who has reigned in these parts for some years. To pit against this Los Angeles star, Pasadena will enter Miss Louise McFarland, fifth on the women's ranking list and one of the most promising juniors developed by the Crown city. Miss Peggy James, city junior champion last year, will form another formidable rival for the two entrants while Miss Mary Barbara Taylor, Miss Jessie Grieves and other feminine wizards will also compete.

BOONE TOPS BATTERS FOURTH WEEK IN ROW; ANGELS LEAD

Ike Boone of the Mission club holds the lead in the Coast League batting averages for the fourth succesdive week. His average is .396, including games of Monday, the 5th inst. Art Griggs of Seattle is back in second place with a mark of .389. "Buzz" Arlett of Oakland is third with .374. Earl Averill and Smead Jolley of San Francisco follow with marks of .363 and .362.

Arthur Weis has taken the lead among the Los Angeles heavy hitters with .357. Art Jahn is hitting .351; Arnold Statz, .333, and Frank Brazill, .324.

"Lefty" O'Doul, with a mark of .320, is the lone heavy sticker among the Hollywood Stars, who play the Angels at Wrigley Field this week.

The Angels top all clubs in the batting averages with .289. The team is second in runs scored, with 426, just one run behind Seattle.

Ike Boone leads in runs scored with 75, and in base hits with 133. Statz is second in runs scored, with 69, and tied with Callaghan of Seattle for second honors in safe hits, each with 129.

Boone added one homer to his record last week and still leads with 19 for the season. Statz is the leading three-base hitter, with 10, while John Kerr of Hollywood is the leading base stealer with 20.

MEL KANELEY ENTERS AUTO RACES AT ASCOT

Mel Kanaley, who set a new world's record at Banning Monday for dirt-tracks of half-mile size by turning a lap in 0:26 4-5, is threatening to shatter De Palma's track record of 0:30 at Ascot and at the same time wrest the honors of the local arena from Ted Simpson and his Chrysler special when the first of the night races get under way next Saturday night.

Kanaley's walk-away at Banning not only brought a Los Angeles driver into the spotlight, but put an entirely new aspect on the Ascot situation where Simpson has held the czar's scepter ever since he became wedded to his Chrysler.

SILVER GO AMBITION OF ROSEN

Meets Hoppe in Main Bout at Hollywood Arena Friday Night

Charley Rosen is pleading with his manager Eddie Sears to let him fight Jack Silver, who beat Musky Callahan in San Francisco last Monday. Sears is also manager of Callahan.

It is Rosen who is fighting Dick Hoppe in the main event at the Hollywood American Legion stadium Friday night. Charley in his two starts in Los Angeles has made such a favorable impression that he is among the ranking California lightweights.

There is a possibility of a Rosen-Silver bout. First Rosen must beat Dick Hoppe at Hollywood. If Hoppe comes out victorious there would be no great demand for the fight with Silver. Rosen and Callahan are in the same stable.

The main event isn't the whole show at the Legion stadium. The semi-windup will be between two sockers, Jack Roper and Ernie Owens. Owens will have the edge being considered considerable smarter than rough Roper.

Jackie Carr is back in the harness after a long layoff. Charley McDonald has great hopes that it will not be long before he has the Glendale youngster in the main event class. Georgie Rivers started in the preliminary ranks at the Legion stadium. So did Callahan.

GLEASON TO TACKLE BROWN ON SATURDAY

A packed house saw Angel De la Cruz, Filipino, kayo Joe Rickey at the Main-street Athletic Club last Saturday night, and another packed house is expected to see Eddie Gleason and Young Brown step six rounds this Saturday night. Gleason is a great lightweight prospect on the Coast. He has had but three pro bouts and has won all handily. His close decision over Grunan stamps him as a real prospect. Brown, who is known as the "Mexican windmill," beat Louis Garcia and Young Sam Langford since his recent return from Australia. Brown should be back at the top of the lightweight heap if he keeps up his present pace. The rugged Mexican looks like his old self in his gym workouts.

The best semi-wind-up signed to date in the Main-street arena is carded for this week. Joe Burns and Joe Pimenthal are down for the four-round struggle. Burns trimmed Ernie Goozeman in San Diego last Friday, while Pimenthal beat Al Neff at Vernon in the last show. Five other good preliminaries are also arranged for the weekly mill.

Wadhams Bidding for Return Go Between C and Silver in Local Arena

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6. (AP)—Jack Silver, San Francisco weight who punched himself into a prominent place on the pugilistic fame yesterday by trouncing Musky Callahan, erstwhile battler, today began the business of sorting over numerous offers for his wares.

Chief among propositions received was an offer from Hayden Wadhams, Vernon matchmaker, who would rematch Silver and Callahan for a ten-round bout in the Southern California arena. Wadhams, who watched Silver hand Callahan a ten-round lacing yesterday

EDISON PROFITS MOUNT IN YEAR

Southern California Company Issues Report

Increase of 88 Per Cent Over 1925 Registered

Gross Figures for May, 1926, Also Sharply Up

Net earnings of the Southern California Edison Company for the twelve months ended May 31, last, before depreciation, amounted to $10,859,614.13, a substantial increase of 88 per cent over the corresponding period of 1925. The balance for the twelve months ending in May of last year was $5,761,983.52, according to the statement released yesterday.

For May of this year, a decrease of 9 per cent in the balance before depreciation is shown, chiefly because of the late rains this year. Earnings from power, however, will equalize the slight decrease in May through the subsequent months, principally June, July, August and September, when earnings usually run the highest in reflection of the irrigation pumping demand. Normal rains this season assure a plentiful supply of water in the mountains from which to manufacture the electric energy.

Gross earnings in May totaled $2,180,378.60, an increase of 4 per cent over the same month of last year. An increase of 16 per cent in expenses and taxes brought net income down to $1,461,886.7%, or a gain of 1 per cent over the net for May of 1925. After fixed charges, the balance before depreciation was $890,150.33, a decline of 9 per cent.

In the twelve months' period ended in May, gross totaled $23,741,307.64, representing a gain of 16 per cent over the comparative period of 1925. Expenses and taxes dropped 25 per cent, resulting in an increase of 60 per cent in net income. After fixed charges, the balance totaled $10,859,-614.13, or a gain of 88 per cent.

The statement for the twelve months follows:

	1926	1925	Increase* or Decrease

CALPET RUMOR OUT AGAIN

Presence of Vinmont in New York Lends Support to Conjectures; Barnsdall Logical Choice

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Around the wire houses they are again touting California Petroleum as the next Pacific Coast oil company to figure in a merger deal. Sales yesterday around 35, while representing only a minor advance, were watched with interest by the traders, and some of them openly predicted that an announcement will be forthcoming in a few days concerning an important deal.

Rumblings of an impending deal were heard a few weeks ago, but no one was able to assign an authentic source for the indefinite rumors in circulation. At the offices of the California Petroleum Corporation the requisite confirmation was not given, nor was there much in the action of the stock market to corroborate the stories. Yesterday, however, developements took a new turn.

NO CONFIRMATION

Executives of the company declined to comment on the merger stories, and Jacques Vinmont, chairman of the executive committee, it was understood, is in New York. To the stock market, the presence of the executive head of the company in Wall street is virtual confirmation of merger conversations, for it is recalled that Mr. Vinmont has handled all of California Petroleum negotiations along this line, and has the reputation of more than ordinary skill in these matters. When the deal with the Texas Company was under discussion several months ago, Mr. Vinmont spent some time in New York in working on the deal.

If negotiations with another oil company are actually under way, it is something else again to name the other principal in the deal. United Oil, Pan Western and Standard Oil of New Jersey have been mentioned frequently, and once in a while California Petroleum is linked with Union Oil in merger rumors. Probably the best possibility, however, is the Barnsdall Corporation, which is affiliated with Blair & Co., Inc., the bankers who also represent California Petroleum.

FOLLOWS PRECEDENT

Aside from the banking affiliation, there is another logical reason to support a combination of California Petroleum and Barnsdall. The union of these companies is exactly along the same geographical line followed by the other large merger deals of recent completion, all of which, with the exceptions of Standard Oil and Pacific Oil, have allied Pacific Coast companies with eastern companies. Barnsdall is a growing midcontinent organization, with about a daily production of 18,000 barrels and a sizable refining and marketing system.

Moreover, there is the recognized ambition of Jacques Vinmont and his associates to build California Petroleum into the largest, or one of the largest, independent companies on the Coast. If any deal is made, the odds are heavily in favor of California Petroleum emerging as the dominant company. The Texas Company negotiations fell through, it is understood, because California Petroleum was unable to run the party.

Because of this attitude, the stories suggesting Union Oil and Standard of New Jersey are not given a great deal of credence, unless the position of California Petroleum has changed. Nevertheless, there is a possibility that a group of bankers is actually working on the nation-wide consolidation so frequently rumored a few weeks ago, which was to include Union Oil. Possibly the California Petroleum crowd is powerful enough to swing the banking support necessary to buy control of Union Oil, and form a new company with the California Petroleum management in the dominant position.

BUOYANCY EXHIBITED IN OIL LIST

California Petroleum is Leader; Julian Preferred is Reactionary

Major oils, led by California Petroleum, Shell Union and Union Oil, exhibited strong indications of good buying in yesterday's market on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. Some of the other oils, particularly the Julian issues, were reactionary and finished the day at prices below those of last week.

On merger conjectures, California Petroleum sold up to a final price of 35, a gain over the close of last week of 7-8 of a point. Shell Union appeared on the tape for the first sale at 28 and finished at that price, up ½ point. Opening at 54, Union Oil sold up to a finish at 54½, a net advance of 3-8 of a point. Union Oil Associates fell from a high for the day of 54½ to a final price of 53 7-8, a net gain of 1-8 of a point.

At 62 1-4, Standard of California was unable to hold all of its advance of last week, and dropped 1-4 to 62 1-4. Julian Petroleum preferred, despite the merger announcements, eased off from an opening of 16 5-8 to a final price of 15, representing a drop of 1½ points from last week. The common lost 1-8.

After initial sales of 3.20, Los Angeles Investment sold off to 3.17 at the close. Bancitaly Corporation, at 79½, was up 1-8 of a point. Edison common was unchanged at 31 1-4.

Mining shares were quiet.

NATIONAL CITY FORGES AHEAD

Resources at End of June Show Increase of $171,035,045

NEW YORK, July 6. (AP)—Resources and deposits of the National City Bank of New York reached a new high record at the end of June, strengthening its position as the country's largest bank. Total resources as of June 30 were $1,281,494,453, an increase of $171,035,045 over the figures reported on April 12, the date of the previous bank call.

Deposits of $963,554,075 represented a gain of $167,810,561.

LAND TRUST ISSUE DUE OUT TODAY

Offering of $5,00,000 on Chicago Bankers' Building Valued at $13,500,000

Land trust certificates representing 5000 equal undivided parts of the equitable ownership of the premises in the financial district of Chicago on which the Bankers' Building will be erected, will be offered today by a syndicate headed by Merrill, Lynch & Co. and Blyth, Whitter & Co. The certificates are priced at $1000 per 1-5000th part, to yield 5½ per cent. The total issue amounts to $5,000,000.

Within the next week or so another large issue is expected on the market, emanating from Central Europe. It will consist of $3,000,000 Mannheim and Palatinate Electric Companies 7 per cent fifteen-year sinking-fund gold bonds, offered by a syndicate composed of A. G. Becker & Co., W. A. Harriman & Co., Inc., and Marshall Field, Glore, Ward & Co.

The land trust certificates, which will go on sale today, represent an undivided interest in the fee simple title to approximately 22,250 square feet of land. The total street frontage of the property amounts to 400 feet, approximately 178 feet on South Clark street, 125 feet on West Adams street and 125 feet on the extension of Quincy street. The land is to be leased for a period of ninety-nine years to the Adams Clark Building Corporation, which will operate the Bankers' Building. The building will be a forty-one story structure with basement and sub-basement.

Land on which the building will stand has been appraised at more than $6,500,000, while the land and building together have been appraised at more than $13,500,000. Net earnings of the building upon completion and under normal occupancy have been estimated at approximately three and one-half times the amount required to pay the rental to be distributed to the land trust certificate holders.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, July 6. (Exclusive)—Cotton futures opened quiet today, generally at net losses of about 10 points. In the first hour's trading there was no more than a 5-point trading range. The government report has been forgotten, even though it did indicate a record acreage and a yield probably far above the possible world requirements for the coming year.

The trade apparently realizes that at this early stage of the season crop estimates are of little value. This is particularly true this year, because wevils are more numerous than for the last two years and the cotton hoppers have appeared in sixty-five counties in the cotton belt doing heavy local damage.

The weather over the week-end was generally favorable for the growing crops, but there were official forecasts of rains in every cotton State. Rains and cloudy weather are not to be desired at any place in the belt, as hot, dry weather will help check wevils and insects, whereas cloudy rainy weather will increase the number of active insects. The eastern belt is getting entirely too much rain at present.

Trade conditions do not materially change. There is virtually no demand for the actual and the trade does not expect any improvement for the next sixty days, or until something definite can be ascertained as regards the quality and size of the new crop.

In Lancashire spinners in the American section have received a copy of a plan of the spinners in the Bolton section suggesting the adoption of an agreement whereby the price of yarns could be fixed to prevent ruinous competition. Should the vote be in favor of such a plan, it is proposed to make mills pay a penalty.

Eastern sections for California citrus found a firmer market today generally, with the exception of New York and St. Louis, where prices were a bit lower, although demand was good.

PHILADELPHIA—Sixteen cars oranges sold. Market stronger oranges.

Oranges of 138s and larger continued to command a premium, though not as large, in all sections, while the loss in 252s were approximately at a level. Lemons, according to reports of the distributors, found a dull and spotty market generally.

CHEAP COTTON HELD BOON

Lower Prices Needed to Revive Textile Industry; Bumper Crop Not Undesirable in Economic View

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT

[Copyright, 1926, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, July 6.—A cotton crop of 15,683,000 bales such as now seems likely would swell materially the amount of the raw material carried into the new year, but the decline in prices that followed the report does not mean that a bumper output is undesirable from the standpoint of our general prosperity.

A crop of these proportions doubtless would hold the commodity for a time in the vicinity of 20 cents a pound, which is none too favorable a price for the planter and such news pleases neither the agricultural regions of the South nor traders for the rise in the market. Probably the cotton grower is in a better position to take a moderate price for his product this year than the farmer of any other section, however, and in so doing stands to improve his own economic position in the long run more, perhaps, than through a short crop and a big price.

It so happens that cheap cotton is precisely what the cotton goods industry needs just now to lift it up to a plane on which it can operate profitably and what could be more desired by the cotton growers than a rejuvenation of the industry that consumes his raw material?

Throughout 1922, 1923 and 1924, raw cotton stood on a higher price level relatively than cotton goods, which meant that the maker of cotton goods operated at a serious handicap. Unless the manufacturer can buy cotton at a basis that will permit him to make it up into goods for sale at a profit, he cannot do business. In recent years these manufacturers were obliged to pay dearly for their raw material, but consumers were not willing to pay as much more for the manufactured goods as the manufacturer was obliged to pay for the fibre.

Increased and severe competition for the cotton goods industry from the introduction of silks and rayon and the tendency of women to wear shorter dresses and fewer cotton materials only add to the difficulty.

No more pleasing turn of affairs on the cotton industry has occurred than the move recently of numerous mills in New England in the South jointly to study their problem. Commentators have offered many explanations for the difficulties that have arisen. They have pointed to the increased capacity that was provided during the war, to the rise of the southern mills and to the change in styles for women.

All of these bear upon the matter, but much suffering could have been avoided long ago if the industry had adopted the broad view that finally has prevailed among the leaders and informed itself of fundamental movements affecting the supply and demand of their product.

FRENCH TRADE GAINS

NEW YORK, July 6. (AP)—France's foreign trade in May increased in value 2,212,277,000 francs compared with May last year, it is shown by official statistics received by the Bankers Trust Company of New York. Imports rose from 2,904,700,000 francs to 4,290,408,000 francs and exports from 3,854,027,000 francs to 4,460,-396,000 francs.

Looking Ahead

MANY home owners are carrying short-term loans at 7% or 8% interest. Many others, imbued with a spirit of thrift, are carrying fifteen-year loans at 6½% (with no renewal costs) and paying them off in easy semi-annual instalments.

This is the form of loan we recommend to property owners who desire to look ahead to the day when they can own their homes free and clear of all encumbrance.

a net gain of 2 1-8 points. Most of the other motors showed only small net changes. Mack Trucks closing 3-4 higher at 118 3-4 after having touched 120 3-8.

Independent steel shares displayed a strong undertone with buying influenced by the statement of President Campbell of Youngstown Sheet and Tube that the steel business is better than had been hoped for and that indications point to a good fall. Youngstown closed 3 points higher at 69 and Bethlehem, Republic, Sloss-Sheffield and Crucible sold a point or so higher. Special strength also developed in U. S. Cast Iron Pipe, which crossed 210 for a net gain of more than 7 points.

Interborough Rapid Transit closed nearly 3 points higher at 42 7-8, despite the strike of some of its employees. Mathieson Alkali jumped 8¼ points to 86, but Allied Chemical dropped over a point on profit-taking. Good buying also was noted in a number of specialties. Burns Brothers issues continued their advance on reports of large current earnings and net gains of 2 points or more were recorded by Continental Can, Du Pont and Montana Power. Oils started upward toward the close under the leadership of Pan-American B and Mariand.

RAILS LOWER

Profit-taking sales brought about recessions of a point or more in such issues as Chesapeake and Ohio, New York Central, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Brooklyn Union Gas, Detroit Edison, Standard Milling and Reid Ice Cream.

A sharp rally in wheat featured the commodities markets, the July option closing over 2c higher at $1.36 7-8. Cotton advanced about 18 to 23 points on reports of unfavorable weather and boll weevil damage. Raw sugar was unchanged, but futures were slightly firmer. Coffee futures advanced 25 to 33 points in sympathy with a firmer spot market.

Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Foreign exchanges were heavy. Demand sterling ruled 1-16 cent lower around 4.85 15-16 and French francs were again quoted under 2.70 cents. Belgian francs recovered about half of their extreme loss, closing around 2.58 cents.

Wheat Futures Sharply Up on Bullish Mart

CHICAGO, July 6. (Exclusive)—Sensationally bad crop reports from the American Northwest, with a decidedly strong Minneapolis market, kept wheat values on the upgrade the greater part of the day, and while the finish was on a fair reaction, due to profit-taking, the close showed net gains of 1¼@1½c, with July at 1.34⅝@1.35, September 1.36⅝@1.36¾, and December 1.39⅝@1.40. July touched 1.38 on the bulge and September 1.37¼. Selling against offers and profit-taking checked the upturn. Minneapolis gained 3¼@3½c, with July leading, mills taking both that delivery and the September. Kansas City gained 2⅝@2½c and Winnipeg 1⅝@1¾c, as compared with Friday.

Strength in wheat had considerable influence on coarse grains, with corn ¾@1¼c higher, July finished at 69@69¼, September 72@72¼ and December 73⅛@73⅝. Oats were ¼@⅝c higher, with July 37¼ and September 39½. Rye advanced 1¾@2⅛, with July 93¼ and September 90⅝@90¾.

Estimates on the spring wheat crop in the three Northwestern States are being steadily reduced as the result of continued hot and dry weather, and Minneapolis traders, who were out in the country over the holidays, returned with a very poor opinion of the prospective yield. Buying by mills and local traders was responsible for the sensational upturn in that market. Kluever estimates that North Dakota will not raise over 85,000,000 bushels at a maximum and South Dakota around 16,000,000 bushels. Indicated yield of the three States is around 115,000,000 bushels, against 170,000,000 bushels harvested last year.

Immense receipts of new winter wheat in the Southwest failed to have any effect on the markets, as hedging pressure was light. Including Kansas City, Wichita, Hutchinson and other southwestern points, receipts amounted to 600 cars. Premiums at Kansas City declined 1¼@2c, with free buying by mills on the break. Foreign crop news was construed as decidedly bullish, and Liverpool closed ¼@¾d higher, as compared with Friday. Supplies on ocean passage decreased nearly 4,000,000 bushels, and are 49,115,000 bushels, against 42,176,000 bushels last year. Visible supply increased 1,320,000 bushels, and is 12,325,000 bushels, against 26,670,000 bushels last year. Export demand was brisk, with sales estimated at around 1,200,000 bushels since Friday.

Reports that corn was firing as the result of hot and dry weather were received from Oklahoma, the first damage claim of the season, combined with the strength in wheat, led to short covering in corn and a higher range. Cash interests bought July and sold September at 7c difference. A decrease of 1,208,000 bushels in the visible supply brought the total down to 30,332,000 bushels, against 12,894,000 bushels last year. Trade in oats was light, and with other grains strong, an advance in prices was easily attained.

More interest was taken in rye as the result of decidedly unfavorable crop reports from the Northwest and from abroad, and prices advanced rapidly. Cash interests were good buyers, and charters were for 250,000 bushels to Montreal. The seaboard reported a good foreign demand, with sales of 100,000 to 200,000 bushels.

Provisions had a weak undertone and values receded with moderate pressure and about all about the inside for the day, with net losses on lard of 20@25c, short ribs 10c and bellies 17½c. Hogs values held well, but the trade was rather heavy.

Visible supply increased 1,320,000 bushels, and is 12,325,000 bushels, against 26,670,000 bushels last year. Export demand was brisk, with sales estimated at around 1,200,000 bushels since Friday.

Reports that corn was firing as the result of hot and dry weather were received from Oklahoma, the first damage claim of the season, combined with the strength in wheat, led to short covering in corn and a higher range. Cash interests bought July and sold September at 7c difference. A decrease of 1,208,000 bushels in the visible supply brought the total down to 30,332,000 bushels, against 12,894,000 bushels last year. Trade in oats was light, and with other grains strong, an advance in prices was easily attained.

More interest was taken in rye as the result of decidedly unfavorable crop reports from the Northwest and from abroad, and prices advanced rapidly. Cash interests were good buyers, and charters were for 250,000 bushels to Montreal. The seaboard reported a good foreign demand, with sales of 100,000 to 200,000 bushels.

Provisions had a weak undertone and values receded with moderate pressure and about all about the inside for the day, with net losses on lard of 20@25c, short ribs 10c and bellies 17½c. Hogs values held well, but the trade was rather heavy.

BANK ISSUES ANALYSIS OF JUNE TRADE

First National Summary Says Volume Slightly Up Over Year Ago

Business in June, as it is analyzed by the research department of the First National and Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings banks, was carried on in larger volume than a year ago, although a slight seasonal decline was evident from the high levels of the winter months. In the country districts the outlook is described as considerably improved.

Compared with the preceding month of May, the bank survey finds that June business was about on the same level. Total bank debits in Los Angeles for the first four weeks of June were slightly below the corresponding period of May, but were nearly 9 per cent greater than the same weeks of June, 1925. Trading at retail and wholesale was large and generally in excess of last year.

Concerning agricultural conditions, the research department makes this comment.

"Valencia oranges and lemons are being marketed in large volume. The quality of the fruit is good, production is large and prices are fair. Harvesting of an excellent crop of deciduous fruits in the San Joaquin Valley has begun. Prices to the growers are higher than last year. There has been no improvement in the prospects for deciduous fruits and walnuts in the southern districts, and the output of these crops will be short. Grapes have developed rapidly, and indications point to a larger crop than in 1925.

"The outlook for an increased output of field crops is encouraging, but prices in many cases are below last year. Beans and sugar beets have shown satisfactory growth during June. Harvesting of grains is largely completed. The alfalfa and hay crop is large, although the quality is only fair. Cotton plants show a healthy growth and good condition. The melon season in the Imperial Valley was not entirely satisfactory, due to low prices and heavy damage from mildew. The condition of live stock and ranges is very good for this time of the year. Fat cattle are now being marketed in large volume, and prices have declined under this pressure."

DEAL MADE FOR UTILITY IN ARIZONA

Globe Light and Power Taken Over by Group of Eastern Capitalists

CHICAGO, July 6. (AP)—Acquisition of the Globe Light and Power Company of Globe, Ariz., by the W. B. Foshay Company of Chicago, New York, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Portland, Or., from Galen L. Stone and associates will be completed on the 12th inst., it was announced here today.

The name of the company will be changed to the People's Arizona Gas and Electric Company, and will make the Foshay consolidated properties worth $8,000,000.

The purchase is being made for the People's Light and Power Corporation through which the Foshay company operates utilities in Oregon, Washington, California, Vermont, Wisconsin and Minnesota. The properties, with the addition of the Arizona concern, which serves Globe with gas and electric service, without competition, and supplies electric service to a number of Arizona towns, the announcement said, will have gross annual earnings in excess of $1,000,000.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, July 6. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: "Short supplies of sheets have forced some consumers into the blanching Valley market, the volume of orders and inquiries showing signs to betterment. Prices reveal more signs of firmness in that producers are less inclined to entertain business on black below 3.00c, unless on extremely desirable classifications. In fact, many producers are quoting 3.15c. Other grades are firm, although little contracting is being done.

"Analysis of the business of large producers of wire and wire products throughout the country indicates that bookings in the first half of the year just closed were about 10 per cent higher than for the first half of 1925, and the tendency toward continued improvement is not losing momentum.

"Pig-iron sales hold up well and plate price strength is pronounced as demand grows.

"Electrolytic copper is 13.87½c, delivered Connecticut. Tin, spot, Straits, 61.30c. Lead, St. Louis, 5.15c. Zinc, St. Louis, 7.20@7.25c."

ARROWSMITH
by Sinclair Lewis

DR. MARTIN ARROWSMITH, staff member of the McGurk Institute of Biology of New York, has returned from the Isle of St. Hubert, after big months fighting an outbreak of bubonic plague, a disease for which he has discovered a remedy. Following the death of his wife, Leora Tozer Arrowsmith, from the plague, he forgets his resolutions to forget humanitarianism that science might be benefited by strict observation of non-children, and instead of making tests of his remedy, immunized the whole island population.

LEORA TOZER ARROWSMITH, Martin's wife, died of the plague in St. Hubert's. She was one of the foremost characters ever to appear in modern fiction.

DR. MAX GOTTLIEB aged scientist, who, until recently, was director of McGurk Institute. A great friend of Martin.

DR. RIPPLETON HOLABIRD alias "The Holy Wren," head of the department of physiology, and later acting director of the Institute.

PEARL ROBBINS is the Diana-like secretary of the Institute.

THE HON. CECIL ERIC GEORGE TWYFORD owns 10,000 acres of sugar cane land in St. Bricklin's Parish.

"The Holy Wren," is head of the department of physiology at McGurk Institute.

DR. OLIVER MARCHAND was a negro physician of great knowledge. He, too, died from the plague in the Island.

DR. TERRY WICKETT, a roughneck bio-chemist, is perhaps Martin's best friend in the McGurk Institute.

COL. SIR ROBERT FAIRLAMB is the governor of St. Hubert's. An excellent fellow but an unreliable governor.

DR. ALMUS PICKERBAUGH, now a Congressman, was once Martin's chief in the Health Department at Nautilus, Iowa.

ROSS McGURK is the multi-millionaire whose dollars make the wheels of McGurk Institute go around. The idea was that of his wife, Capitola.

MIRIAM GOTTLIEB, daughter of Dr. Gottlieb, is his only source of comfort.

When Martin entered the Institute, his colleagues galloped up to shake hands and to exclaim, and if their praise was flustering, there is no time at which one can stomach so much of it as at homecoming.

Sir Robert Fairlamb had written to the Institute a letter glorifying him. The letter arrived on the same boat with Martin, and next day Holabird gave it out to the press.

The reporters, who had been only a little interested at his landing, came around for interviews, and while Martin was sulky and jerky Holabird took them in hand, so that the papers were able to announce that America, which was always rescuing the world from something or other, had gone and done it again.

It was spread in the prints that Dr. Martin Arrowsmith was not only a powerful witch doctor and possibly something of a laboratory hand, but also a ferocious rat killer, village burner, special board addresser and snatcher from death. There was at the time, in certain places, a doubt as to how benevolent the United States had been to its Little Brothers—Mexico, Cuba, Haiti, Nicaragua—and the editors and politicians were grateful to Martin for this proof of their sacrifice and tender watchfulness.

He had letters from the Public Health Service; from an enterprising Middle Western college, which desired to make him a doctor of civil law; from medical schools and societies which begged him to address them.

Editorials on his work appeared in the medical journals and the newspapers; and Congressman Almus Pickerbaugh telegraphed him from Washington, in what the Congressman may conceivably have regarded as verse: "They got to go some to get ahead of fellows that come from old Nautilus." And he was again invited to dinner at the McGurks', not by Capitola, but by Ross McGurk, whose name had never had such a whitewashing.

He refused all invitations to speak, and the urgent organizations which had invited him responded with meekness that they understood how intimidatingly busy Dr. Arrowsmith was, and if he ever could find time, they would be most highly honored—

Rippleton Holabird was elected full director now, in succession to Gottlieb, and he sought to use Martin as the prize exhibit of the Institute. He brought all the visiting dignitaries, all the foreign men of measured merriment, in to see him, and they looked pleased and tried to think up questions. Then Martin was made head of the new department of microbiology at twice his old salary.

He never did learn what was the difference between microbiology and bacteriology. But none of his glorification could he resist. He was still too dazed—he was the more dazed when he had seen Max Gottlieb.

The morning after his return he had telephoned to Gottlieb's flat, had spoken to Miriam and received permission to call in the late afternoon.

All the way uptown he could hear Gottlieb saying, "You were my son! I gave you efery'ting I knew of truth and honor, and you haf betrayed me. Get out of my sight!"

Miriam met him in the hall, fretting, "I don't know if I should have let you come at all, doctor."

"Why? Isn't he well enough to see people?"

"It isn't that. He doesn't really seem ill, except that he's feeble, but he doesn't know any one. The doctor's say it's senile dementia. His memory is gone. And he's just suddenly forgotten all his English. He can only speak German, and I can't speak it, hardly at all. If I'd only studied it, instead of music! But perhaps it may do him good to have you here. He was always so fond of you. You don't know how he talked of you and the splendid experiment you've been doing in St. Hubert."

"Well, I—" He could find nothing to say.

Miriam led him into a room whose walls were dark with books. Gottlieb was sunk in a worn chair, his thin hand lax on the arm.

"Doctor, it's Arrowsmith, just got back!" Martin mumbled.

The old man looked as though he half understood; he peered at him, then shook his head and whimpered. "Versteh' nicht." His arrogant eyes were clouded with ungovernable slow tears.

Martin understood that never could he be punished now and cleansed. Gottlieb had sunk into his darkness still trusting him.

Martin closed his flat—their flat—with a cold, swift fury, lest he yield to his misery in finding among Leora's possessions a thousand fragments which brought her back: the frock she had bought for Capitola McGurk's dinner, a petrified chocolate she had hidden away to munch illegally by night, a memorandum, "Get almonds for Sandy." He took a grimly impersonal room in a hotel, and sunk himself in work. There was nothing for him but work and the harsh friendship of Terry Wickett.

His first task was to check the statistics of his St. Swithin treatments and the new figures still coming in from Stokes. Some of them were shaky, some suggested that the value of phage certainly had been confirmed, but there was nothing final. He took his figures to Raymond Pearl, the biometrician, who thought less of them than did Martin himself.

He had already made a report of his work to the Director and the Trustees of the Institute, with no conclusion except "the results await statistical analysis and should have this before they are published." But Holabird had run wild, the newspapers had reported wonders, and in on Martin poured demands that he send out phage; inquiries as to whether he did not have a phage for tuberculosis, for syphilis; offers that he take charge of this epidemic and that.

Pearl had pointed out that his agreeable results in first phaging the whole of Carib village must be questioned, because it was possible that when he began the curve of the disease had already passed its peak. With this and the other complications, viewing his hot work in St. Hubert as coldly as though it were the pretense of a man whom he had never seen, Martin decided that he had no adequate proof, and strode in to see the director.

The next installment of this most absorbing novel—written by the author of "Main Street" and "Babbitt"—will appear in tomorrow's Times. Watch for it.

French Chamber Authorizes New Naval Program

PARIS, July 6. (AP)—The chamber of Deputies today authorized construction of the remaining units in the second section of the naval program laid down under the Washington agreement. The authorizing bill was adopted, 415 to 145.

The new warcraft, which will be laid down between the present month and June, 1927, call for an estimated preliminary cost of 11,000,000 francs. Further appropriations will be asked for the completion of the program. The boats include one cruiser, three destroyers, four torpedo boats, one submarine cruiser, five first-class submarines and certain minor craft.

CALIFORNIA BUILDING TO RISE SOON AT RENO

RENO (Nev.) July 6. (Exclusive)—Although plans for the projected highway exposition at Reno in 1927 are still unsettled, arrangements have been practically completed for erection of the California Building. Work on the structure is to start within a month, with the main building to be finished this year. The structure will be of the mission type, and will cost about $150,000. California Commissioner W. A. Shepard states all counties will be represented by elaborate displays of their resources. The building will be of permanent type, and will be presented to Reno after the fair.

Part of Spanish Trail of Padres' Day to be Paved

SACRAMENTO, July 6. (AP)—A portion of the historic Spanish trail between El Centro and San Diego, which was beaten by the feet of the indefatigible padres, is to be paved.

The State Highway Commission today called for bids for the improvement of the Mountain Springs grade, sixty-eight miles in length, with cemete concrete twenty feet wide. The bids will be opened in Sacramento on August 2, next.

Many curves in the roadway which have remained as they were in the early days will be eliminated and grades will be reduced to a maximum of 7 per cent.

RUM SOURCE SOUGHT BY CANADIAN POLICE

VANCOUVER (B. C.) July 6. (Exclusive)—Three hundred search warrants have been issued, fifty executed and thirty arrests made here as the result of provincial police efforts to determine where the Japanese colony in the city gets its large supply of liquor. Local law requires that to serve liquor at a banquet, party or any gathering it is necessary to get a permit from the liquor control board and to purchase the liquor at a government liquor store. The Japanese get the permit but consume far more liquor than they buy. Where the rest comes from is what has the police puzzled and in spite of the large number of arrests and searches carried out no indication of the source of the illicit liquor has been discovered.

BAN ON WEEVIL IN ARIZONA APPROVED

WASHINGTON, July 6. (AP)—Two new plant quarantines were made effective today by the Federal Horticultural Board upon signature by Secretary Jardine of tentative regulations already announced. A quarantine to prevent spread of the Thurberia weevil, which has been damaging cotton in Arizona, was placed on the movement of cotton from the affected regions. Adjoining States feared that the weevil would spread into uninfested territory.

ALASKA MAIL PLANE AVIATOR VANISHES

CORDOVA (Alaska) July 6. (AP)—R. H. Merrill, who pilots an air-mail plane between Bristol Bay and Seward, Alaska, left Vancouver, B. C., the morning of June 27, and has been missing since. Alaskan naval radio stations are broadcasting this information in an effort to locate the flyer and plane. Commander Wyatt at Ketchikan is investigating.

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Mueren Algunas Personas en Méjico en las Luchas Electorales

CIUDAD DE MEXICO, July 5.—Fueron muertas varias personas, y varias resultaron lesionadas en dos refriegas a que dieron lugar las elecciones de senadores, que se efectuaron en todas partes de Méjico. Tales son las noticias recibidas por el ministerio de lo Interior.

En telegrama sin pormenores recibido por el citado ministerio, se le da cuenta de que en Oajaca fue muerto el diputado Luis Domingues, y herido el diputado Angel Ibarra.

Las tropas federales tuvieron que intervenir en un conflicto que surgió en Tehuantepec entre facciones políticas rivales, y del que resultaron varios muertos y heridos.

En las casillas electorales de la ciudad de Méjico hubo unas cuantas disputas; pero no llegó la cosa a mayores, porque la policía pudo separar pronta y oportunamente a los beligerantes.

La confederación de partidos regionales hizo que fuera aprebendido un adversario político, pues le acusa de haber disparado su revólver sobre el cuartel general de la citada confederación, desde un automóvil en marcha.

Por lo que se desprende de las primeras noticias recibidas, los partidos socialista y laborista tenían ganadas las elecciones en el Distrito Federal.

La Tuberculosis Está Haciendo Estragos en Veracruz

VERACRUZ, Julio 5.—Las autoridades sanitarias de ésta han pedido poderes dictatoriales para lograr hacer con éxito su campaña contra la difusión de la tuberculosis. Dicen que es materialmente imposible poner coto a este mal, si no se les prohibe a las personas atacadas de él que se dediquen a ciertos oficios y ocupaciones. Muchos vendedores ambulantes y empleados de los mercados públicos padecen, según se asegura, de la citada enfermedad, y constituyen fuentes permanentes de infección. Ya se está tratando este asunto con el Consejo Superior de Sanidad de la Ciudad de Méjico.

Cae al Fin en la Red Un Mono Fugitivo

STOCKTON, Julio 5.—El mono que llevaba algún tiempo de pasarse los días saltando de rama en rama entre los numerosos árboles de la vecindad de las avenidas Magnolia y Elmwood, en la ciudad de Modesto, robándose las gallinas de los gallineros, y haciéndole gestos y lanzándole frutas al guardián Davis, que hizo muchas tentativas para atraparlo, se halla por fin encarcelado. Logró cogerlo el guarda del corral de concejo de Modesto, con una larga caña de pescar, con una red en la punta.

Este cuadrumano deportista y amigo de lo ajeno venía de compañero de viaje de un grupo de turistas que pasaron por Modesto hace dos meses. Se fugó mientras los viajeros se desayunaban en un restorán, y luego estudió cuanta tentativa se hizo para capturarlo.

SEA THWARTS YACHT SEARCH

Hulk Lost in Deep Water as Tow Cables Part

Remains of Child Believed in One Compartment

Inquest Will be Conducted Over Victim Today

Divers, seeking to explore the sunken hulk of the pleasure craft Dixie, which capsized with a loss of five lives off Catalina Island Sunday night, were again balked by the sea yesterday.

Two glass-bottom boats from the Wilmington Transportation Company, piloted by the tug Listo, spent the entire day in dragging the hulk close to the shore at Catalina Island so that divers could descend to the deck and go through it for the body of the last victim, 2-year-old Doris Tyler, which is believed to be trapped in one of the compartments.

LOST IN DEEP WATER

The hulk was dragged 400 feet close to shore and then the cables parted and the wreck was lost again. The hulk, it was stated, is now in more than 100 feet of water, too deep for divers to go down and explore it.

Launches and boats labored to get the hulk closer to shore. Coroner Nance announced that an inquest into the death of one of the victims of the terrific blast which destroyed the yacht would be conducted at 2:30 o'clock today in the Coroner's office.

The body of this victim, Mrs. E. D. Tyler, which was recovered in the cabin Monday, was brought to the county morgue yesterday. A half-dozen witnesses have been summoned to testify as to the cause of the blast and other happenings of the tragedy. They are David Houghton, 15 years of age, the only member of the yacht-ing party of fifteen to escape unhurt; Hugh Angleman, builder of the yacht, Carleton Riggin, another owner of the party, James S. Lawson of Los Angeles, who found the woman, and Dr. H. W. Goodman, owner of the yacht, Kimi, which took a leading part in the rescue work.

Deputy Sheriffs Hanby and Hunter of Catalina are investigating the cause of the blast.

At the Golden State Hospital, to which all but three of the victims taken from Catalina Monday, it was stated that they had all shown marked improvement and that though some are still in rather serious condition, they would recover.

BOY LOSES LEG

Doris Tyler, son of the woman killed in the blast, however, underwent amputation of his left leg yesterday; it was stated, because gangrene had set in and the amputation was necessary to save his life. He is the youngest seriously injured of the victims, but will recover, hospital officials said.

Hugh O. Chaffee, wealthy chain-store owner of Pasadena, and owner of the ill-starred yacht, was reported out of danger and his wife, likewise, was reported as materially improved. She swam to shore after the blast in spite of the fact that her leg had been broken and it was not until she reached her that she realized her injuries.

Mrs. Beth I. Bennett was transferred from the Golden State Hospital to the Pasadena Hospital during the day. Physicians said that she, too, showed great improvement.

Two Hundred to Be Examined by Pharmacy Board

More than 200 applicants for State pharmacy licenses will be given examinations today by the State Pharmacy Board at the University of Southern California. The test will continue for two days.

At the opening of its quarterly meeting here yesterday the board examined four pharmacists from other states. They brought permits here from their present credentials.

The board will conduct similar examinations in San Francisco next week, beginning Monday, and is expected to examine more than 100 there.

COLLEGE GIVES PLAY

Members of the Woodbury Business College Dramatic Club yesterday presented the play, "Station X," as the opening selection of a series of dramatic offerings to be given monthly. Roles in the play were taken by Alex Okrand, Hollis Per, Roberta Van Valer, Helen Lindsey, Robert Warwick, Harold Hall and Ruth Carson.

CYKLER AND WARRENITE

Those who have read the previous articles of this series in The Times dealing with conditions at Los Angeles Harbor have made the acquaintance of Emil Cykler, contractor extraordinary of the Harbor Department.

They are familiar with the manner in which Mr. Cykler as the California Construction Company makes and sells to the Harbor Department immense quantities of "Black Baby" piles that, according to the department's official records, are higher in price and lower in strength than any other piles tried; piles which Mr. Cykler, Chief Engineer Nicholson and departmental records all call Duocrete piles but which President Allen of the Harbor Board says are not Duocrete piles, adding that he considers Duocrete piles worthless.

They have observed the operations of Mr. Cykler as the Western Dredging Company which successfully landed the contract for dredging the West Basin and the East Basin, together with profitable collateral filling jobs. Attention has been called to the fact that, after the East Basin contract was awarded to Mr. Cykler at a 50 per cent higher figure than an adjacent and similiar dredging job was being done by the United States government, the yardage figures in the contract were almost doubled by special "work orders" which, being illegal, had subsequently to be rescinded.

Enter now Mr. Cykler as the Pan-Pacific Construction Company, a name which, for reasons to appear subsequently, is well known in harbor circles.

It has been remarked before that Mr. Cykler's enterprises are more or less intimately related to the so-called "paving trust" of City Hall notoriety. The "paving trust" is composed of the paving companies which handle the patented paving known as Warrenite, manufactured by the Warren Construction Company. The City Hall representative of this group, Frank Reese, was for years Southern California manager for the Warren Construction Company. Because of the immense amount of paving done by the city, the "paving trust" maintained a permanent lobby at the City Hall and the head of this lobby was Frank Reese. Some of the biggest storms that ever shook the old South Broadway municipal rookery centered about the machinations of the "paving trust."

Now Warrenite, the patent paving for which millions of dollars of public money has been expended and which is reputed to have made and unmade Councilmen and shaken whole administrations on their thrones, has a curious physical similarity to "Black Baby" piles manufactured exclusively by Emil Cykler. That is, it is an asphalt composition surface on a base of concrete. "Black Baby," which may or may not be Duocrete according to whom you are talking to, is concrete with a surface impregnated with asphalt.

There are other and even more striking evidences of kinship. When Mr. Cykler came to Los Angeles in 1922—from Honolulu—he was introduced at the City Hall by Frank Reese. Mr. Reese told the then Harbor Board that Mr. Cykler was an experienced harbor construction contractor who had built docks and wharves at Pearl Harbor. Mr. Cykler opened downtown offices as a contractor operating under the name of the Pan-Pacific Construction Company. His suite adjoined the suite of the Warren Construction Company and the doors between them were open.

Early the next year Mr. Cykler obtained a peculiarly advantageous lease on harbor lands at the West Basin and erected thereon a plant for making "Black Baby" piles, whose manufacturing rights he had obtained under patents controlled by Raymond Osborne. In July he made his famous bid for the West Basin dredging of nearly 10 cents a yard less than any other bidder. As was told yesterday, he got the job at what looked like a loss to him.

But after the award was made the joker appeared in the form of another contract, which also went to Cykler, whereby the mud from his West Basin dredging would be used to fill fifty-five city streets in Wilmington. And the real nub of the deal was the fact that it was provided in the petitions for this improvement that, after the streets were filled with Cykler's mud, THEY SHOULD BE PAVED WITH WARRENITE. It is worth while to remember that the filling and paving were all made part of the same deal, by the terms of which any competing contractors were effectually shut out. No one could compete with Cykler on the fill work because he had 2,800,000 cubic yards of earth ready at hand which the city was paying him 15¾ cents a yard to take out of the West Basin and which he simply dumped where the new streets were being made.

The petitions for the filling and paving were of course sponsored and put through by the "paving trust" which thereby got a big and profitable contract out of it. The large profits on the fill more than compensated Cykler for his low figure on the dredging and everybody was happy—except possibly the property owners who are paying for the Wilmington job.

Under these pleasing auspices was launched the Cykler-Warrenite alliance. More about the operations of this combination will appear tomorrow.

REDISTRICTING FUND RAISED

Sixty-one Hundred Dollars Pledged at Luncheon For Southland Reapportionment Drive

Sixty-one hundred dollars was raised at a luncheon yesterday of the All-Parties Reapportionment Committee at the Chamber of Commerce toward the cost of obtaining signers to the initiative petition whereby on the November ballot will be a proposition creating a State Commission to reapportion California in the event of the failure of the Legislature.

The money was raised in a few minutes, and additional sums were reported coming in from Southern California interests. In order to place the proposition on the ballot, the signatures of 78,000 registered voters must be obtained and filed with county clerks by midnight of the 14th inst.

Former Assemblyman Richard Benton was present, and guaranteed to obtain the signatures for $10,000 Volunteer workers are also in the field with the petitions, and thousands of names have been obtained, it was reported.

The decision to go through with the measure was made after considerable discussion of the matter. Assurance was given by President Bent, of the chamber, who presided, that aid will be forthcoming from prominent men in the northern part of the State who wish to see the Constitution adhered to and who desire that Southern California receive a square deal.

The initiative measure contemplates the creation of a commission composed of the Secretary of State, Surveyor-General and Attorney-General to reapportion legislative representation in accordance with the Constitution. Three Legislatures have failed to act and Los Angeles still has the same number of representatives allowed sixteen years ago.

CITY-PLANNING GOAL FIXED

Institute of Public Affairs Hears Expert Tell How to Go About Problem of Development

Possible points to be considered in planning a city were discussed yesterday afternoon by Charles H. Cheney of the Palos Verdes Estates, before the Los Angeles Institute of Public Affairs at Millspaugh Hall, University of California, Southern Branch.

Mr. Cheney laid great emphasis on the importance of an adequate manner of handling transportation, particularly the handling of railways, which has complicated Los Angeles on account of the lack of terminal facilities for a union passenger station.

ZONING PLAN URGED

The city should develop some zoning plan, he said, and Mr. Baker-De Louw Rapid Transit report, which was completed for Los Angeles last year, as an excellent plan of municipal arrangement.

A zoning commission should be created, he said, and that a commission be created to pass on the designs of buildings, from an architectural point of view, so they are not eyesores. According to the building code, in addition to a zoning ordinance, should be adopted, he said, to oversee matters concerned with the public health, such as light and air. State housing codes, he said, are notoriously weak and difficult to enforce. The ideal city should include a civic center, or grouping of public buildings, he stated. A definite, comprehensive plan for parks and playgrounds, he added, should go with the ideal city.

Mr. Cheney was followed by Myron Hunt, architect, who addressed the meeting on the subject of the art jury in city development.

CHRIST PLAY PREMIERE TO BE TONIGHT

Seventh Annual Season of Pilgrimage Performance Will be Started

With William Faversham in the role of the Christ and supported by 125 experienced players, the seventh annual season of the Pilgrimage Play will open tonight in the open-air Pilgrimage Theater, one block north of Cahuenga and Highland avenues. The play will be presented every night except Sundays throughout the summer.

A new element of beauty and impressiveness will be added to the play this season by the appearance of Smallman's choir of forty voices. The choir will be heard in a musical score which includes selections from the ancient Jewish chants and melodies.

The theater will seat 1200 persons. All revenue from the summer presentations is applied to the expenses of the production, the Pilgrimage Play Association being incorporated on a non-profit basis.

The play itself, which is a literal transcription of the Biblical version of the life of Jesus, is presented in twelve episodes, with a "prologue of prophecy" and an "epilogue of promise."

UNION WON'T BE PATRIOT FOR NOTHING

"No Pay, No Band," Slogan Keeps Its Musicians Away From Liberty Pageant

"No pay, no union band," is the reason why the Musicians' Union had no band in the patriotic Independence Day celebration at the Coliseum, it was learned last night.

Six bands donated their services for the Pageant of Liberty, put on as a nonprofit event before 50,000 persons, but none of them is known as union band, although some union musicians with individual ideas in the matter freely gave their services as members of the participating bands.

It was learned that when officials of the pageant approached union officials wit hthe proposal that the union provide a band, they were told by the union leaders that if they would hire a union band of at least thirty-five pieces and pay the bandsmen $5 each for the first hour and $2 each for each additional hour a union band would be provided. The union officials said that if this were done they would permit union musicians in other bands to play, otherwise participating musicians would be fined $100 each and their insurance in the union canceled.

Pageant officials explained that it was true that they intended to charge twenty-five cents admission to the Coliseum but that no profit was expected, that the Two Thirty-Thirty-Three Club, which was sponsoring the event would bear all loss incurred and if it received a surplus would distribute the sum for benevolences among soldier organizations. The union officials stood pat on their demand, however, of no pay, no union band. Secretary Moore of the union said:

"They wanted us to volunteer our services and we didn't see why we should."

All the bands playing in the event donated their services. They included the Two Thirty-Three Club Band, Hollywood Post American Legion Band, Los Angeles Fire Department Band.

ENGINEER REQUESTS ANNEXATION DELAY

City Engineer Shaw yesterday requested the City Council to request the Secretary of State defer action formally annexing the former city of Bell to Los Angeles for possibly ninety days until street proceedings started by he former Bell city government can be completed. If this is not done, the improvements will be delayed until new proceedings can be started by the Los Angeles City Council.

LARGE ESTATE GIVEN CHARITY

Thousands Bequeathed for Public Purposes

Institutions of Southland to Benefit Greatly

Benefactor's Will May Not be Held Valid

Large bequests for public purposes were made in the will of Albert A. Stone, former Boston business man, who died here June 18, at 81 years of age. The will was filed yesterday for probate with no estimate of the size of the estate given in the accompanying petition—but it is believed to be large.

The will leaves $10,000 each to the Y.W.C.A., the Salvation Army, the McKinley Industrial Home, the Los Angeles Orthopedic Foundation, the Los Angeles Orphans' Home, Rest Haven, the Boy Scouts and the Red Cross, all of Los Angeles; $10,000 in trust for disabled veterans of the World War—the trust to be administered by Maj. Walter K. Tuller, Mendel B. Silberberg and Buron R. Fitts—and $25,000 to the Massachusetts General Hospital at Boston.

About forty bequests of $1000 to $20,000 each and small trusts were left to various relatives and friends. The residue of the estate is to be used to establish the Albert Stone Educational Fund, the income from which is to be used to aid high-school graduates in obtaining higher education. The executor of the will, which is the Security Trust and Savings Bank, is directed to appoint a board of trustees who shall organize a corporation to take charge of the fund and administer it.

The petition for probate of the will was filed by William J. O'Brien, the will containing a direction that the executor employ him for the purpose.

As California law does not permit more than one-third of an estate to be willed for charity, the question as to whether the will is valid, it was pointed out, depends on the size of the public bequests as compared with the personal ones.

CATO WINS REVIEW OF HIS GRADE

Police Chief Aspirant Only One of Sixteen to Appeal on Examination

A request for a review of his grade in the recent examination for Chief of Police was granted Assistant Captain of Detectives Cato yesterday by the Civil Service Commission. He was the only one of the sixteen applicants who appealed from the results of the examination.

If Asst. Capt. Cato is granted a higher rating after the review it is unlikely that the standing of the three high men, Deputy Chief Heath, Acting Chief Davis and Capt. L. L. McClary, will be disturbed, according to Commissioner Buzzell. Asst. Capt. Cato stands tenth on the present list and slightly below the passing mark.

The time for the certification of the three highest men for appointment will expire next Tuesday, at which time the names of those heading the list will be referred to the Police Commission for the selection of one.

SOCIETY AT BOWL OPENING

Concert at Hollywood Amphitheater Draws Throng to Feast on Music Beneath Skies

Again responding to the charm of music beneath the stars, and with more than usual enthusiasm, society of the Southland met again last evening at the marvelous amphitheater which Nature has made in the Hollywood Bowl to assist in making the summer season of out-of-door concerts a great success.

The seating of the boxes this year has been quite changed and, as each box holds only four, the first concert was almost limited to the family representation, and while there were many informal dinner-parties given preceding the opening concert, there were also several informal supper-parties at the various homes afterwards.

Among those who have taken boxes for the season and attended last evening were Mr. and Mrs. Allen C. Balch, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mallett Burdick, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Buchanan, Mrs. Alice Pike Barney, Mrs. Sam Behrendt, Mrs. Frances W. Breda, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Beesemeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Napoleon Brunswig, Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Bennet Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey D. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Danziger, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. LIBRARY OPENS NEW QUARTERS

Institution Finally Housed in Permanent Home

Finishing Touches Still to Be Put to Building

Abundant Space Provided for Future Development

The Los Angeles Public Library is at last housed in a permanent home. The new building on Fifth street between Grand and Flower was opened to the public for the first time yesterday.

Designed by the late Bertram Grosvenor Goodhue of New York, and carried to completion by his Los Angeles associate, Carleton M. Winslow, the building is Spanish in spirit, constructed of reinforced concrete surfaced with ivory-colored stucco, to tone in with the limestone trimmings. The severity of the building is to be relieved at each entrance by sculpturing "dome in place" on the building. The designs were made by Lee Lawrie of New York, and the work is being carried out under the direction of Edward Ardolino, also of New York. It will probably take a year to finish the sculpturing.

SPACE IN ABUNDANCE

The library has a floor space of approximately 190,000 square feet, and has a book capacity of 1,125,000 volumes. At the present time there are about 270,000 volumes in the main library, so no department is fully occupied. When the time arrives that its full capacity shall be utilized, then an additional wing can be added on the Flower-street side without destroying the symmetry of the building. There are 272 employees at the Central Building.

The Los Angeles Library was started in 1872 at a mass meeting of citizens led by Gov. Downey. The Library Association was formed with a membership fee of $50, and an annual $5 fee.

An Enabling Act providing for a small library appropriation through taxation was its chief source of support until 1899, when a new city charter provided for a board of directors appointed by the Mayor with entire control of its administration and finances. It was moved from the Downey Block to the City Hall that year.

NUMBER OF MOVES

In 1891 the Library was made free to the public, and in 1906 was moved from the City Hall to the Homer Laughlin Annex at Third and Hill streets. In 1908 it was moved to larger quarters in the Hamburger Building, and again in 1914 to the Metropolitan Building, where it remained until its last change. Mr. Everett R. Perry became Librarian in 1911.

The contract for the new building was let in October 1924, and the corner-stone laid May 3, 1925. The cost of the building when fully equipped and furnished will be $2,300,000.

The move from the Metropolitan Building to the new quarters was accomplished in exact schedule time, from June 15 to 30, last.

Jailer Simply Would Not Let Him Make Stake

If somebody with a job for Frank Miller comes forward by today, Judge Keetch will know what to do in the man's case. He confessed himself at a loss yesterday.

Last January Miller pleaded guilty to attempted burglary of a Glendale restaurant, declaring he was broke and hungry. The judge suggested that at the end of six months in the county road camp, where he would be paid 50 cents a day, Miller would have a stake that might keep him out of trouble and permit his being placed on probation.

But when Miller appeared yesterday, he admitted he had not been able to convince the jailer he was worthy to go to the road camp, and so had spent the entire six months in jail and was still without funds.

"Then you're no better off than you were," said Judge Keetch. "I'll put the matter over a day and think it over."

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

WHEN Curtis D. Wilbur comes home to Los Angeles for a visit we ought to give him a reception that will be remembered.

As Secretary of the Navy he has made a record that places him in the slender and frugal number of really great navy chiefs.

He has had to ride down bitter and unjust opposition—based very largely upon the fact that he was a western man, and an elder in the Presbyterian church — and working at the job. Even in the Navy he encountered opposition as a former graduate of Annapolis.

BOOBS IN DEMAND

There is a saying in the Navy: "God deliver us from a Secretary who thinks he knows the Navy."

The most desirable Cabinet officer for either of the war branches of the government is some one who will meekly sign on the dotted line.

Wilbur overcame all these oppositions, and brought the Navy up to snap line of perfection. Our fleets have never been in better shape; ready to clear for action at the drop of a hat.

STUPID AND VICIOUS

With a singular magnanimity and patience Uncle Sam is trying to convince the assembled powers of Europe that they should consent to disarmament. In this effort he has been flouted and blocked at every turn at Geneva.

Blocked by wretched little international urchins like Jugo-Slavia, Finland and Czecho-Slovakia.

If they refuse to have peace and demand war there will be no help for it.

Meanwhile, we beg earnestly for peace and keep our Navy on its toes.

WASH 'EM UP

SUICIDE SEQUEL IN DIVORCE SUIT

Husband Ends Life Facing Hearing on Charges

Aged Invalid Who Slashed Throat Expected to Die

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, July 6.—Robert E. Lyon, radio salesman of 2809 Marsh street, Los Angeles, will not be present when a divorce action brought against him by his wife is called the 19th inst., in Department Ten of the Superior Court. Lyons's body was found on the beach here today, a bullet hole through his temple. He had been dead about twenty-four hours.

Police say a summons in a divorce action brought by Hazel Lyon, 346 North Maryland avenue, Glendale, was in his clothing. Charges of cruel and inhuman treatment and spending too much time in the company of a woman known as "Olive" were contained in the wife's complaint.

Among the dead man's effects was found an envelope filled with love sonnets and other tender verse. It was addressed to Olive M. Conroy, 448 South Rugby street, Huntington Park. A .38-caliber revolver lay near the body. The suicide was committed some time yesterday. Police investigation revealed Lyon had driven to a point on Terminal Island south of the Edison Company power plant.

He donned a bathing suit leaving his clothing and other effects including a radio set, locked up in his car. The body was found on the sand near the water's edge about fifteen feet from his auto. It was ordered sent to Swan's undertaking parlors here pending an inquest. Detective Sergeant's McDonald and Glenn investigated the case.

Police reports will probably record another suicide today or tomorrow with the expected death of Tinsley V. Means, 86 years of age, who slashed his throat with a razor at the home of his brother, Josephus Means, 1838 Fifth street, today. The aged man had been in failing health for some time and had become despondent, the brother told police. He was taken to Seaside Hospital where Police Surgeon Rogers gave every aid possible in an effort to save his life. The nature of his wound and his advanced age make his chances for recovery very slight, the surgeon said.

FILM PRODUCER WILL WED AGAIN

His Name Long Linked to That of Girl

Ralph Ince and Lucille Mendez

PROVING that numerous rumors of romance linking their names for the past three or four years have not been unfounded, Ralph W. Ince, brother of the late Thomas H. Ince and himself a motion-picture producer, today will take as his bride Lucilla Mendez, pretty 20-year-old former chorus girl and now under contract in motion pictures.

Long rumored a probability, the marriage of the two became a certainty when the screen producer yesterday obtained a marriage license to wed the former New York theatrical favorite and followed this action with definite announcement that they will be married at 11 p.m. today at the Hollywood Congregational Church, attended only by relatives and close friends.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple will establish their home at 186 North Crescent Boulevard, Beverly Hills, where Mr. Ince has just purchased a new residence. There will be no honeymoon, Mr. Ince declared, as he is forced to begin work at once on a new production.

In obtaining the license yesterday, Mr. Ince fulfilled the requirements of the California divorce laws as his interlocutory decree from Lucy Lee Stewart, sister of Anita Stewart, and for fifteen years wife of the motion-picture producer, did not become final until the 1st inst. The producer gave his age as 39 years. The prospective bride has never been married, according to the license.

The Ince divorce decree was handed down on July 1, 1925, and three days later the director and Miss Mendez appeared as witnesses at the marriage of Raymond A. Kirkwood, Ince's assistant, and Eugenie La Place, musical comedy actress, the romance was denied, but—

Four days later in New York, Mrs. Josephine Bryce, aunt of the girl, announced Miss Mendez's engagement to Ince on the strength of a telegram from the girl in Los Angeles.

EX-TRAFFIC HORSES GET PARK BEAT

Commission Lends Mounts Temporarily for Duty at City Playgrounds

The temporary loan of the horses of the mounted police squad to the park department was authorized yesterday by the Police Commission at the request of President Griffith of the Park Commission.

Under the terms of the agreement between the two city boards the twenty-two horses and their equipment will be used by park-department employees in patrolling Griffith and Elysian parks and for other practical purposes.

The title to the horses and equipment will remain in the Police Commission, which reserved the privilege to use them for any emergency or take them back into active police duty at any time.

President Birnbaum of the Police Commission explained that a reduction in the budget made it necessary to dispose of the downtown mounted squad, but that investigation shows that return from the sale of the horses would be too small to be of material financial assistance in carrying on police work. Under the arrangement made yesterday the park department will feed and shelter the horses.

Wife Fails to Collect Balm for Love Loss

Although Carrie Harrington, reputed to be wealthy, failed to appear in court yesterday to defend herself against the suit for $50,000 damages brought against her by Mrs. May E. Cornelius for asserted alienation of the affections of C. E. Cornelius, Mrs. Cornelius obtained a judgment only for costs of her suit.

The case was called for trial before Judge Roche of San Francisco county, sitting in the local court for Judge Haslett. Mrs. Cornelius charged that on one occasion Mrs. Harrington took Cornelius for a week's trip in her automobile. When she remonstrated with Mrs. Harrington the latter replied, according to Mrs. Cornelius: "Well, what of it? You don't want your husband. Why can't I have him?"

Mrs. Cornelius stated her husband left her January 21, 1924, because of the asserted activities of Mrs. Harrington. Although Mrs. Harrington had filed an answer denying the charges of Mrs. Cornelius, she was not in court when the case was called for trial.

Aged Veteran Facing Loss of Sight Kills Self

SANTA MONICA, July 6.—Serenely setting his few small affairs in order, J. A. Buchan, a Civil War veteran 87 years of age, yesterday sat down to die in his home at 650 Copeland Court, where he lived with his son, J. E. Buchan, and the latter's family.

His son had gone to Ocean Park to cash his pension check and procure supplies. Because of failing eyesight the aged veteran seldom left the house.

In his son's absence he wrote a note saying that if he tried to live after going blind it would be harder for both himself and his son to get along. "God bless your little family," he wrote, and then penned bequests to his grandchildren. To Eugene he left his ring, to Richard his watch, and to Harry his pocket knife.

His son returned to find him dead in his chair, a bullet wound in the right temple and a .35 caliber automatic lying on the table.

Lieut. Bray and Police Officers Clark and Greer investigated.

Superior Court Jurist Says He's Sure He Wasn't Speeding

SANTA MONICA, July 6.—Superior Court Judge Keeler was acquitted today before Police Judge Spencer of a speeding charge when he testified he "felt sure he was not making thirty-two miles an hour" in a twenty-mile zone at Harvard street and Santa Monica Boulevard. Judge Keeler added that traffic was "very light" at the time; in this he was corroborated by Motorcycle Officer Hayden.

The jurist did not explain how he reached his estimate of his speed. When he was declared not guilty, he said "Thank you," and Police Judge Spencer smiled.

HUSBAND COMPLAINS OF OTHER MAN IN SUIT

Extraordinary conduct on the part of one Robert Casner was charged by Peter Matthew Cook in the cross-complaint to the divorce suit of his young wife, Alma J. Cook, on file yesterday. Cook related that he once saw Casner walking out of the apartment-house where Mrs. Cook lived, and that he was carrying his coat, his collar and his hat in his hand. The husband asserted that Casner had tried to persuade Mrs. Cook to go to Reno and get a divorce. Mrs. Cook, in her complaint starting the litigation, charged cruelty, declaring that Cook had beaten her and compelled her to support herself and him.

PHONE-RATE ISSUE TO BE DISCUSSED

Councils Public Utilities Committee to Take Action on Question

Chairman Moore of the City Council's Public Utilities Committee announced yesterday that the committee will conduct a public hearing in the Council chamber on the Los Angeles telephone-rate question to determine if the city government can do anything to obtain lower telephone rates. The date of the hearing will be announced within a few days, Chairman Moore said.

The announcement of the committee hearing was made following the reading of a letter from Andrae Nordskog, chairman of the People's Telephone Committee. In this letter he declared that the new measured rates are costing the people of Los Angeles $6,000,000 a year in excess charges and he said that the telephone company had violated the terms of its franchise and that this could be revoked by the city government. Councilman Barnes said that the telephone-rate question was the most important issue before the people of Los Angeles today. Other Councilmen said that if the committee hearing develops anything specific that the city can do to lower telephone rates the Council would support a move to make these recommendations effective.

Gene Porter's Estate Valued at Half Million

Mrs. Gene Stratton-Porter, author of popular nature stories, who was accidentally killed in an automobile accident December 6, 1924, left an estate valued at $460,589, according to an inheritance-tax report filed here yesterday in the offices of State Controller Riley.

State taxes amount to $35,460. Federal taxes total $13,610.

According to a copy of her will filed with the State report the entire estate was bequeathed to her daughter, Mrs. Jeanette Porter Meahan. The bulk of the property consisted of various stocks listed as worth $344,675.

Mendez's Trial in Wife Murder Given New Turn

The murder trial of Manuel Mendez, accused of slaying his wife, Nora, at Wilmington March 3, took an unexpected turn yesterday when Dr. Victor Parkin and Dr. Paul Bowers, alienists, testified a man can be in such a condition from the use of liquor that he is not legally responsible for his acts.

The physicians were called by Public Defender Aggeler, who, in selecting his jury, ruled out all talesmen who admitted they ever had been intoxicated.

The case is before Judge McLucas and is being prosecuted by Dep. Dist. Atty. Davis.

Veteran Screen Gag-Man Gains After Operation

John Gray, veteran gag-man with the Harold Lloyd company, was reported as improved yesterday at the Hollywood Hospital, where he was rushed Sunday to undergo a serious operation.

The gag-man has been in ill health for some time but was stricken acutely Sunday. He is being attended by Dr. W. E. Branch.

Court Upholds Disrespect for Flag Sentence

Judge Keetch celebrated Independence Day a day late yesterday by upholding a conviction and sentence of Jake Ball, a tailor, to 250 days for disrespect to the American flag. Ball had been sentenced by Police Judge Chambers, when it was charged he used a flag as a paint-rag.

"The sentence while severe is in accord with the law," said Judge Keetch, but allowed Ball twenty-four hours in which to put personal affairs in shape.

CANDIDATE ANNOUNCES MANAGER OF CAMPAIGN

Joe Crail, candidate for the Republican nomination in the Tenth Congressional District, announced yesterday that Charles L. Bogue, attorney, commander of Los Angeles Unit No. 107, United Veterans of the Republic and former commander of Sunshine post of the American Legion, will manage the Crail campaign. Mr. Bogue served as a captain of artillery during the World War and has been active among ex-service men's organizations since his discharge from the service. He was one of the organizers of Sunshine post and two years ago served as commander of the Intercity Post Council of the Legion. He was admitted to the bar here in 1914 and was for a time connected with the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company in a legal and executive capacity. His offices will be in the Crail campaign headquarters, 301 Lankershim Hotel.

BAIL DENIED WOMAN HELD IN FORGERY CASE

Release on bail pending appeal was denied yesterday by Judge Hollzer to Edna Short, Pomona sewing machine agent, found guilty recently of forging names to sewing machine contracts and discounting them with the Pomona Land and Mortgage Company. S. S. Hahn, her attorney, urged her health was suffering from confinement in the County Jail, but Judge Hollzer ruled she will be better off in the General Hospital, if ill.

NAPOLEON'S FAILURE

If you were to examine the lives of leaders of men, you would find that a good deal of it is physical—this tingling, electrical energy.

Napoleon really began to fall, as a general, when he became too ill and too inert to make personal reconnoissances of conditions before battle. When he left it to others to investigate and report, came Moscow, Leipsig and Waterloo.

CITY-PLANNING METHOD FIXED

fluenced greatly by foreign elements during the entire course of her history," he said. "These elements have had an even more remarkable influence in recent years. Western democratic ideas and scientific methods were largely responsible for the Chinese republican revolution of 1911 and are becoming more clearly manifest with recent political upheavals in China."

Prof. Quigley outlined the outstanding events in the last 300 years in China's history and discussed the growth of the Chinese constitution. Practically all of China's problems of late years have been caused by foreign penetration, bringing the questions of extra-territoriality, customs regulations, treaty ports and concessions. These questions are now in the process of solution, he stated.

At the morning session a round-table discussion on traffic and transit was conducted by Dr. Miller McClintock, who also presided at the afternoon meeting.

termed a "bluff" alternative measure which they will seek to place on the ballot whereby the reapportionment will be by counties in such a manner that control will remain with the agricultural counties. He said he wished the matter to come to a decision, and felt sure that the commission measure would carry.

Advice concerning methods to pursue in the coming campaign was given by former Judge Dana Weller, former Assemblyman John Robert White, Joseph Scott, William Lacy, M. C. Meuser, Shannon Crandall, Harry Bauer, M. O. Garves and S. C. Graham.

Oil Employees Take Stand at Company Trial

F. A. Jones and Clarence McCall, service-station managers for the Pauley Oil Company, which is charged with substitution of oil, yesterday testified in Municipal Judge Frederickson's court that the company had on hand a supply of the brand of oil for which, according to the prosecution, an inferior brand was substituted. The prosecution charged the company had no supply of this brand.

The defense witnesses declared the oil sold was of the brand specified. The case was brought by the Consumers' Protective Association. It is expected to close today.

Central Voters' League of State Backs Goodcell

Indorsement of the gubernatorial candidacy of Rex B. Goodcell by the Central Voters' League of California and the formation of the Women's Goodcell-for-Governor Club of Oakland has been received by Chairman A. L. Bartlett of the State campaign committee.

The Central Voters' League of California embraces a group of counties in the central part of the State and has an enrolled membership of more than 10,000 voters, it is announced. The Goodcell candidacy has been indorsed by the league, it is announced by Herbert C. Kaufman, attorney for the organization.

The Woman's Goodcell-for-Governor Club of Oakland has been organized with a large charter membership.

YOUTH BEING SOUGHT IN CHILD ATTACK CASE

Search for a youth mounted on a bicycle, who is declared to have attacked Vivian Grant, 11 years of age, of 4475 Telegraph Road yesterday afternoon, was being made last night by Deputy Sheriffs Hackett and Crouchorn. The case was reported by Mrs. Mary Grant, mother of the child, who said the attack took place while the child was playing in front of the house. She got a car and pursued the youth, she said, but he made some short cuts and outdistanced her. She described the youth as about 17 years of age, of medium height and build, with red hair. He wore a sweater and a queer cap.

Henrietta Poland, "Little Forget-Me-Not of KHJ," and Charles Leslie Hill, "Honey Boy," added their charming bit to the program, and Louis Klein with his autoharp is always a joy.

The noon program served to bring back to the tower studio Rod Loring and his Singing Syncopators. Their program was full of interest, and Rod's friends will be glad to know that they can find his little group at Foster Currey's Nite Club in the Merritt Jones Hotel at Ocean Park, where they are playing every night. Betty Abbott, girl baritone, sings blue numbers in a fascinating way. Jimmie Huston and Audrey Ellis complete the personnel of this splendid little organization.

far discovered of reducing atmospheric disturbances or static in radio-telegraphy or telephony in any marked degree, at a given frequency, is that of unidirectional reception; that is, by using some form of antenna which receives more strongly from one direction than from another, says Dr. L. W. Austin, Bureau of Standards, Department of Commerce. Well-known forms of such systems are the Beverage or wave antenna used extensively by the Radio Corporation of America for transoceanic reception, and the older, but more convenient, though somewhat less effective, combination of aerial and coil antenna (loop.)

Unidirectional reception is useful whenever the static does not come from too nearly the same direction as the station being received. By such means, the ratio of signal can often be made from ten to twenty times better than on a simple antenna.

In choosing the site of a receiving station it is of great importance therefore, to discover the prevailing static direction and its changes during different seasons of the year.

In a paper presented by Dr. Austin before the American Institute of Radio Engineers, measurements made at Colon and Balboa, at the opposite ends of the Panama Canal, on the changes in static direction from February to November, 1925, are described. The results indicate that during the dry season (January, February and March,) while the sun is in the south, the static comes from the southeast at both stations. During the rest of the year, the local static from the low mountain chain running along the isthmus seems to produce most of the radio disturbance. This causes prevailing southerly or southeasterly static at Colon, and northerly or northwesterly static at Balboa. For reception from the United States this should give Colon quite an advantage over Balboa as a receiving site during most of the year.

FOURTH FIRE OF FOREST CONTROLLED

Fighters Turn Back Flames Started by Truck Rolling Over Embankment

With fifteen men from the local office of the Angeles National Forest turning the flames back from the deep brush, the fire that started near Reservoir Hill on the Ridge Route yesterday morning was reported under control late last evening.

The fire started when ten bales of cotton were ignited by the engine of a truck that rolled over an embankment on the Ridge Route. The driver of the truck escaped injury by jumping to the roadway. The blaze is the fourth fire in Angeles National Forest in as many days, none, however, having originated from the carelessness of campers.

VACATION SCHOOLS OF CITY START CLASSES

Vacation school opened yesterday in several school centers, including that on Fremont avenue, considered one of the most easily reached from the apartment-house and business section. Classes are to be conducted three times a week for those who wish to learn English, twice a week there are classes in lip-reading for children with impaired hearing, an individual instruction is given twice a week to children with defects in speech. There is also a day nursery where mothers may leave children under school age, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also all local news published herein.

The Times aims at all times to be accurate in every published statement of fact. Readers who discover any important inaccuracy or statement will confer a favor by calling attention of the Editorial Department to the error.

WANT PUBLICITY

WON'T TAKE THEIR OWN
Walking is strongly recommended by a lot of physicians who haven't traveled a block without the old bus for years.

ANCIENT EGGS
A poultryman advertises in an Oklahoma paper that he has Blue Antediluvian eggs for sale. Maybe these are some of that dinosaur clutch we were reading about a while back.

SUMMERLESS YEAR
The weather prophet who says that there will be no summer next year is getting nobody excited to the point of stocking up on flannel underwear. Here we take our weather as it comes and decline to worry.

THE BIG GAME
It costs $500 a month for a hunting license in the big-game section of Africa and another $300 for a special license to shoot lions and elephants. Most sports will find it cheaper to stay home and shoot craps.

FLYING TO OTHER ILLS
There are more suicides in Hungary than any other country in the world. In a population of 8,000,000 souls nearly 2500 ended their own lives last year. Conditions in Hungary apparently invite a shuffling off. The people are temperamental. There is a disposition in weak minds to end it all and jumping into the Danube has been the favorite route.

HE DOES IT, BUT WHY?
Is the eye quicker than the hand? It is said that a pianist may make as many as 2000 movements of the fingers in a minute. Maybe the eye cannot take them all in, yet these movements are in response to the judgment of the eye. It would seem a shame for a pianist to throw away such a miracle of movements on some of the modern stuff that is being called music.

THE DEAD ONES
There is rich gossip to the effect that the official gatherers of our rubbish and garbage derive considerable revenue from the remarketing of old soldiers—that is, gin bottles that have been ravished of their contents and which are again sold to the bootleggers and moonshiners for a second escapade. Anyhow, there are an awful lot of careless sinners who do not hesitate to turn over the dumb evidence of their dissipations to the collector of garbage. They will not even take the pains to bury their dead.

AMONG THE CHAMPIONS
For another year the intercollegiate championship in tennis reposes with a California student. Edward Chandler of the University of California, who captured the honor last year, has just repeated and the runner-up was also a Californian. This State seems to be turning out most of the crack tennis performers of both sexes. But this is not the only line of sport in which our athletes excel. In one way or another we manage to win most of the championships, ranging from pugilism to pitching horseshoes. But tennis we particularly call our own. One good reason is that practice may be indulged on about 365 days of every year.

THE SPENDERS
The clerk of the House explains that under the Cable Act of 1925 as now in force a candidate for Congress may not spend more than $5000 in his campaign for election. A candidate for United States Senator cannot expend over $25,000 in his canvass. The trouble is, however, that the law has nothing to do with a primary election and, so far as this measure is concerned, a candidate might blow in $1,000,000,000 if he could find the money. After the election in November the candidates for the House and Senate are required to file statements of their election expenditures at Washington, but none of the expenses of the primary need be computed. That is under the direction of the State. But mostly the State does not care a whoop what the candidates spend.

SCHOOL SAVINGS BANKS
Lessons in thrift are being applied in a practical way in the public schools of the country. The value of the saving habit is stressed by many teachers. The establishment of school savings banks was a splendid idea and it is working out in a way that cannot but be beneficial to all concerned. At this time the young pupils have more than $30,000,000 in these school banks and substantial increase is assured. The big bank and the little bank are both doing well by the movement. More important than all is that the young people are taught the value of money. They see what it can do when it is started to working for itself. They learn that there is frequently more satisfaction in saving than in spending and they go forth better prepared for the contacts of business and industry that must come to them when school days are over.

DOING BETTER
Another Congress has adjourned for the summer and to give the members a chance to repair political fences for the fall national campaign. Such adjournments are not unusual, but it is unusual to find that there are more expressions of regret than sighs of relief from the country that the session has ended. Just why this Congress should have done so much better than its predecessor may not be apparent on first glance. More than half the membership also sat in the last House, generally regarded as the worst in the nation's history; and the recruits did not appear a year and a half ago as especially promising.

But it is unmistakable that a new spirit is permeating national affairs. Congress has been giving more serious consideration to national problems. There has been less partisanship and a more general endeavor to work together for the general good, rather than to work in groups actuated by partisan expediency.

More respect is given to the present Congress than to its predecessor because its members, by their serious application to the nation's business, have proved themselves worthy of respect. Many important pieces of legislation are still pending. Congress did not finish all that it started well. But more constructive legislation resulted from the session than from any other of the present decade; and it perhaps will do no great harm for the country to have an opportunity during the next five months to consider all the angles of the legislation which will be taken up again at the December session.

Our relations with foreign countries are about all that should be desired. Congress supported the administration in its firm purpose that war debts owing us by foreign countries should be refunded, that our debtors should begin to meet their obligations. That attitude has brought to us the respect of the debtor nations, although some of them called the American people hard names while the negotiations were in progress. The French debt still hangs fire; and the French people are paying the price. The rest of the world is fully convinced that French currency cannot be stabilized until the French establish their credit by paying their debts.

Taxes are lower this year than at any other time since the war. Congress has supported the President, in a measure at least, in reducing the cost of government. A part of the savings has been left in the pockets of the taxpayers and the rest has been devoted to reducing our national debt.

Congress has aided the President in maintaining an economic and efficient government. There has been no freak legislation, there has been no pandering to noisy minorities. Congress has done a little, and has done that little well, which is much better than trying to do much and doing it badly.

There is disappointment among the so-called wets that the Volstead Act was not modified and that Congress made appropriations for stricter enforcement. But it is apparent that the sentiment of the country, as well as that of Congress and the administration, is dry. The objectors can make a great deal of noise, but they cannot command anything like a majority of the votes in Congress or in the country.

Members of the so-called farm bloc are dissatisfied that the government did not go into the co-operative marketing business. They still cling to the illusion that the prices of farm products can be permanently advanced by legislation. But Congress refused to be stampeded. It was able to distinguish between what the farmers needed and what they wanted. It is apparent to the majority that agriculture must look to itself and not to the government for relief. There is a vast distinction between state aid for an industry and wise legislation to enable that industry to help itself.

There is disappointment in the Southwest that proposed legislation for flood control and power development along the Colorado River died in committee. But the basic fault of this is to be found in the failure of the Southwest to send to Congress men capable of handling capably and unselfishly the situation. The very name Swing-Johnson was enough to defeat almost any legislation that might have been proposed. Demagogues were not popular in the late sessions and they accomplished little.

Certain selfish and scheming interests will attempt to make capital out of the Senate resolution empowering our government to accept membership with reservations in the Court of International Justice. But there is no honest difference of opinion as to the attitude of the country. The majority of the American people were willing to take a chance on the World Court; and nothing has happened since the resolution was passed to cause them to reverse their verdict.

Taken as a whole, the late Congress added to establish confidence in the country and to lengthen and strengthen the present era of prosperity. It may have been far from perfect, but it did its part to keep the wheels of commerce and industry turning, and the membership as a whole deserves well of the country, not alone for what it did, but for what it refrained from doing.

ONION WEEK
This is Onion Week. Californians cannot afford to treat this occasion with unseemly flippancy, because of all the States in the Union California annually produces the most onions, her share in the total of 6,000,000 bushels being no less than 2,000,000. Of course, the people of less favored and less flavored States that depend upon California for onions may scoff at the idea of there being an Onion Week. They may say that the announcement of it was a harsh jolt to the feeble and susceptible, that nobody was prepared for it and that a month of preparation would not really have been sufficient. We may expect such comment from unthinking journalists as the following:

> Stronger and stronger becomes the conviction, as well as the exhalations from the hardy onion eater, that somebody has plotted to mar the effect of our glorious Independence Day by making us dependent upon flight from a general attack by onions. That satirical brickbat hurled at the haughty and arrogant, "Please let me breathe a little of your air," will not be heaved during Onion Week. Each sensitive member of the community will remain in his own aura, seeking that detached and secluded position in which alone lies safety.
> During Apple Week we were reminded that an apple a day keeps the doctor away. Onions are even more potent. An onion a day will keep everyone away.

Perhaps, too, we shall get such smart-Aleck satire as this:

> In the stage version of "Midsummer Night's Dream" Bottom says to his fellow players of "Pyramus and Thisbe," "And if you love me, actors, eat no onions." But during Onion Week we cannot heed such admonitions. It would be treasonable to our traditions. And if, after a few years, when we shall have become sufficiently inured to these annual onion-eating periods, some one shall put over the idea of a Garlic Week we shall not blench.

But such levity has no place in the annals of Onion Week. Besides, it can be disproved in its outstanding phases. If an apple a day keeps the doctor away, an onion a day will work the same way, and even better, for the therapeutic qualities of onions stand above those of any other known vegetable. There is no logic in the quotation from Bottom, for if we all do our duty and consume plenty of onions during Onion Week we shall all enjoy immunity from such unpleasant results as are therein suggested. Onions are good food and are said to prolong life. One hesitates to refer to their conduciveness to longevity, however, as it doubtless will be the cue to some scoffer who will be reminded of the story of the nonagenarian who said that the secret of his long life was that he always ate plenty of onions, to which the retort was made, "How can you call that a secret?"

But what is one to do against such mockery as this:

> Let Onion Week come! The valiant man will disdain the use of a gas mask. He will be seen—and scented—in the vanguard of those who, through a long and fragrant week, will obey and repeat the slogan, "Eat more onions!"

It seems hopeless. And yet California has the better end of the argument in that she produces and sells every year from $2,000,000 to $2,500,000 worth of onions. It is suggested to the jesters of States not receiving a tithe of such returns that they laugh that off.

HIGHWAY EFFICIENCY
Each year California highways are more extensively used and each year it becomes increasingly evident that they constitute a great asset in the upbuilding of the State. This year motor travel from other States will be the heaviest on record, according to reliable forecasts based on inquiries. Local motor travel likewise is increasing to a considerable extent as more and more people avail themselves of the matchless vacation opportunities that are presented.

With so much depending on good highways properly maintained the people of California must of necessity conserve so great an asset by insisting on an adequate road-building and maintenance policy, one that shall provide for future needs, one that shall be fair to the various portions of the State and one that shall equitably apportion the costs.

California must provide highway funds, but this does not mean that the people need to be stampeded into taxing themselves to provide an excessive amount. The proposal to again increase the gasoline tax is not warranted by the facts brought out by the extensive survey of the Automobile Club of Southern California and that organization is on record against any increase in the gasoline tax. Highway engineers of high reputation say that California can fully meet the reasonable highway demands both as to new construction and maintenance without such an increase.

So the citizens of the State who are declining to support the proposed increase need have no feeling of disloyalty to the policy of building up and maintaining a magnificent system of highways. On the other hand, they are fully justified in demanding that the highways be administered efficiently and without the handicap of political manipulation. Southern California has been discriminated against in the allocation of road funds, but the remedy does not lie in the raising by taxation of an excessive amount. Efficient administration of highway affairs and equitable apportionment of funds are readily possible without the extra taxes. Refusal by the people to assume the additional burden need not handicap our highway program, but it undoubtedly would be a barrier to political manipulation.

AUTO SUBWAYS
New York has nearly finished two tunnels for automobile traffic that will be the longest of the kind in the world. After running long distances on two subterranean lines the auto low-ways, as they might be called in comparison with highways, become submarine lines, ducking under the Hudson River and extending to the New Jersey shore.

Within a year the new roads will be in full operation and will accommodate 46,000 cars a day. There are two tubes under the Hudson, one for New-Jersey-bound traffic, the other for New-York-bound. They are fifteen feet apart and the outside diameter of each is a little more than twenty-nine feet. The interior of each tube is large enough to permit a two-and-a-half-story house to be drawn through it. There are four ventilating stations, two for the under-river tubes and two for the land tubes.

In proportion to population Los Angeles has far more auto motor vehicles than New York, and when our city approaches the 2,000,000 mark it will begin to feel the need of auto subways, unless there shall be a greater expansion of the shopping district and it shall be scattered over sufficient territory to admit of travel to the shops by motor cars and the parking of them in convenient places. As it is, Los Angeles women coming downtown to do their shopping find it necessary to park their cars a long way from the bargain counter. Nor can the street cars conveniently accommodate all the shopping traffic, as is seen by their crowded and uncomfortable condition.

If we have to come to the New York idea of auto subways we had better begin to plan for it before the traffic situation becomes absolutely hopeless.

POLLYWOGS
By James J. Montague.

The pollywog in youth can swish
About the pool, a long-tailed fish;

He browses on the sunken weed,
He lives the life all fishes lead,

And makes, we have no sort of doubt,
Fast friends of eels and bass and trout.

And then another life begins—
He sheds his tail, discards his fins,

No longer is a pollywog,
But a land-going, green-skinned frog,

By nature most adroitly planned
To live in water or on land.

Our sort of life is not so good,
We never change from babyhood;

Except to grow a bit each day
And by and by get bald and gray.

We have no rare experience
With two quite different elements;

Nor think with recollection fond
Of when we swam about the pond.

Yet notwithstanding, I'm afraid
We'll have to stay as we were made.

UNKIND CREDIT

BY THE SUBURBANITE

One reason why a lot of people never get anywhere is that they are helped too much.

I know a woman who ran into a lot of hard luck a few years ago and bore it so courageously that everybody got to showering sympathy on her. And that ruined her. Her grocer urged her to take her time about her account. Her landlord told her to let the rent run a few months. Some friends got her into a job which paid her twice as much as she had thought it possible for her to make. And in that short time she'd got so in the habit of being granted special leniency that she soon got entirely out of the habit of meeting her bills promptly. Today I passed the house, on which I know she hasn't paid rent for a couple of months, and there was a mountain of tin cans in the yard, which was a disgrace. She has made a great deal more money during the last year than has the woman from whom she rents, yet she is behind in the rent and feels she isn't expected to take decent care of the property. She thinks that shouldn't be expected of a poor widow, forgetting that the owner also is a poor widow.

And yet that woman is a good, kindly, honest soul at heart. She has just been spoiled so that she looks on wrong things as rights.

I hate to pick on a woman for an example, but the vision of that stack of rusty tin cans is in my mind. Everybody knows men who are in the same situation—men who would be far better citizens, and far happier, too, if there were no such thing as credit. They have got so in the habit of abusing the courtesies extended to them that they consider it their right. The other day I saw a fellow who owes money right and left starting off in his new motor car on a trip I've been wanting to take for years but never could afford. He has owed honest debts to small tradesmen for three years and never has been able to pay. From what I know of him I doubt that he ever will. Yet every month he allows himself an amount for pleasures which, if paid on his accounts, would settle all of them in less than a year. If you called him a thief he would be fighting mad. Yet he merrily goes on making debts, knowing he can never pay them unless he changes the tenor of his life.

All of us want to throw a plank to a sinking man. All of us like to help a game struggler. But being lenient with people like that is doing them and the world an injury. It is far greater kindness to them to make them pay and thereby free themselves from the ever-harassing load of debt.

Have a Heart

Consider the other fellow when you settle down on your lunching or camping site near the highway this summer. Of course, you won't uproot flowers and shrubs, chop down trees and fences, leave your fire burning when you move on. These acts are such unpardonable sins that only a moron or a person who likes sauerkraut a la mode would consciously commit them. But there are scraps of food, papers, tin cans which are left so easily, which disfigure the landscape, supply breeding places for flies and arouse the righteous wrath of the next fellow. Be a Boy Scout and do your daily good deed by burying the refuse. It won't take three minutes and will add to the joy of the motor gypsy. —[July Sunset.

Annual Rabies Scare

LOS ANGELES, July 3.—[To the Editor of The Times:] California is certainly doing some wonderful advertising—playing up her climate, scenery, wonderful advantages, then deliberately starting the annual rabies scare.

Though the summer heat reaches the 100 mark and over, there is no place where a dog may find a cooling drink, though his master may find one within every other door on Main street or a bubbling fountain on the sidewalk.

Children are allowed to torment dogs, women are allowed to stand on street corners and along highways selling, without license, poor, little, starved, flea-infested puppies, dogs are allowed to ride on running boards and hot radiators with no protest, but health officers and veterinarians must live, and the helpless, suffering animals are rushed off to the pound and vaccinated.

Recognized authorities on dogs have never seen a case of rabies. During the hundreds of years when the homeless scavenger dogs of Constantinople were not allowed to be killed no such thing as rabies was ever heard of.

The veterinarian connected with the American Humane Society in New York handles 40,000 or 50,000 animals a year and thinks "perhaps he has had four cases that might possibly have been called rabies, but were held for observation and died a natural death." This man has been bitten hundreds of times, has treated the wound with iodine and forgotten it. This happens to all dog catchers and nothing is thought of it.

Give Dogs Water

HOLLYWOOD, July 3.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I used to be one of the many in fear of dogs, because I did not know them, did not understand them, but since I know them I have changed quite a bit.

A drinking fountain should be provided for stray dogs every few blocks in our modern cities, and decent people should provide the same on their front lawn, that is the real need to fight rabies. Any man who has known thirst will tell you how it feels; also, if all of such bitten persons be subjected to blood test may be we should know something.

Traffic Suggestions

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am an outside man and have occasion to use my auto, use the street cars and do considerable walking at times and from my experience and from information that I get from others I am under the impression, due to the trouble and delay one has in trying to get across a street or highway that is too wide, that it would be helping traffic, as well as preventing possible accidents and loss of life, to have, instead of 80 to 100 feet between curbs on one artery, to have two arteries or highways running parallel, say a few blocks apart in the same direction about fifty-four to sixty feet wide, or just wide enough for autos to park at the curb and allow two others to go abreast down the middle of the highways or boulevards. Or, in other words, just have the streets wide enough for six vehicles to pass safely abreast or in opposite directions.

This two-street or highway plan would increase business frontage, preventing congestion, give more parking and driving room, give folks a chance to get across the same on foot and give the auto entering from a side street a chance. Give a more equitable distribution of assessments and not shorten lots too much, besides preventing a good many traffic delays.

Another suggestion I would make would be to compel all vehicles, wagons, autos, street cars, etc., using the street to strictly observe signals when turning, at present accidents are caused to pedestrians and autos by street cars making turns, and, as the autoist or pedestrian is busy watching signals and none are given by the street cars, an accident occurs. Why not compel street cars using the city streets to have some kind of signal to show when they are to turn?

J. H. WOLFE.

How Many Would Do It?

LOS ANGELES, June 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Knowing your campaign for safer road conditions in and around Los Angeles I take the liberty of submitting a suggestion that might possibly prove of some service in lessening reckless driving, particularly in those sections that are not under close observation of the traffic department.

The plan is, briefly, that, through the columns of your paper, sane drivers are asked to report to you instances of reckless driving personally observed by them, giving details, date, place and license number of car so recklessly handled. This information in turn would be printed in a special column reserved for such purpose each day in your paper, giving not only the license number of the car, but also name and address of the owner of the car driven by the offender.

It appears to me that such a column would be of extreme interest to your readers. Also no one would enjoy seeing his or her name printed as being the owner or driver of a car recklessly or unskillfully driven.

As a business woman, using my car constantly, there is not a day that some such piece of careless driving does not endanger my life and I am but one of many.

P. D. SEABURY.

EDITORS ASKED TO HELP FILMS

Score Legislative Oppression by Hays in Talk

Declares for Same Freedom as Speech and Press

Delegates to be Guests at Harbor and Long Beach

An appeal to the editors of America to aid the motion-picture industry in its struggle "against legislative oppression" was made by Will Hays yesterday at a luncheon given by the Motion-Picture Producers' Association to convention delegates at the National Editorial Association. The luncheon was served at the Writers' Club, and was featured by the presence of Gov. Richardson and the introduction by Fred Beetson of many of the most popular of the motion-picture stars of Hollywood.

Hays sketched briefly the history of motion pictures from the showing in New York thirty years ago of the first film down to the present era of big productions. He declared "the future of motion pictures is as far-flung as all the tomorrows," and added that no story ever written for the screen will be more dramatic than the story of the screen itself.

"Had motion pictures been in vogue when the Constitution was written," Hays stated, "they would have been protected against legislative inroads, as were the press and our freedom of speech. For pictures are only another medium of expression."

Hays also told the gathering of editors that motion-picture producers are experimenting in the adaptation of pictures to religious and academic instruction, "and soon hope to have films dealing exclusively with religious and pedagogic subjects for widespread use in churches and schools."

Rupert Hughes and Donald Ogden Stewart also addressed the delegates. Following the luncheon the editors were divided into seven groups and each group was conducted through one of the Hollywood studios. Earlier in the day the delegates had toured Hollywood in buses, viewing the homes of picture stars, the Hollywood Bowl and watching scenes at the Central Casting Bureau. Last night they were the guests of the Producers' Association and Sid Grauman at Grauman's Egyptian Theater.

The editors will visit Long Beach today, their sightseeing trip including the Signal Hill oil fields and scenes at the harbor. They will also be guests of honor at a banquet in the Hotel Virginia in the evening.

NIGHTGOWN CHIEF TOPIC AT HEARING

Garment Forms Basis of Testimony in Action Over Lakenan Child's Custody

A nightgown was the main topic of testimony in the hearing over the custody of Nancy Lakenan, 3½-year-old daughter of Robert Lakenan, member of a wealthy Kansas City family, and Mrs. Leota Crider Lakenan, former film actress, which was resumed yesterday before Miss Mary Maxwell, referee in Judge Gates's alimony court.

Both parents are seeking the custody of the child, now in the mother's possession, pending the determination of the divorce action brought by Lakenan, in which he named G. E. Munger as corespondent.

At a previous session of the hearing it was testified that Lakenan and a private detective had followed Mrs. Lakenan and Munger to a San Francisco hotel last New Year's. Yesterday Lakenan said he had met his wife in the corridor clad in a nightgown, a dressing gown and slippers. Questioned, he said he had asked her for the nightgown. He wanted it as evidence, he continued.

Asked if he had obtained it, he answered in the affirmative. Continued cross-examination elicited the statement that he "guessed" he might have torn it off.

Protests Now Being Heard on Assessments

The Board of Supervisors convened yesterday as a board of equalization, and until the 18th inst., will hear the protests of citizens who believe their property has been assessed at too high a figure.

The assessor's books are open to all property owners who wish to learn the amounts of their assessments, the board announced.

COMMERCE CLASSES WILL OPEN TONIGHT

Commerce classes opening tonight at metropolitan college, University of Southern California, include business law, advanced public address, accounting, business speech and cost accounting. Scheduled to meet semi-weekly for eight weeks in convenient evening hours, these classes grant full university credit. The public is invited to attend the opening lectures, according to Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, director. Registrations will be taken from 8 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. on the thirteenth floor of the Transportation Building, Seventh and Los Angeles streets, and information may be obtained by calling TRinity 1701.

MARCHETTI READY TO QUIT HOSPITAL TODAY

Recovering from an attack of acute indigestion, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Marchetti will leave the Westlake Hospital today and it is expected that within a week he will resume activities in behalf of his campaign for election to the Superior Court bench. Judge Marchetti was stricken Sunday night while making a speech at the Orpheum Theater and was unconscious for more than ten minutes before he was removed to the hospital under the care of Dr. E. C. Moore.

FUNERAL OF REALTY MAN TO BE TODAY

Private Services Will Be Conducted at Residence for G. W. Hughes

Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon for George W. Hughes, realty dealer who died last Saturday at his home, 637 South Ardmore avenue, after an illness lasting more than two years. Private services will be conducted at the residence at 1:30 o'clock and at 2:30 at the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Mr. Hughes came to California in 1902 from Indiana. He entered the real estate business and was a factor in the development of Southern California. He operated extensively in Long Beach and at one time was owner of Signal Hill which is now one of the richest oil fields in the world. Besides being president of the Signal Hill Improvement Company, Mr. Hughes was interested in the subdivisions of Crescent Heights, Chateau Thierry, Miramar Heights, Stowell Tract and Henrietta Square.

He was the son of John P. and Abbie G. Hughes of Vincennes, Indiana where he was born July 10, 1870. He leaves his widow, Marie V. Hughes and two sons, Leroy P. Hughes and George W. Hughes, Jr., his mother, Mrs. Abbie Hukhes of Vincennes, Ind.; three sisters, Mrs. Josephine Hughes of San Francisco, Miss Cora Hughes of Oteene, N. C., and Mrs. Ophelia Mooney of Decatur, Ill.

SQUARE-RIGGERS NOW PACIFIC FISHING BOATS

Gordon Grant, sea artist, who made a trip around the Horn on a square-rigged ship, writes in the July Scribner's Magazine of the last employment of the wind-jammers.

"Along the coast of Alaska, from Cook Inlet to the Behring Sea, may be seen today the largest fleet in the world, yet pitifully small withal, of the old-time square-rigged ships which, not so many years ago, graced the seven seas," he says.

"The great salmon canneries that dot the coast of this vast fishing-ground have found a use for the ships that steam has driven from the great waterways of commerce. Fifty or more of these fine ships and barques are engaged in the industry. During the winter months they are overhauled in San Francisco Bay or Seattle, and in the months of April and May loaded with coal for power in the canneries, tinplate and wood for the making of tins and cases, provisions for the army of workers, and trade goods for the natives and residents of Alaska."

BUREAUS LIFT TAX BURDEN

Water and Power Departments Pay $4,532,468 During Year For Taking Care of Their Bonds

That the Municipal Water Bureau and Municipal Power Bureau turned over from their earnings a total of $4,532,468 during the past fiscal year to meet interest and principal charges on all outstanding water and power bonds, and thereby relieved Los Angeles taxpayers of this burden was pointed out yesterday in a statement issued by Controller Anderson of the Department of Water and Power.

It was pointed out by Anderson that during the fiscal year just closed the Municipal Water Bureau turned over to the City Treasury a total of $2,167,468 to meet interest and annual principal charges on its outstanding general bonds, while the Municipal Bureau of Power and Light paid over to the city treasury $2,365,000 to meet all interest and principal charges on outstanding power bonds.

Money to meet these payments, it was explained, was taken from earnings derived by the Water Bureau and the Power Bureau from the sale of water and electric energy.

Since 1922 the Bureau of Power and Light voluntarily has paid all interest and principal charges on its bonds, Anderson stated. When the new city charter became effective on July 1, 1925, it contained a provision to the effect that the Water Bureau and the Power Bureau must pay all interest and sinking-fund charges on water and power bonds. With this charter provision in effect, it was explained, the voting of additional water and power bonds from time to time cannot in any way increase taxes, since the burden of carrying the charges on these issues must, by law, be borne by the water and power bureaus.

During the fiscal year 1924-25 the two bureaus turned over to the city treasury a total of $2,326,456 to meet annual charges on water and power bonds for that twelve-month period. In other words, Mr. Anderson stated, the city's water and power bureaus have turned over from their earnings approximately $6,000,000 during the past two years to take care of interest and sinking-fund charges on their outstanding bonds.

Interest and principal charges being met by the water and power bureaus, it was explained, are on bonds that have been voted from time to time to finance permanent extensions and betterments to the municipal systems. The two municipal systems for some time have been entirely self-sustaining.

ENGINEER BADLY HURT IN BOILER EXPLOSION

C. R. Hendershield, an engineer living at 307 North Serrano street, is believed to have been fatally injured yesterday when gas beneath a boiler at the Cascade Water Company, 4[illegible] York Boulevard, caused it to explode. Hendershield was taken to the Receiving Hospital, unconscious, and is said to have only a meager chance to live.

SITE LEASED FOR FUTURE SKYSCRAPER

Height-Limit Building on Flower Street Plannd by Local Syndicate

A height-limit building is being planned for Flower street. The ninety-nine-year lease on 110 feet on the east side of Flower between Sixth and Seventh streets belonging to Charles F. De Long has been sold, according to E. J. Hardebeck of Cason-Hardebeck Company, brokers, who handled the transaction. The new lessee, a local syndicate headed by A. D. Van Vranken, intends to erect a twelve-or thirteen-story office building on the site in the immediate future, Mr. Hardebeck declared. The lease dates from October 15, 1925, and involves a total rental in excess of $3,500,000.

"The lease was originally taken by Mr. De Long as a hotel site," Mr. Hardebeck said. "But Mr. De Long decided to sell his leasehold and erect his hotel at another point, hoping to embrace the Bull Pen Inn in his new structure. Mr. De Long has conducted the Bull Pen Inn for several years. His new project will be known as the Mayflower Hotel."

PLANE TO BE TESTED

First Machine of New Company Takes Air Sunday

The first airplane turned out by the W. P. W. Aircraft Company, 6100 Manhattan Place, will have a test flight at the field of the Aero Corporation of California, Wesern avenue and One Hundred and Fourth street, at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, Richmond A. Edwards, who is connected with the W. P. W. company and vice-president of the aero corporation, announced yesterday.

The new plane is a commercial biplane accommodating two passengers and a pilot and was designed by Theodore A. Woolsey. The company plans quantity production, Mr. Edwards said.

The public is invited to witness the test.

"Union Oil of California" has been known in the West since 1883. Try—

Union Gasoline

Non-detonating

Union Gasoline provides, and always has provided to Western motorists, the non-detonating feature which supplies full power to the pistons throughout their entire stroke and eliminates all explosive "knocking" or "pinging" on the hills or in heavy pulling—a quality for which Eastern motorists are now buying "special gasolines" and paying 3 cents per gallon in excess of usual prices for them. Yet Union costs no more than other high grade fuels.

Always use Aristo Motor Oil with non-detonating Union Gasoline because this combination minimizes carbon to the extent that motors in good condition are run for several years without it.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

In honor of Mrs. Mark Webb of Melville, Sask., Can., who is enjoying a delightful visit in Los Angeles, Mrs. John Sharp Berrian entertained with a charmingly appointed luncheon at her home, 688 South Bronson avenue, the dining-room being massed with roses and ferns, and among the guests were Mrs. Neil Hepburn and Mrs. R. B. Taylor, formerly of Melville.

Home Wedding

One of the prettily appointed weddings of the past month was that of the 30th, when Miss Vera Christina Schmitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lewis Schmitz of South Kingsley Drive, became the bride of Joseph Max Roush, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Max Roush, the ceremony taking place at the family home with Rev. Herbert Booths Smith of Immanuel Presbyterian Church officiating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a becoming gown of white taffeta and lace made bouffant model, with long veil of tulle held in place by coronet of orange blossoms, and she carried an arm shower of orchids, gardenias and lilies of the valley. Miss Dorothy Capps, in yellow taffeta, carrying yellow roses and orchid sweet peas, was the maid of honor, while little Ruth Emily McDonald, cousin of the bride, was the dainty flower girl in frock of orchid georgette over yellow taffeta. Donald Schmitz, nephew of the bride, carried the ring on a white satin cushion and Clarence Dexter Shaw served Mr. Roush as best man.

The house was beautifully decorated with white and pink sweet peas and pink gladioli, and the altar was backed with ferns and palms and lighted by cathedral candles.

Preceding the cermony Mrs. Elliott Lee Ellingwood of Pasadena sang "At Dawning" and "Beauty's Eyes," and Mrs. Earl Donald Schmitz played the wedding marches.

Mr. and Mrs. Roush are motoring in the north, planning to pass their honeymoon in San Francisco and the Yosemite, and will make their home here after their return.

Honeymooning Here

Visiting with her uncle, D. W. Longwell, at his home, 7205 Hollywood Boulevard, Mrs. Robert Henry Horning and Mr. Horning arrived in Los Angeles several days ago on their honeymoon and will be here for several weeks.

Mrs. Horning was formerly Miss Virginia Longwell James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Kirkpatrick James of Oil City, Pa., where the wedding took place June 23, and immediately afterward Mr. and Mrs. Horning motored to New York and started westward for California, coming by way of the Panama Canal and stopping for a brief visit in New Orleans. Mrs. Horning was graduated from Hollywood High School and has a host of friends here, made during her school days, and after the conclusion of the wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Horning will make their home in Cleveland, O.

Church Ceremony

An early-morning wedding, which was one of the prettiest of the summer bridals, was that of last Tuesday, when Miss Florence Elizabeth Welch, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Welch of 540 South Rossmore avenue, became the bride of George Ward Fleury, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fleury of New York City, the ceremony and mass which followed being said in St. Basil's Church, Harvard Boulevard at Wilshire. The dainty bride, given in marriage by her father, was most charming in white satin made with tight bodice and very full skirt, trimmed with silver lace, a becoming picture hat to correspond completing the costume, and she carried a shower bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. Miss Mary Fleury, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, wearing orchid chiffon and pale-green picture hat. She carried an arm bouquet of orchids and maidenhair ferns. Ralph Welch, brother of the bride, was best man, while Ralph Webb and Harry Schepper were ushers.

A wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parnets followed the ceremony, 100 guests having been bidden, after which Mr. and Mrs. Fleury left for their wedding trip of a month through the East, and they will make their home in New York.

The bride is one of the most popular members of the younger set and has lived here for the past six years. She was graduated from the Villa De Chantel Finishing School of Illinois.

At Seaside Club

Club Casa Del Mar was the charming setting chosen by Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Twidale for a dinner-dance given Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Shea, who have returned recently from an extended trip abroad, others included being Mr. and Mrs. Charles Craig, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Schoffield, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Dilly, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Randall, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Harter, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. O'Fallon, Mrs. Frank Hamilton Ball, T. H. McManus, C. N. Sentney and F. O. Evans.

Burnham-Gilruth

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Ruth Burnham, daughter of Rev. D. H. Burnham, to Charles William Gilruth, the double-ring ceremony being performed in Simi Valley Community Church by the father of the bride, June 30.

The bride wore white taffeta trimmed with ruffled hem of tulle, a veil held in place by orange blossoms, and she carried bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Eloise Gilruth assisted as maid of honor in yellow georgette and carried yellow roses, and the dainty flower girl, Audrey Montgomery, wore blue silk and carried a basket of rose petals. Miss Margaret Cannell, Miss Violet Butterfield, Miss Isabel Gilruth and Norma Cameron were bridesmaids in frocks of georgette carried out in the pastel shades and carrying bouquets of sweet peas to correspond. James T. Gilruth was best man and Walter Carlson, Robert Cannell, Harold Brenner, William Nims and Lee Pancoast, ushers. The church was simply but beautifully decorated in ferns, palms and early summer flowers, and a white petal bell was hung over the bridal party. A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony, 200 guests being bidden. After a wedding trip to the Yosemite Mr. and Mrs. Gilruth will make their home here.

Northern Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Swartz of the Gaylord left Saturday for an extended trip north, visiting various points of interest as far as British Columbia, and then sailing the 14th inst. aboard the Princess Charlotte for a cruise to Alaska. On their return they are planning to stop at Lake Tahoe for several days before returning home the latter part of August.

Week-End Cruise

One of the delightful holiday week-ends was the cruise with which Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Ayres entertained aboard their new yacht, the Monsoon, cruising around Catalina and down the isthmus, leaving Friday and returning home yesterday. Those enjoying the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ayres, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Whiffen, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Payne, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Moses, Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Ayres and their young daughter, Nancy Lou Ayres, the mascot of the Monsoon.

June Wedding

The Temple Emanu-El was the scene of one of the loveliest of the early June weddings when, on June 6, Miss Bertha Harriett Keller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Keller, became the bride of Morris Silverman, Rabbi Ernest Trattner officiating. The wedding dinner followed at the Ambassador.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin trimmed with princess lace and pearls, the tulle veil held in place by coronet of pearls, and she carried orchids, white roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Jack Kapp of Chicago, matron of honor, wore peach georgette, while Miss Rose Silverman, sister of the bridegroom and maid of honor, wore orchid georgette, and the other attendants, Mrs. Morris Rose, Mrs. William Cohen, Miss Mayme Berlin and Miss Evelyn Rightman, wore quaint period frocks with small ribboned hats. Harriett Somers was flower girl in orchid chiffon frock.

Samuel Mann of San Diego, uncle of the bridegroom, served him as best man. Samuel Sommers, Morris Rose, William Cohen, Irving Lipshultz and Murray Fine were ushers, and Cadet Harry Goldstein carried the ring.

Dr. Bee Hirsh sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because" preceding the ceremony.

The temple was beautifully decorated with ferns and summer flowers, and following the wedding dinner Mr. and Mrs. Silverman left for their honeymoon by motor through the north and after their return will be at home at 301 South Kenmore avenue.

ORDER STREET WIDENING

The widening of Figueroa street from Manchester avenue to One Hundred and Ninetieth street has been ordered by the City Council and the City Engineer is now preparing the ordinance of intention.

Never a Night

Should pass without this simple rule in skin care being practiced

By NORMA TALMADGE

Copyrighted, 1926, by P.S. Beauty Features

It has brought the reward of natural skin loveliness to thousands

DO you use powder, rouge or make-up—ever? If you do, by all means start tonight with this rule in skin care.

Because they know this rule, thousands of women thus successfully safeguard both their youth and their priceless complexions.

On the other hand, because they don't know it, thousands imperil theirs. Not every woman knows that failure to thoroughly wash the skin and pores of make-up before bed (with a gentle soap like Palmolive) is one of the greatest mistakes in skin care she can make.

Powders, rouge and all cosmetics have a tendency to clog the pores . . . often to enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. Never let make-up stay on over night. This is all-important, a fundamental in correct skin care.

FOR A RADIANT TOMORROW DO THIS TONIGHT

Wash your face gently with the soothing lather of Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly, first with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of cold cream—that is all.

Follow these rules. Your skin will be soft and lovely. As the months roll by, you'll need fewer and fewer cosmetics.

Do not use ordinary soaps in the treatment above. Do not think any green soap, or represented as of palm and olive oils, is the same as Palmolive.

Remember that before Palmolive came, women were told, "use no soap on your faces." Soaps then were judged too harsh. Palmolive is a beauty soap made for one purpose only: to safeguard your complexion. 60 years of soap study stand behind it. Millions of pretty skins prove its gentle safety beyond all doubt.

BE SURE YOU GET THE REAL PALMOLIVE

And it costs but 10c the cake!—so little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for their faces. Obtain Palmolive today. Note what an amazing difference one week makes. The Palmolive Company (Del. Corp.), Chicago, Illinois.

RUSSIAN EGGS

On delicate slices of toast spread a layer of caviar, place a fresh poached egg on top, season with a quarter saltspoonful of pepper, a pinch of salt, and a few drops of lemon juice; garnish with parsley and serve.

BEEF FRITTERS

Chop very fine the leftover ends of steak or roast beef, add to it a grated onion, a tablespoon of finely chopped celery, a half-cupful of bread crumbs, one beaten egg, a half-teaspoonful and a saltspoonful of pepper, two tablespoonfuls of ketchup, one of worcestershire sauce, and just enough stock to enable the mixture to be molded into croquettes.

BIRD'S NEST SALAD

Take as many hearts of white lettuce as there are portions to be served, wash, and with kitchen scissors hollow out the centers by snipping out two or three of the leaves. Mix to a paste a package of cream cheese and the same weight in Roquefort, the juice of an onion, one red pepper, four olives, and a quarter-cupful of pecan nut meats chopped fine, a tablespoonful of chutney syrup, a saltspoonful of mignonette pepper, and enough sweet cream to make the paste soft enough to mold. When ready, mold into eggs the size of marbles, put six in each nest on a little of the lettuce shredded, and send to the table with a tureen of Russian dressing, made of mayonnaise, to which add enough tomato ketchup to color it a delicate pink, add juice of an onion, a teaspoonful of chopped red-and-green pepper and a finely minced shalot.

PUREE OF LIMA BEANS

Soak one pound of dried lima beans over night. In the morning slip them from their skins and add to them three pints of water with a small sliced onion, two stalks each of parsley and celery, with a saltspoonful of bicarbonate of soda. Cook all until very tender and until the water has boiled down about one-half, then put through a puree sieve. MUSEUM OF JAZZ FOR HOLLYWOOD

Eddie Peabody Formulates Plans for Institution to Encourage Syncopants

Eddie Peabody, who is appearing at the Metropolitan Theater with his banjo playing and leading of the "harmaniac" musicians, announced yesterday that he was prepared to put up $50,000 toward the building of a "jazz museum" in Hollywood. Of this sum, Peabody said, he will supply $25,000, while a banker friend of his will contribute the other $25,000. The $50,000 offer is contingent upon $50,000 more being contributed, either by wealthy individuals or the general public, thus making the total cost of the proposed museum $100,000. In explaining his offer, Peabody said:

"I'm absolutely serious about this plan. Jazz music is essentially American. It was born in this country. It has spread throughout the world. It has supplanted the American folk songs in popularity. It has in no way encroached upon classical music, because the classics have and always will stand by themselves.

"The idea of myself and my friend, the banker, is to start a movement for a jazz museum that will reflect credit on the State of California. We want to have something that people from all over the world will come to see.

"First of all, we propose that the museum shall be built by a 'jazz architect,' that is, an architect who can put into it the spirit of jazz music. We want to have a 'Jazz Hall of Fame,' to contain statues of Irving Berlin, George Gershwin, Paul Ash and others who have been instrumental in building up jazz music.

"Next we would have a historical department for modern jazz; also a department for futuristic jazz. Personally I love classical music. But jazz is the music of the hour in this country—it expresses the emotions of the people of America. And it is the things of today that must be recognized by the people of today."

WILL FINISH LEAD SOON

Arlette Marchal, French actress, imported by Paramount, will soon finish work in "Forlorn River," the Zane Grey story being picturized by Famous Players-Lasky and in which she plays her first American leading role. Miss Marchal plays the lead opposite Jack Holt.

La Monica Will Celebrate Week of Festivities

La Monica ballroom will celebrate the third anniversary of its opening by a week of dancing and festivities, beginning Monday, the 19th inst., with the annual children's charity ball and fairyland pageant, under the personal direction of Mrs. Earl Fraser. The executive committee of this event is working to make this one of the biggest society dances to be held in the bay district for charity.

The fairyland pageant will be presented in the ballroom by 700 children in costumes, as a spectacle, with floats bedecked with flowers. Dancing for adults will follow immediately after the fairyland pageant.

Managing Director Lincoln Hart is preparing special decorations for this anniversary event at La Monica.

DUNCANS STAY LONGER

Fifth Week of "Topsy and Eva" Will Begin Sunday Night

The Duncan sisters will begin the fifth week of their engagement in the Mason Theater Sunday night, presenting "Topsy and Eva," the musical comedy in which they have appeared during the past month.

This light and frothy entertainment is said to be just the thing for the display of the talents of this pair of comediennes, who dance and sing and draw innumerable laughs.

The Duncan sisters have added many new features to "Topsy and Eva," prominent among them being the London Palace Theater dancers and Joe Thomas's saxotet.

GARRET PLAYERS SET REVUE OPENING DATE

The Garret Players are about to break forth with their own Garret Revue on the 15th inst. at their tiny playhouse at 133½ South Spring street. A cast of thirty-five has been assembled, which will include many new faces.

Steps have been taken to make the revue the gayest sort of entertainment. A different guest star will be seen nightly, while Sunday night has been proclaimed a Bohemian night.

Carthay Circle Proves Success on Anniversary

Today is a particularly memorable time for the Carthay Circle Theater, for the hundredth performance of Cecil B. De Mille's "The Volga Boatman" will be given.

The theater also is seven weeks old today, dating from the day of its bow to the world, May 18.

"The success of the theater," declares Fred Miller, owner, "has reached far beyond my most extravagant hopes. The public has supported us in our endeavor to give them something new, and while many discouraged Mr. J. Harvey McCarthy and myself in building a theater in Carthay Center, which two years ago was a barley field, we have proven that the neighborhood house does not confine itself to neighborhood patronage, but reaches out and attracts from every locality. Every day we have people who come long distances and feel amply repaid for their trip.

"Thursday afternoon, the 1st inst., we had the largest matinee since the theater opened, and in the audience were a group of club girls who chartered a bus from Riverside to see the show.

Company Leaves for Los Angeles After Location

VANCOUVER (B. C.) July 6. (Exclusive)—Having completed a two weeks' location trip to Jasper Park, Irving Cummings, Fox film director, and a company of thirty are leaving tonight for Los Angeles. Over 30,000 feet of scenery never before used were shot in the making of Curwood's "The Country Beyond."

The location selected for the settings was inaccessible by any other way than a three-day trek by horseback over mountain trails. Over 100 horses were used to transport the company to the camp, which was 6000 feet high, beside the Glacial Lakes. The camp was thirty miles from the nearest communication.

LIFE-SAVING WORK SHOWN AT EGYPTIAN

HOLLYWOOD FIRE PLATOONS MAKE TEST RUNS AND PERFORM RESCUES

With Helen Ferguson and William Russell, named as hosts, final preparations will be made today for a parade and demonstration of life-saving work which will feature a theater party to be staged by members of the First Platoon of the Los Angeles Fire Department tonight in Grauman's Egyptian Theater.

Headed by the fire-department band a parade will be conducted on Hollywood Boulevard from Vine street to the theater. Test runs to the playhouse will be made by Hollywood fire apparatus bringing members of rescue squads who will demonstrate the use of the oxygen inhalators in resuscitation.

Rescue work from tall buildings will be demonstrated by firemen leaping to the life net from a fifty-foot tower erected in the theater forecourt. Tonight the members of the First Platoon off duty will view the performance of Mary Pickford in "Sparrows" and Douglas Fairbanks in "The Black Pirate," while a second party will be staged by the Second Platoon of the department the night of the 12th inst., when the demonstrations will be repeated.

BUCQUET WILL ASSIST ROBERTSON AT M-G-M

Harold Bucquet, who assisted Victor Seastrom in "The Scarlet Letter," has started on his second Lillian Gish picture. He has been appointed assistant to John S. Robertson, directing Miss Gish in her new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle, "Annie Laurie," a romantic story of the Scottish highlands.

"My Electro-Kold is a sherbet-freezer, too!"

"JUST like packing them in ice," says the proud owner of an Electro-Kold machine. "The frost tank is the most fascinating thing—it's like a cake of ice that never melts."

The little drawers are trays in which no end of dainty desserts may be frozen without extra effort. In the frost tank also may be frozen cubes of pure crystal-clear ice for table use.

Best of all, the electrical operating cost of Electro-Kold is so small as to amount to actual economy! And you may install it on convenient payments!

With more than 100 less parts than any other home electrical refrigerator that we know of, the simplicity and quiet operation of Electro-Kold makes it the logical machine for modern homes. Made by the Electro-Kold Corporation, Spokane, Washington.

Modernize with Electro-Kold

You may install Electro-Kold, the simplest electric refrigerator, right in your own ice box with the silent, automatic compressor in the basement, or you may buy a complete unit ready to attach to an electric current.

In the Twirly-Whirl of Playdom

A DRAMA THAT NEVER AGES

Pilgrimage Play Will Open Tonight

Helen Jerome Eddy

As the Mary Mother in the spiritually beautiful sacred play which is opening for its seventh season in the picturesque Pilgrimage Theater in the Hollywood Hills

DURING a rehearsal at the Pilgrimage Play, which will usher in its seventh annual season tonight at the Pilgrimage Theater in Hollywood, Helen Jerome Eddy, the Mary Mother of this sacred drama, counted the different members of the cast with whom she had previously played.

There was William Raymond, that young actor who has interpreted John the Beloved for the past three seasons of the Pilgrimage Play. He and Miss Eddy were featured in a production of "Androcles and the Lion" several years ago at the Orange Grove Theater.

Belle Mitchell, now engaged in the role of the Samaritan woman, and Helen appeared together a number of times at the Pasadena Community Theater.

Wharton James, who has the distinction of having played the part of the Blind Man in every presentation of the Pilgrimage Play, having created this role in the original production, was with Miss Eddy at Camp Kearney during the war in what was known as the Liberty Volunteer Players. They appeared in dozens of plays, jumping from drama to comedy and back again, playing every kind of a role in order to keep the soldiers entertained.

Renewing these associations has added much pleasure to the preparation of the present engagement. In fact, Helen insists that the spirit of friendliness and co-operation existing among everyone connected with the Pilgrimage Play is making this one of her happiest experiences.

ORIENTAL TRAPPINGS FOR LOBBY

Special Arabian Setting Installed for Valentino Picture Premiere

William Cameron Menzies, art director for Rudolph Valentino productions, will personally supervise the decoration of the Million Dollar Theater lobby tonight in preparation for the preview presentation of "Son of the Sheik" Valentino's latest picture which opens tomorrow.

The special lobby decorations, many of which were used in the picture, are the Arabian drapes and properties which carry out the atmosphere of the sheik's tents and other settings in the story. The theater lobby will be transformed into an Arabian setting so that the spectator will be placed in the proper atmosphere to best enjoy the cinema, on first entering the photoplayhouse.

"Son of the Sheik" when shown with Vilma Banky supporting Valentino, will be available to Los Angeles audiences four months before its showing in any other city in the world.

"Variety" the German film, has its final showings tonight.

PARIS IS BACKGROUND FOR LOEW'S OFFERING

Paris—glittering, colorful—dramatic, forms the background for Goulding's "Paris," which opens at Loew's State Friday.

Charles Ray, according to the management, proves that one cannot only take the boy out of the country—but also the country out of the boy—for he romps through the role of a debonair American tourist—a rich youth in Paris pleasure bent—who faces wild apaches with a sang-froid that wins him victories without fighting for them. Joan Crawford is transformed into an Apache girl.

The story is said to be a mystery laid in the dens of the Apaches, with Ray, as an American tourist, enmeshed in an Apache feud, and falling in love with Miss Crawford.

Ernest R. Ball Tops New Bill at Hillstreet

Ernest R. Ball, California composer, will top the new Hillstreet show Sunday matinee in a "Vaudeville Musicale" in which he is assisted by a quintet of girls. Edna Kellog, late of the Metropolitan opera, is a feature with the act, which includes Misses Gretchen Brendel, Mary Bennet, Ann Sherman, Mildred Carrol and Marion Lorraine. Mr. Ball has arranged a medley of his old-time songs for this occasion.

Miss Venita Gould is another feature of the show and will offer a series of impersonations of stars of the stage.

Frank Dobson presents a novel skit called the "Love Doctor," a travesty on lovesick girls. Zelaya, an authority of Psychology, New Thought, Unity and Theosophy, has combined the lot together into a monologue. The Four Karreys, "The Human Elastic Bands," present a equilibristic act.

The screen will feature First National's latest picture entitled "Her Second Chance," a Lambert Hillyer production with Anna Q. Nilsson, Huntly Gordon and Charlie Murray.

Addition Made to Players in "Annie Laurie"

Creighton Hale has been signed for the role of Donald and Russell Simpson for that of Sandy in "Annie Laurie," Lillian Gish's new starring picture, according to word received from Irving G. Thalberg.

Norman Kerry, borrowed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer from Universal, is to play opposite Miss Gish as "John Ferguson."

John Robertson is directing "Annie Laurie" from an original story by Josephine Lovett. It is a romantic drama of seventeenth century Scotland, suggested by the song of the same name.

Having completed the leading feminine role opposite Bob Custer in "Devil's Gulch," Hazel Deane, former Fox comedy star expects to announce shortly her signing with a producer for a series of pictures.

INTERMISSION!

by Herbert Moulton

Ruth Chatterton, who is now headlining at the Orpheum in a one-act play, will play the role of Iris in Michael Arlen's "The Green Hat," which is scheduled to open at the El Capitan Theater in Hollywood the latter part of this month or early August, according to Edward D. Smith, manager of the theater.

Miss Chatterton was sought out by Mr. Smith during his visit to New York last week and while her plans for the immediate future had been set along different lines she immediately got busy with a view to canceling several outstanding contracts and on her arrival in Los Angeles to fulfill an engagement at the Orpheum informed the El Capitan management that she would be able to create the part of Iris here when "The Green Hat" is given its first Pacific Coast presentation.

Ruth Chatterton has appeared here in many productions, usually as the leading woman with Henry Miller in plays he presented here annually, for many seasons. Miss Chatterton's most noteworthy achievements were attained in "Daddy Long Legs," "Come Out of The Kitchen," "The Rainbow" and "La Tendresse," in all of which she appeared here.

It is said that Miss Chatterton was slated to play the part in the original American production, but in the final analysis plans were formulated otherwise. The remainder of the cast of "The Green Hat" is being selected by Mr. Smith and it is expected that rehearsals will start within a few days.

Those Good Old Days

Spencer Levy, manager of the Carthay Circle Theater, has just celebrated his ninth year of association with Fred Miller, owner of the theater.

When Miller ran the California Theater some years ago, Levy was his head usher and installed the first "military" system for boy ushers in Los Angeles.

They were so well drilled that inspectors who visited the theaters through the country pronounced them the most efficient they had seen.

All of which made things nice for the publicity man.

Roy Miller, who then, as now, wrote things for the newspapers concerning the theater's activities, "scooped" rival theaters by putting over a story and pictures of the ushers in their spiffy French uniforms.

Show's His Old Man

It's getting to be quite the fad to portray one's pater on the screen lately.

RUDOLPH VALENTINO

Doug Fairbanks did it quite effectively in "Don Q," as you will remember, and now comes the not-to-be-outdone Rudolph Valentino with a similar dual flash in "The Son of the Sheik," which we will see at a public "preview" Thursday at the Million Dollar.

But portraying the role of both son and father in a single scene is not an easy task, especially when the player has formerly depicted the father when he was at the same age as the son in a previous picture.

Rudy played the title role in his famous "The Sheik," of course, and now in the sequel he plays the father. In some of the most dramatic sequences of the picture the father, bewhiskered and showing a few lines of middle-age, but still a fiery warrior, meets his own very youthful son in a clash of wills.

It was one time, at least, when Rudy could really tell himself what he thought of that Valentino guy.

Concentrated Pulchritude

The motion-picture studios aren't going to hold a corner on all the beauty in Southern California.

Fanchon and Marco, at any rate, plan to see that some of it is assembled at Loew's State Theater, where the patrons may gaze upon it, as is were, in the flesh.

These clever producers of West Coast Theater stage presentations are going to organize a chorus of beauties, all of them to be recruited from our own fair Southland, that will make such connoisseurs of pulchritude as Flo Ziegfeld and Ned Weyburn rub their eyes.

Last year they took a company of California damsels to New York with them. Before the Fanchon & Marco show finished its Broadway run, according to the reports, every girl in the company had been engaged by either Ziegfeld for his "Follies" or by the Winter Garden.

"We did not bring one girl or one principal back with us," declared Marco yesterday. "That one experience proves that the world's greatest beauties are here in Southern California. And Fanchon and I intend to organize for Loew's State Theater the greatest beauty chorus ever seen anywhere in the world—a chorus of superlative beauties.

"We shall take our time selecting the members of this chorus. Probably they will be chosen one by one. There is much material to choose from. Beauties come here from all over the world, attracted by the movies. If they do not at once make good in pictures, they want something else to do.

"We shall hold a series of contests. From each contest we intend to make selections. The contests probably will be held once a month on the stage of the theater. By the end of a few months we shall have a beauty chorus that will surpass in loveliness any chorus ever seen in New York."

"Raining" Dollars and Cents

The New York offices of the Sam H. Harris Attractions, the organization that controls the road showing of "Rain," is highly elated over the play's success at the Biltmore here.

According to figures received from the East, the first week of "Rain" in Los Angeles grossed $30,000, which they claim is the largest intake the Biltmore has ever had for a non-musical play.

San Francisco, too, they add, contributed liberally to the play, establishing new records at the Columbia Theater there.

Jeanne Eagels is now in her third week at the Biltmore, and following the run of the play will return to San Francisco for a fortnight. After that the company will go to Denver and other western cities, arriving in New York early in September.

Realism—and Apache Love

Just because Director Edmund Goulding insisted on something closely approximating realism, Joan Crawford and Douglas Gilmore nearly landed in the hospital.

JOAN CRAWFORD

This happened during the filming of "Paris," the photoplay offering which comes to Loew's Friday. The episode might be termed a lover's quarrel, but it almost turned out to be a massacre.

It started when Gilmore showed displeasure over Joan's flirtation by attempting to choke her.

She responded by attempting to slip a dagger between his second and third rib.

Whereupon he politely dumped her on the floor and picked her up by the hair.

She registered real Apache love by scratching and kicking.

"It was not as realistic as a real Apache love spat," says Goulding, "because I didn't let him cut her throat."

Tips to the Playgoers

"Rain" (Biltmore:) Jeanne Eagels in remarkable interpretation of Sadie Thompson, the role that has made her famous.

"No, No, Nanette" (El Capitan:)—Blithe little musical comedy back again for the third time. A new Nanette, in the person of Jane Pooshee, makes her debut. Ideal entertainment.

Will Morrissey's "Music Hall Revue" (Majestic:)—Clever dancing, clever singing, clever skits—guaranteed to satirize the latest "current events"—provided at Los Angeles' "night club."

"Topsy and Eva" (Mason:)—The irresistable Duncans are adding immeasurably to the sum total of local merriment.

"Her Temporary Husband" (Morosco:)—Current play boasts of no intricate plot, but the farce is capably handled by Harry Garrity, Charlotte Treadway and Gavin Gordon in the principal roles.

"Mamie's Night Out" (Burbank:)—Lee Bud Harrison and Henry Sheer lead the fun making this week, aided and abetted by the thirty "California Beauties."

"The Prince of Broadway" (Hippodrome:)—George Walsh and Alma Bennett are featured in this story of the ring. James J. Jeffries in support.

"Old Loves and New" (Alhambra:) Totally inadequate title for novel known as "The Desert Healer." Lewis Stone gives finished performance in title role, with Barbara Bedford excellent opposite him.

"The Road to Mandalay" (Criterion:)—Lon Chaney adds another weird characterization to his lengthy list. Tod Browning directed this latest excursion into the underworld of the Far East, with Henry Walthall, Owen Moore, Lois Moran and Sojin supporting Chaney.

"Sparrows" and "The Black Pirate" (Grauman's Egyptian:)—Douglas Fairbanks in a technicolor film, dealing with adventures at sea; Mary Pickford in a tale of the dreary Louisiana swamps, handled in the inimitable Pickford manner.

"Variety" (Million Dollar:)—Spectacular film, with Emil Jannings and Lya de Putti, will be followed on Thursday by Rudolph Valentino's "Son of the Sheik."

"The Volga Boatman" (Carthay Circle:)—With the haunting Volga Boat Song as an accompaniment, three players make their tempestuous way through the Russian revolution, directed by Cecil B. De Mille. Elinor Fair, William Boyd and Victor Varconi are the principals.

"The Unknown Soldier" (Tally's:)—Charles Emmett Mack gives a remarkable performance as "America's hero." Produced by Renaud Hoffman.

Chatterton and Hitchcock—(Orpheum:) Ruth is back again, customarily charming, in Vincent Lawrence's one-act play, "The Conflict," while Raymond provides his own peculiar brand of entertainment.

Harry Himes—(Hillstreet:) Though not headlining, the so-called "36th variety" manages to achieve that distinction by the sheer cleverness of his work. Ann Condee and Amelia Allen, technical luminaries.

"The Shadow of the Law"—(Broadway Palace:) Current film introduces a new Clara Bow, antithesis of her far-famed flapper type. Boy scout band and Joe Bonomo, screen strong man, entertaining.

"The Wise Guy"—(Forum:) Interesting regeneration study, with James Kirkwood and Betty Compson outstanding. First showing at any theater. Mabel Norman comedy reminiscent of other days.

"Ella Cinders"—(Loew's State:) Cinderella journeys to Hollywood and Colleen Moore makes the excursion highly enjoyable. Adapted from the comic strip by William Conselman and Charles Plumb.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

WITNESSES SEE BRUTAL ATTACK

Girl Says She Was Thrown From Automobile

Accused Man Escapes Before Officers Arrive

Injured Woman is Confined to Hospital

SAN DIEGO, July 6.—Estelle Alrey, 18 years of age, Los Angeles girl, said to have been beaten and thrown from the automobile in which she was riding with her fiance last night near Del Mar, is at the Los Flores Hospital at Oceanside today, suffering from a sprained back and ankle, according to word from the attending physician.

Up to noon today the Sheriff's office here had not received a charge against Jack E. Willettes, 160 East Forty-fifth street, Los Angeles, said to be the girl's fiance and who was riding with two other men, she asserted, when she was attacked. Willettes is said to be a cousin of A. Jones, president of the Piggly Wiggly Stores in Los Angeles, and an employee of that firm.

Witnesses who say they saw the girl hurled from the car, declared that the three men were severly beaten by other men who witnessed the affair and crowded Willettes's car to the curb in an effort to make him stop. Willettes declared that the girl jumped from the machine, but this was denied by the girl and witnesses.

Two men who followed Willettes and his companions to Del Mar, H. Gallagher, 1139 Main street, Compton, and C. L. Barlow of Los Angeles, attempted to hold the trio until an arresting officer could be summoned. The three men succeeded in eluding their captors and continued to Los Angeles.

Miss Alrey is an employee of a department store in Los Angeles and is an orphan. It was said this morning she will be taken to a hospital either in San Diego or Los Angeles later today.

ALL FIRES NOW UNDER CONTROL

Trouble in Forests Caused by Lightning Lessened by Efforts of Fighters

CALIFORNIA HOT SPRINGS, July 6.—Conditions in the Sequoia National Forest are more encouraging today than at any time since blazes started ten days ago by electrical storms developed dangerously. Forest Supervisor F. P. Cunningham reports that lines have been drawn around the Kings River and Tule River fires today, the two which have given the greatest trouble and which developed to the largest proportions of any of the numerous blazes. It is believed that if these lines can be held for twenty-four hours that it will then be just a matter of patroling until the fires burn themselves out.

A new fire started yesterday on the other side of Kings River by lightning is not expected to do any special damage. A detail of men has been rushed to the scene.

As far as known, only two man-caused fires were reported in the Sequoia National Forest, despite the thousands of people who thronged to the various resorts for outings over the Fourth, indicating a willingness on the part of the public to co-operate with forestry officials in controlling the hazard.

Weather conditions today are much more favorable for the fire fighters.

FRESNO COUNTY BLAZE INCLUDES MANY ACRES

FRESNO, July 6. — After burning over 30,000 acres in the Kings River country east of Dunlap the brush fire kindled eight days ago when thunder and lightning visited the sierras, was believed to be under control today. This was the announcement of Frank P. Cunningham, superintendent of Sequoia National Forest, who said that the fire fighters had been reduced from 500 to 275 men. None of the flumes of the Sanger Lumber Company, which were threatened, was destroyed by the flames.

MUST VACCINATE DOGS

County Law Applies Outside Incorporated Cities

SANTA ANA, July 6.—An erroneous impression that because the city of Santa Ana has declined to require vaccination of dogs, the entire county is without a law requiring such treatment, is giving county authorities considerable difficulty in enforcing the county vaccination ordinance, Dr. H. L. Wilkins, county veterinarian, announced today.

The widespread wrong impression is likely to cause trouble to those who are entertaining it, Dr. Wilkins warned. Owners of dogs who believe that they need not have their pets vaccinated are courting prosecution, providing they live outside of incorporated cities, the veterinarian declared.

The county vaccination ordinance is effective everywhere in the county outside of the incorporated cities. Following adoption of the ordinance by the County Supervisors a similar ordinance was presented to the Santa Ana City Council, but after a strenuous contest between its friends and opponents it was defeated. The publicity given the rejection of the ordinance at the county seat has led many residents of the county to believe that the Santa Ana action applied to the entire county. "People will be arrested if they fail to have their dogs vaccinated, providing they come under jurisdiction of the county ordinances," Dr. Wilkins said.

FIRE AT ALHAMBRA

ALHAMBRA, July 6.—Fire of undetermined origin last night destroyed a garage and automobile owned by C. C. Jarrett, Del Mar avenue and Valley Boulevard, and damaged a grocery store and market adjoining, also owned by Jarrett. Only the quick work of the Monterey Park fire department saved the store structure from being destroyed.

DEATH DUE TO POISON MOONSHINE

Ranch Worker Dies After Drinking Liquor, According to Physicians

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 6.—Exactly twelve hours after he had been found in a local hotel in a semiconscious condition, Jack O'Brien, 42, a worker on the Irvine ranch, was dead. Physicians stated the man's death was caused by poison liquor.

O'Brien died at 10:50 o'clock last night at the Orange County Hospital, where he was taken by Dr. R. E. Hawes of the Huntington Beach Emergency Hospital. Dr. Hawes and Dr. H. A. Zaiser of the Orange County Hospital today declared the man met his death from drinking poison liquor.

O'Brien was found in the Ocean Wave Hotel here yesterday morning at about 10:30 o'clock by the proprietress, Mrs. Ida M. Ewing. Mrs. Ewing's attention was drawn to O'Brien's room when the man fell from his bed and became violently ill. He was taken to the Huntington Beach Emergency Hospital by Officer John Stanton of the Huntington Beach police force.

According to Stanton and the two physicians who attended O'Brien, he did not utter a word after being found, and lapsed into unconsciousness soon after being taken to the Emergency Hospital. O'Brien was paid off recently by the Irvine Ranch Company, according to reports. He is said to have relatives residing in Montana.

To Resubmit Question of Harbor Bonds

SANTA ANA, July 6.—The Orange county harbor commission will be requested to prepare its report upon a new harbor improvement project as early as possible, but the filing of this report will be reserved until the County Supervisors believe the time is ripe for calling another bond election. This was the answer given by the board today to a committee of Santa Ana men, who appeared to urge immediate action upon the preparation of the harbor commission's report, which is a preliminary step required by law in the proceedings of voting harbor bonds.

Because the law also requires immediate action by the supervisors toward calling an election, after the commission's report is accepted, the supervisors told the committee that it would not be advisable to have the report filed until the time was opportune, in the board's opinion, to fix the date of the election. There was no objection, however, toward starting work upon the report now, it was stated.

Accordingly it is expected that the commission will at once confer with Gen. Lansing H. Beach, consulting engineer, whose survey of the harbor formed the foundation for the previous report. Gen. Beach has just returned to Southern California from the East. It is known from previous public utterances that members of the board of supervisors favoring the question of calling another bond election, are of the opinion that it should be held some time between the primary election August 21 and the general election in November.

BUILD NEW BRIDGE

State and City of Pasadena For Construction

PASADENA, July 6.—Construction of a bridge over the Eaton Canyon wash on Foothill Boulevard, a State highway, to replace the bridge which was washed out during heavy rains last spring, will be undertaken jointly by the California State Highway Commission and the city of Pasadena, following action taken by the Board of City Directors today.

The city agreed to pay one-third of the cost of the span after Warren C. Earle, City Engineer and street superintendent, reported that the State will pay one-third and the county one-third. Foothill Boulevard is the chief approach to Pasadena from the East, and the new bridge is expected to be constructed this summer.

NEW FACULTY MEMBERS FOR POMONA

Internationally Known Teachers Coming to California

DR. GEORGE W. HUNTER.

DR. HENRY A. HOLMES

MISS HOPE TABOR FORD.

MAJ. C.A. SANFORD.

Group of Famous Educators

CLAREMONT, July 6.—Dr. George W. Hunter of Knox College, internationally known author of many biological texts, including the text that drew Scopes into the famous Scopes trial at Dayton, Tenn., will be one of eleven new faculty members at Pomona College next September. Dr. Hunter moves from Galesburg, Ill., this summer, and will be lecturer in biological science. He holds degrees from Williams and New York University and has taught at Knox College since 1920.

After years of experience in South America as director of the American College of Buenos Aires in Argentina, and recently as a special investigator in South America for the Committee on Co-operation of Latin America, Dr. Henry Alfred Holmes, graduate of Westland and Columbia University, comes to Pomona as professor of Romance languages. He is now director of modern languages at the State College of Texas.

Dr. Kenneth Duncan, graduate of Wabash College and the Universities of Wisconsin and Michigan, has been appointed professor of economics. He is now at Canton Christian College, China, where he has been dean of the college since 1917, acting bursar 1924-1925, and professor of economics. He is also South China representative on the Council of Higher Education of the China Christian Educational Association.

Other appointments are Dr. Aubrey Augustus Douglass, professor of education, B.A., Kansas State Teachers' College; M.A. and Ph.D., Clarke University; former lecturer in secondary education at Harvard University. He is the author of the new book, "Principles of Secondary Education."

Charles Fairman, assistant professor of government, B.A., University of Illinois; M.A., Illinois and Harvard; formerly a member of the Harvard, Illinois and Tufts college faculties. He spent the past year studying in Paris. Joseph W. Clokey, associate professor of organ, now at Miami College, is a graduate of that institution and of the Cincinnati Conservatory and has attained a national reputation as a composer.

Maj. G. A. Sanford, professor of military science, comes from Washington, D. C., and is a graduate of Kenyon College. Grace Tigert, instructor of women's physical education, majored in physical education at the University of Oregon and is now studying at Wellesley. Hope Tabor Ford of Wooster Conservatory, Wooster College, Ohio, is appointed instructor in voice. She holds a B.A. degree from Oberlin and is a former pupil of Mme. Sprotte and Yeatman Griffith. She is a graduate of Los Angeles High School and Oberlin Conservatory.

F. L. K. Gross, B.S. and M.S., University of Chicago, is appointed instructor in chemistry, and Paul Dudley, B.A., Pomona College, will be instructor in geology, second semester.

Dr. Philip A. Munz, head of the department of botany, has been raised to the rank of a full professor, and Simon Macooby returns from Cambridge University, England, as instructor in history and politics, second semester.

POLICE HAVE HECTIC TIME

Week-End Holidays Bring Plenty of Work for Officers Working Out of Redlands

REDLANDS, July 6.—The police of Redlands heaved a great sigh and stretched luxuriously today for the first time in several days for what with mountain hold-ups, arresting a 70-year-old woman charged with bootlegging, drunken drivers, robberies and speeders the police have been too busy to take even a "cat nap"

The hold-up was in Barton Flats, up in the mountains, where a Whittier boy by the name of Edwards, a Boy Scout in the camp there, was held up on a mountain trail. He was hit over the head with a heavy club and robbed of $10. Edwards says the man was big and dark, and dressed in mountain clothes. The boy was brought to the valley in an ambulance but no trace of his assailant has been found.

Mrs. Simon Cervantes of Sylvaria street, an aged woman more than 70 years old, she told the officers, was arrested and charged with having illegal possession of liquor. A quantity of wine was found in the house, and Mrs. Cervantes admitted owning it, but said she had not been selling it, as the officers charged. She was released under $100 bail.

Bruno Alvarez was also arrested for having liquor in his home and released under $100 bail.

Dr. Fred E. Titensor of 1331½ Sixth avenue, Los Angeles, was taken into custody by Patrolmen John Stocker and Ed Tucker after his automobile collided with another car in the heart of Redlands. The doctor was charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, and with transporting liquor. He will explain the situation in Justice P. G. McIver's court at 10 a.m. Friday. Efforts were being made by the arrested man to raise $150 bail for his release.

A similar accident occurred at the intersection of High avenue and Orange street when Fred Albra, whose address was not learned by authorities, drove his car into the machine of Fred J. Wedberg of 1008 East Cypress avenue, according to Officers A. O. Peterson and Stocker, who jailed Albra on a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor.

MANUFACTURER DIES

WALNUT PARK, July 6.—Funeral services of the late Robert Killifer, president of the Killifer Manufacturing Company, located on Downey Road, were held this morning at the Samuel Easterling funeral parlors in Huntington Park, the remains afterward being cremated. Deceased was 58 years of age and had been a resident of California for the last thirty-eight years. He was a member of the Christian Science church in this city. Mr. Killifer is survived by his widow, two daughters and one son.

HEADS SCHOOL BOARD

PASADENA, July 6.—N. P. Moerdyke, prominent attorney of Pasadena and member of the Board of Education for the last year, today was elected president of the local school body for the ensuing term, succeeding Robert A. Swink, who continues as a member of the board. Mrs. Louise Barber Hoblit was elected vice-president and L. M. Pratt re-elected secretary.

OWENSMOUTH TO HAVE BUILDING FOR THEATER

OWENSMOUTH, July 6.—Lynford E. Hess is to build a picture-theater building here, which he has leased for ten years to the Van Nuys Theater Company of Van Nuys, composed of Nicholas Schreinberg, Louie Greenberg and M. P. Horwitz, all Van Nuys men. It is understood that the Van Nuys Theater will conduct the theater in connection with its own enterprise. The consideration for the ten-year lease is named at $45,000, and the new structure, outside of interior equipment, will cost about $35,000. The lessee will spend $15,000 for equipment, it is stated. The new building will be ready for occupancy by November 1.

GIRL KILLS UNCLE IN ROW

Woman Declares Life Threatened After Failure of Attempt to Return Home

CALEXICO, July 6.—Docie Stockton, 22 years of age, shot and instantly killed her uncle, P. L. Segals, 45, at Gray's Wells, twenty-one miles east of this city today, as the result, she said, of threats made by him to kill her if she attempted to leave him. Segals recently built and opened an automobile service station at Gray's Wells and Miss Stockton kept house for him. Lately, according to the story she told to the Sheriff today, she expressed a desire to return to the home of her father in Texas, but Segals refused to accede to her wish. Not being able to get the money to buy her ticket from her uncle, she wrote to her father, who sent hr the money she asked for.

Yesterday Miss Stockton went to Holtville where she bought a railroad ticket, but before her train arrived her uncle found her and forced her to return to Gray's Wells with him. During their drive she said he threatened to kill her and himself if she made another attempt to leave him. This forenoon she managed to obtain a revolver and, fearing that her life was actually in danger, she shot and killed him during a quarrel, the bullet entering his heart.

After the shooting she sent a message to the Sheriff's office advising him of the fatal ending to her desire to go to her home. She declared that this is the first time in her life that she has fired a revolver.

Miss Stockton was placed under arrest by Sheriff Gillet late this afternoon. When he arrived at Gray's Wells he found her awaiting his arrival with calmness.

ROTARY OFFICIALS GO TO SANTA MARIA

SANTA MARIA, July 6.—Presidents and secretaries of the second Rotary district will hold their annual session in Santa Maria next September, according to tentative plans outlined here today at a meeting of local Rotarians.

Fred McClung of Huntington Park, district governor of Rotary, was present at the meeting and accepted the invitation of the Santa Maria group to bring the meeting here.

September 17 and 18 were the dates set for the annual meeting of the Rotary officials. More than 150 Rotary clubs of the second district are expected to be represented at the gathering. L. N. Crawford, president of the local club, officially extended the invitation to Gov. McClung.

SEE FORTUNE IN TIN MINE

Los Angeles Company Begins Operations

Deposits Said to be Great in Extent

RIVERSIDE, July 6.—Dreams of miners who settled the canyon at Temescal Hill thirty-six years ago with hope of great riches from tin deposits there may be realized from operations being started this week by the United States Tin Company, Temescal Hill is ten miles south of here.

With plans for first expenditures of $100,000 in developing and operating the property, known as the Arlington Tin mines, the company this week is hauling lumber into the canyon and will erect buildings to accommodate more than a score of men, it is understood. If plans of promoters materialize, milling and smelting machinery will follow the lumber to the property and actual mining of what is said to be the only deposit of tin in the United States which holds prospects of profit will start soon.

Engineers who have visited the property during the last few months have declared its possibilities almost unlimited, and is result the United States Tin Company, a Los Angeles concern, incorporated under the laws of Nevada, has obtained option on the property from the San Jacinto Land Company, owners of the old Elsob-Rante rancho, on which the mine is located.

Prospecting in Temescal Hill, which is across the flat from the scene of the first operations in 1860, is now under way under the direction of P. D. Fenkell. Fenkell is working in a shaft driven more than 100 feet into the hill and has discovered a wide fissure of tin ore, samples of which were sent to Los Angeles today for assaying.

The first actual mining operations by the United States company are to start near the scene of the first working, where it is estimated that there is a deposit of ore 900 feet long and 600 feet deep. At the prevailing price of tin, which is now mined almost exclusively in the United Kingdom, the earnings from mining this supposedly rich vein will be $5,000,000. Due to the limited sources of supply of pure tin and the marketing conditions, this metal is selling at prices now ranging near $61.75 a ton and the production of any considerable amount of tin in the United States is expected to bring exceptional profits. Ore taken from the workings has been tested and found to run at an average of 20 per cent tin, while some samples have tested at 60 per cent tin.

In some places where tin mining is profitable the ore contains only about two or three per cent of the metal. It is on these facts that the promoters are basing their hopes of developing the Riverside county property into a highly profitable operation.

ROCK ROLLS DOWN, BREAKS MAN'S LEG

GIRARD, July 6.—A police ambulance yesterday afternoon was called to Reseda and Ventura boulevards, where police found B. E. Baragas, a Mexican, seated in the rear seat of a Chevrolet auto. His left leg was fractured. He was taken to the Van Nuys Emergency Hospital for treatment. According to police report, Baragas had been at work on the Chalk Hill grade improvement, when a large rock became loose and, rolling down on Baragas, broke his leg. He was being hurried toward Van Nuys when the police ambulance met the automobile at Reseda avenue on the boulevard.

CLUB GIVES DINNER-DANCE

HUNTINGTON PARK, July 6.—Fred A. McClung, who was elected governor of the Second District of International Rotary, at the recent annual convention in San Diego, is to be the guest of honor at an event here Thursday night, being sponsored by the Kiwanis and Lions clubs, of this city, and the Exchange Club of Walnut Park. The affair will be a dinner-dance to be given in the Masonic Temple. Each club will provide the various stunts for the early evening amusement, which will be followed by the dance.

ASSESSED VALUATION SHOWS LARGE INCREASE

SANTA ANA, July 6.—Carrying an increase of $6,671,635 in the total assessed valuation of Orange county, as compared to last year, the assessment rolls for 1926 were turned over today by County Assessor James Metzger to the Board of Supervisors, sitting as a board of equalization. The rolls show a total valuation of $132,404,365 on nonoperative property. Nearly $1,000,000 of the increase is in the city of Santa Ana, while other cities of the county also showed gains. Fullerton revealing an increase of more than $500,000. Seal Beach, Huntington Beach and La Habra had totals below the 1925 assessment.

RELEASE CHINAMEN HELD FOR MURDER

SANTA BARBARA, July 6.—District Atty. Ward today ordered the release of three Chinamen held on suspicion of the murder of Gin Ham, Hop Sing tongman, who was slain last Thursday night. At the same time he announced that friends of the slain man had posted $1000 reward with him to be paid to parties who furnish information leading to the conviction of the slayers. The three men released are See Lee Wo, Bing Kong tongman; Gin Wah Pong and G. Y. Wing. The release was ordered after the Chinese, through their attorney, W. P. Butcher, Jr., had drawn up a writ of habeas corpus.

PROVIDE FIRE PROTECTION

PASADENA, July 6.—In order to safeguard against fire, Pasadena's watershed and the scores of cabins in the Arroyo Seco and Millard's Canyon, a chemical fire engine has been assigned to the United States Forest Service station in the Arroyo. The engine will be available for calls in all parts of the Angeles National Forest in the event of fire.

It Takes More Than Bullets to Stop Show

MADERA, July 6.—Drunk with wine and believing that he had killed his daughter, Tom Ortega, workman attached to a show here, sent a bullet into his brain, dying instantly, according to the story told at the coroner's inquest today by Mrs. Reybalda Caudillo, the daughter.

The woman, who is an acrobat attached to the show, said Ortega demanded a picture of her as she dressed for her act last night. He was drunk, she said, and threatened her with a revolver when she did not comply. He fired twice, she said, striking her once in the arm, while the other shot glanced from her forehead. Thinking that he had killed her, Ortega turned the weapon on himself.

Mrs. Caudillo had her wounds dressed and went on for her act. She left with the show today. She is 22 and the mother of three children.

Cahuenga Park Residents for Street Lights

CAHUENGA PARK, July 6.—A large number of Cahuenga Park residents attended the meeting of the Cahuenga Park Community Association at the Whitley Country Club near here. Officers for the present year were installed. They are: B. M. Hanson, president; C. E. Walbridge, vice-president; Mrs. Warren McIntyre, secretary, and C. W. Thompson, treasurer. Chairman of the various committees are Mrs. Warren McIntyre, publicity; Mrs. Arthur Mullins, entertainment; Mrs. Winnor, membership; L. C. Mason, finance, and Mrs. Charles Felts, visiting.

The results of the straw ballot taken at the meeting showed that the residents of the park voted two to one in favor of street lighting. Further action in regard to street lights for the district will be discussed at the next meeting.

Six new members were taken into the organization. The association is for all residents of the Cahuenga Park school district, which includes a radius two miles square.

A tree-planting committee headed by T. Crowley is making good progress on plans for a tree-planting day to be held in the park. It is planned to get a number of trees to be planted in the parkways throughout the section, and encourage the property owners to plant trees, shrubs and flowers on their property.

DEATH RECALLS DAYS LONG PAST

CORCORAN, July 6.—Joseph Figuerro, old-time vaquero, who rode the ranges of the San Joaquin Valley for more than half a century and was for many years in the employ of Miller & Lux, the largest landholders of the State, and later of the Kern County Development Company, was buried today from the Church of the Nazarene here.

He was a native of California, born near what is now the town of San Joaquin, and was 70 years of age. He never married and had lately live with his sister, Mrs. Rita Salgado. He also has a brother, T. C. Figuerro of Fresno. Overtaken by illness some weeks ago, Figuerro was taken to a Hanford hospital, where he died. The deceased was well known to the herdsmen throughout the San Joaquin Valley.

Start Search for Missing Pomona Girl

POMONA, July 6. — Widespread search was instituted today by local police co-operating with Southern California police to locate 15-year-old Naomi Smith, daughter of T. B. Smith of 1040 West Third street, who disappeared under mysterious circumstances at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

The girl left, presumably to obtain employment in a local fruit cannery, but failed to return Saturday evening and no trace of her has since been found. The theory that she was kidnaped was the most likely as she was not known to have had any serious affairs with any boys likely to develop into an elopement.

The girl's description is given as follows: Five feet, two inches in height and of slender build. She has light hair, blue eyes, a mole on her left cheek and dressed in an English print working dress, orange colored, a small red hat, black slippers and gray stockings. Her father has posted a reward in the hope that she may be located before she meets with any disaster.

FAST LIVING IS INSANITY CAUSE

PASADENA, July 6.—Insanity is on the increase in California and much of the responsibility must be laid to the speed of modern life and the consequent lack of sympathetic help for unfortunates, according to Judge Walter S. Gates of the Superior Court of Los Angeles, who addressed the Pasadena Optimists' Club today.

There are now 12,000 persons afflicted with some form of mental illness in the California institutions for the insane, Judge Gates said. He is in charge of the psychopathic department of the Superior Court and explained the manner in which the lunacy commission functions.

INJURED FIREMAN MAY YET RECOVER

ALHAMBRA, July 6.—William Bishop, 40 years of age, member of the Monterey Park volunteer fire department, who was injured Monday when he was jolted from the fire truck while on the way to a grass fire, is reported this afternoon to have a chance of recovery. He is at the Alhambra Hospital and has been conscious for only a few seconds since the accident. His skull is fractured.

Ray Wright, another fireman who fell from the truck when it hit a "dip" in the street, sustained bruises and cuts, but was able to leave the hospital today.

WOMAN'S LEG BROKEN IN TRAFFIC MISHAP

VAN NUYS, July 6. — Early this morning Miss Lula C. Bacon, 43 years of age, of 6819 Diaz avenue, suffered a fractured leg when she was hit by an automobile on Chandler Boulevard, formerly East Sherman Way. Miss Bacon is a stenographer. She was waiting for a trolley car to take her to work when an auto collided with the Pacific Electric car that Miss Bacon intended to mount.

After the car struck the auto it rebounded toward Miss Bacon, struck her and broke her leg. She was treated at the Van Nuys Emergency Hospital.

FUNERAL AT BELL

BELL, July 6.—Funeral services for Walter C. Clark, president of the San Antonio school board and a resident of Bell the last fifteen years, who died yesterday afternoon in the Chase Sanatorium, will be held Thursday at 2:30 p.m. at Myer Brothers' chapel. Mr. Clark was 48 years of age.

The body will be sent to Mr. Clark's old home in Ogden, Utah.
